NO STARTLING PLEDGES MADE BY RECORDER

J. O. Brown Promises to Do His Whole Duty to the City.

SOME SURPRISES IN APPOINTMENTS

That of Dr. J. Guy McCandless, as Director of Public Works, Not Expected.

PREPARING FOR THE BATTLES AT POLLS

Weak Spots in Machine's Line Are Being Repaired—Wholesale Removals of Officials Are Anticipated in the Near Future.

Joseph Owen Brown is now city recorder, and, with one or two exceptions, the members of his cabinet have been appointed.

Amid flowers and green, and with great ceremony, the Flinn organization was restored to control of the city yesterday. Senator William Flinn was discreetly absent until after the new recorder was prepared to officially receive visitors.

The Philadelphia Company was represented. One of the directors of this great octopus, that is said to be the power behind the throne in the new administration arrived at city hall about 2 o'clock. He handed a letter to a gentleman to deliver to J. O. Brown. It was not learned whether the trust intends to transmit all of its orders in writing.

The ax of the new recorder will probably begin to fall today, but the real slaughter may not begin until December 1. Then will follow a bloody political season. Many of the weak spots in the old machine are to be repaired, for its managers realize that in the stalwart organization they will have a foe that knows how to fight.

Recorder Brown goes into office pledged to do certain things. They are all in line with his duty, however. Nothing new is promised in the way of reform. He simply promises to keep the city as free from vice as it was when he was at the head of the public safety department. There are numerous able critics who might remark that this pledge will not be hard to redeem.

The New City Cabinet.

In the announcement of his cabinet, Recorder Brown had a surprise or two for the public. The haning of Dr. J. Guy McCandless as director of the department of public works, was unexpected, and the retention of A. J. Pitcairn as superintendent of the bureau of health was not generally anticipated. The appointments so far announced follow:

CITY SOLICITOR—Clarence Burleigh, who had been removed by Recorder A. M. Brown. He is a resident of the Fourteenth ward, and was appointed head of the law department in 1894.

DIRECTOR OF THE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS—Dr. J. Guy McCandless. He lives in the Eighth ward, and has been president of common council for a number of years.

DIRECTOR OF THE DEPARTMENT OF SAFETY—A. H. Leslie, who was removed as superintendent of the bureau of police. He is a resident of the Seventeenth ward.

DIRECTOR OF THE DEPARTMENT OF CHARITIES—George W. Wilson, who was removed as director of the department of public works. He lives in the Twentieth ward, and was at the head of the charity department previous to his election to the department of public works, when Senator Flinn ripped E. M. Bigelow out of office.

DELINQUENT TAX COLLECTOR—Robert Ostermaier, who was removed by Recorder A. M. Brown. He is a resident of the Twentieth ward.

SINKING FUND COMMISSIONERS—Robert Pitcairn, George T. Oliver, R. S. Frazer, J. M. Guffey, Charles Donnelly. This is the first commission appointed under the new charter.

POLICE MAGISTRATES—B. McKenna, Twentieth ward; J. V. McMasters, Second ward; D. J. McGarey, Twenty-sixth ward; S. F. Kerr, Fifteenth ward; John H. Armstrong, Twentieth ward. Mr. Armstrong is the new man. He formerly represented the Twelfth ward in common council.

ASSESSORS—Harvey A. Lowry, Nineteenth ward; George W. Gosser, Sixteenth ward; F. J. Klumpp, Twenty-eighth ward. Mr. Lowry was formerly sheriff of Allegheny county. The other two gentlemen were removed from the board by Msj. Brown. Thomas Mullen of the Thirtieth ward, now a member of the board, will probably be retained, and Emil Spahr, councilman from the Thirteenth ward, is said to be slated for the fifth place.

SUPERINTENDENT OF THE BUREAU OF HEALTH—A. J. Pitcairn, who was appointed to the position by Recorder A. M. Brown. He is a resident of the Fourteenth ward.

The appointments were announced to councils by Recorder Brown. He then

SWITCHMEN ARE NOW ON STRIKE

TIE UP TO BE GENERAL

The switchmen's union has declared its threatened strike. Between 600 and 700 men are expected to quit work in the railway yards of the Pittsburgh district this morning. Over 170 Pinkerton detectives have been mobilized in the yards of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and the Pennsylvania railroad has asked for Pittsburgh police protection.

There was an atmosphere of the threatened strike throughout the city yesterday. At about 20 minutes past 5 o'clock in the afternoon a special train from the west pulled into the Baltimore & Ohio railroad yards. The train carried 72 Pinkerton men from Chicago headquarters. Its makeup included two coaches, a baggage car and the locomotive. The cars were thrown into the Baltimore & Ohio yards beyond Tenth Street bridge and shortly afterward a contingent of dining and kitchen cars was brought in from the east. The coaches were old ones and the seats were thrown down and cots substituted. These facilities constitute the temporary quarters of the Pinkertons in Pittsburgh.

More Pinkerton Men Arrive.

When the Baltimore & Ohio train No. 5 arrived from the east at nearly 9 o'clock last night and about an hour and a half late fully 100 more Pinkertons got off, and they joined their comrades at the improvised quarters in the yards. The visitors complained of the long, muddy walk, but they would not talk of their mission. These men are fresh from the New Haven yards of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, where the switchmen's union has just terminated another strike, which the leaders claim to have won.

Last night at Old Turner hall in Butler street, between Forty-Sixth and Forty-seventh streets, the Pittsburgh switchmen gathered, sanguine of victory. At the meeting there were several hundred men. When a leader emerged from the meeting he was asked of the report that members of the committee which has been working on the demand of the switchmen had resigned. He said: "No, not one," and one of the bystanders interrupted: "I am a yardmaster in one of the most important yards, and there will be no work for me tomorrow."

Outlook is Serious.

The aspect of the situation for Pittsburgh is truly serious. At this time, with the extreme congestion of freight on the breakdown of an engine could force suspension of operations in more than one of the Pittsburgh yards.

Yesterday at noon the committee in charge of the demands of the switchmen met at Americus hall, Forty-third and Butler streets. The reply of eight railroad and terminal interests to the wage demand was received and read. Those in charge said that in every instance the railroad managements said that they would meet any advanced wage that any other Pittsburgh interest would make. The report was submitted to the general meeting of all the organized switchmen of the district last night, and the decision was to quit work till the demands had been granted or compromised.

Second Grand Master J. D. Hughes of the Switchmen's Union of North America said after the meeting: "I do not want to discuss this matter, but we have decided, with the change of crews at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning, the strike will begin. Our demand has been before the railroad managements practically for years and specifically for about three months. We have demanded the Chicago wage rate. If the Pennsylvania can afford to pay this rate in Chicago they can do it here, where living is evidently more costly.

"Our demand is for 27 cents an hour for the men in charge of yard crews in daytime and 29 cents for these men at night; 25 cents an hour for the helpers of these crews in daytime and 27 cents at night. The present wage in most of the Pittsburgh yards is $2 28 a day of 12 hours in daytime and $2 40 night, for the switchmen, and $3 day and $3 12 night for the conductors." The wages named are for 12 hours, making the wage rate of switchmen 19 cents an hour in daytime and 20 cents at night, and for yard conductors 25 cents an hour in daytime and 26 cents an hour at night.

Vice Master Hughes said that he expects Frank T. Hawley, grand master of the switchmen, to be in Pittsburgh today. Leaders of the men say that they will tie up the following railway yards this morning: Baltimore & Ohio, Monongahela Connecting, Pittsburgh & Western, Pittsburgh Junction, Pittsburgh & Lake Erie and the connecting line from the Pittsburgh & Western with the Shoenberger mills of the American Steel and Wire Company.

Pennsylvania Railroad May Suffer.

They say, also, that the influence of the strike will be felt in the yards of the Pennsylvania railroad, where 180 men are said to be enlisted, and in the Ft. Wayne and Panhandle yards. The organization also claims most of the yardmen of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad.

First Vice Grand Master W. G. Lee of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen is in Pittsburgh. The trainmen, along with other railroad men's organizations, are said to be not in sympathy with the switchmen's union and will not assist. One leader of the meeting of switchmen last night said: "I am a member of the trainmen, but I am standing with the switchmen, just as many a yardmaster and others in important positions are doing. Our demand is not exorbitant. The railroad interests have had three months to consider it and the wage asked is only what some of them are paying in Chicago. Our work is as risky as that of structural iron workers and other craftsmen, yet we are not demanding what they get under their present wage scales."

Men Discharged at McKees Rocks.

Six switchmen in the employ of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad were discharged yesterday. It is claimed by several railroad men of McKees Rocks that this was done because the men were under suspicion of inciting other switchmen to enter into a strike agreement.

The men were employed in the Pressed Steel Car Company's yards. Rumor was current in McKees Rocks last night that the switchmen would be out on strike in a few days, if not in the morning. Several of the men say that the strike will be of great extent. In the McKees Rocks district it will cripple the Pittsburgh, Cleveland & Youngstown, Lake Erie, Neville island yards and Schoen's yards.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 26.—One hundred and fifty men will leave here this morning, either on trains No. 7 or 17 for Pittsburgh over the Pennsylvania railroad. They are employes of the P. R. R. at this place, and are employed as switchmen, brakemen and conductors. Supplies have also been loaded on the trains, and these will accompany the men.

Reading Refunding Bonds.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Announcement was made today by Drexel & Co. that arrangements have been made for extending the North Pennsylvania $4,500,000 7 per cent bonds, due January 1, 1903, for a 3 3-10 per cent bond to run for 50 years. Holders are to be given an opportunity to make an exchange between this and January 1. The Reading company will buy up the holdings of such holders as do not care to make the exchange and they will receive cash for them and the bonds will be retired.

COAL LADEN BARGES DRIVEN ASHORE AND 14 SEAMEN DROWNED

Heavy Loss of Life and Property Results From the Recent Storm.

LONG BRANCH DAMAGED

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 25.—The fate of 14 men who shipped in Philadelphia aboard four barges, coal laden, for Fall River, Mass., is unknown. The barges are ashore on the beach near Chadwick life saving station. Two of the crew of 16 men have been saved. The others are reported missing and may have been picked up before the barges drifted in on the beach.

The gale Saturday caused the tow line to break from the tug, and for an entire day the barges were washed and swept by seas, the deck houses being taken overboard, leaving the crews, four to each barge, without shelter. Two of the craft, the Grant and the William T. Moore, have pounded to pieces, and the William Moore is breaking up. The fourth is yet holding together, but is likely to go to pieces.

From Toms river a message has been received that several bodies of unknown men have been washed up on the beach, together with wreckage which comes from a vessel named Hawgood, which has not heretofore been reported as having been damaged by the gale. On the maritime exchange today it was reported that five men were known to have been lost from the barges Wilmore and Grant, and that the other crews were saved.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Damage in the neighborhood of New York city caused by the gale that swept in from the ocean Sunday morning will exceed $1,000,000. From the Long Island and New Jersey coasts come similar tales of wholesale destruction. In the vicinity of Long Branch and along the Shrewsbury river the damage will not fall short of $150,000.

ONLY TWO CONTINENTS IN PREHISTORIC TIMES.

A Princeton Scientist Finds Evidence to Support the Hypothesis in Distribution of Crawfish.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Dr. A. E. Ortman, curator of vertebrate palaeontology in Princeton university, has made a discovery as to the original locations and situations of the continents.

The discovery adds to the evidence of the correctness of Headley's theory, which is that formerly there existed only two main continents, known to scientists as Archhelenos and Archinotis. By noting the geographical distribution of the fresh water crawfish, Dr. Ortman has discovered that one family of them are found only in Europe, the eastern part of Siberia, Korea, the northern part of Japan and that part of North America which extends south from Alaska to Mexico. Another family occurs only in Australia, New Zealand, Southern Brazil, Argentine Republic, Chile and Madagascar, while in the West Indies, tropical America, tropical Africa and India none of the fish are found. This peculiar distribution tends to prove that the continents on which the crawfish are found must originally have been connected, forming one main continent, and that the places where the fish do not occur must have formed another continent. Archhelenos is the name given by scientists to the continent on which the crawfish did not occur, and consisted of what is now India, Africa and tropical America. The other continent, called Archinotos, consisted of the southern part of South America, Australia, the Antarctic regions and the eastern part of Asia.

INSURANCE WARNING.

Householders May Have to Dispense With Christmas Trees.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Fire insurance companies have issued a warning calling attention to a clause in all policies making them void in case the hazard is increased by any means, and the circular makes it evident that the insurance companies believe Christmas trees to be an extra hazard.

Never before has such a step been taken by the fire insurance companies, although each year is marked by a long list of "Christmas tree fires."

A LIFETIME'S SAVINGS LOST IN BLIND POOL BY LANCASTER FAMILY

Well-to-Do People Sell All Property and Give Proceeds to Brokers.

CREDITORS IN THIS CITY

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—One family at Lancaster, Pa., is out $27,200 through the operations of C. E. Mackey & Co., "discretionary brokers," of 32 Broadway, this city, the members of which firm have left for parts unknown. The Lancaster victims sold all their property and invested the entire proceeds in the certificates of the Mackay Investment Company. The savings of a lifetime are gone and the victims have nothing in return.

The total liabilities of the Mackey concern probably exceed $5,000,000, every state in the union and every city of any consequence furnishing its quota of victims. It is understood that a dozen or so Pittsburgh persons invested in the concern, but whether their losses are serious or not will not be learned until the books of the concern are audited.

Belfer & Flash of Brooklyn, counsel for creditors of the Mackey outfit, took steps today to recover $200,000, which, it is alleged, members of the firm sequestrated before leaving the city on November 29. In the United States district court the lawyers filed a petition in involuntary bankruptcy to secure the claims of Flores S. Moore, Michael H. Moore and Barbara S. Moore of Lancaster, Pa., for $27,200. Similar petitions will be filed tomorrow on behalf of other creditors, whose claims against Mackey & Co. represent a lot of $700,000.

C. E. Mackey & Co. did an extensive "discretionary" business, issuing certificates which called for dividends at the rate of 48 per cent a year. On November 1 the firm issued a circular offering to take up the outstanding certificates and to issue instead shares in the "Mackey Investment Company," on a basis that would yield the investor dividends of 280 per cent. This offer aroused suspicion, and on November 20 the officers of Mackey & Co. in this city and of the Jersey City annex, the American Advertising and Mailing Company, were closed and the members of the firm disappeared.

KAISER'S GIFT TO HARVARD.

Will Present to the University Plaster Casts of Art in Germany.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—(Special Cable.)—A further evidence of his friendly interest in America is Emperor Williams announced intention of presenting to Harvard university a magnificent collection of bronze plaster casts representing the noblest specimens of public art in the fatherland. A particular incentive for the gift is Harvard's action in conferring a degree upon Ambassador von Holleben.

The art subjects were chosen by the kaiser himself and the reproductions were made under his personal supervision. Both historic and contemporary works were selected. The most notable is the heroic statue of Germania triumphant.

LI'S SECRETARY ILL.

Interests of American Company He Represents in Peril.

PEKING, Nov. 25.—(Special Cable.)—William Pethick, a New Yorker, for many years Li Hung Chang's private secretary, but now representing the American China Development Company, is dangerously ill of aneurism of the heart. His recovery is unlikely.

The company's interests are endangered as the Belgian syndicate's representative, the Beasens, have obtained valuable rights from the Canton viceroy previously granted to Americans. The contract is signed by Wu Ting Fang.

ELKIN AND STONE.

They Seem to Be Friendly Notwithstanding Political Friction.

HARRISBURG, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Gov. Stone left for Towanda this afternoon to make an address at tomorrow's dedication of the monument of the One Hnudred and Forty-first Pennsylvania regiment. Attorney General Elkin accompanied the governor, and before starting neither would say anything in regard to the Pittsburgh political situation.

The attorney general is apparently on friendly terms with the governor, notwithstanding his disapproval of the governor's removal of ex-Recorder Brown.

POLICE CHARGED WITH MURDER

WOMAN'S AWFUL TALE

Coroner Jesse M. McGeary will have another murder mystery to unravel. In the coroner's hearing in the murder of Wladislaw Milewski, who was killed in Schoenville early yesterday morning, Deputy Coroner Charles Bender issued commitments for the arrest of Police Officers Thomas J. Grogan and Patrick McCarty of McKee's Rocks and three Poles, Lodlo Zawrgh, John Gounglia and Stanlarz Gounglia, charging them with murder, to await the investigation of the coroner on December 4.

In addition to this he held Louie Colliskie and Thomas Kommoiskia as witnesses. The seven men were committed to the McKee Rocks station house and will be taken to jail today. From the testimony given at the hearing last night it is now alleged that the police officers entered the house without cause and started to beat the men. Mrs. Zawrgh, in whose house the murder occurred, testified that Grogan deliberately killed Milewski.

Leo F. Golewski of No. 1340 Penn avenue, and a prominent bank clerk in one of the Polish banking institutions of this city, made a statement exclusively to The Gazette last night, charging the officers with the murder of Milewski, and violating their authority as officers.

The officers deny that they struck the dead man at all. They admit, however, that they used their handcuffs and their revolvers on the other men. They testified that they went to the house several times during the night and told the occupants to keep still.

Officer Grogan said that he did this about midnight. With Officer McCarthy they left the place. They allege that about an hour later the noise started in the house again. Both men ran into the place.

Officer Grogan testified that when Officer McCarthy entered the house, Zawrgh pushed him against the wall. He started to his assistance.

McCarthy was pushed out of the house. He said that John Gounglia ran upstairs to make his escape. Grogan ran after him. Gounglia jumped through the window. Grogan caught him by the shoulder and held him there. He called to McCarthy to catch him when he dropped him.

He let Gounglia fall to the street. McCarthy caught him. He alleges that when he came down stairs McCarthy had his man handcuffed and a general fight was taking place. He said the men were using chairs and beer bottles. It was during this encounter that he heard Milewski fall. When he turned around he saw that he was dead.

He then testified that he called to McCarthy to take the prisoners away and summon a physician, that he thought Milewski might be dead. Zawrgh, John and Stanlarz Gounglia and Louis Colliskie and Thomas Kommoiskia all testified that the officers struck Milewski.

Deputy Coroner Charles Bender then ordered the two officers and the five men arrested to be held committed to jail to await the coroner's inquest.

In the statement made by Leo F. Golubski, who learned of the murder from an eye witness, Mrs. Lerricka, and others, who charged the officers with the murder, he said:

"There were a few friends and the godfather in the house at the time the officers entered. They were making no noise and had no music in the house at the time.

"About 12 o'clock Officers Grogan and McCarthy entered the house with their revolvers and maces drawn. Without any cause they started to handcuff the men. When one of the men remarked that he did not see any reason for the arrest, Officer Grogan struck him with a billy on the head, killing him. In spite of this, they struck the prostrate man with their maces again.

"The brains from the man's fractured skull flew around the floor. The other men became frightened, seeing their comrade murdered before their eyes, and ran away. The police officers ran after them. Gonglia ran to the cellar. McCarthy ran after him and beat him over the head. They arrested all the persons in the house. They also wanted to arrest the landlady.

"She had fainted at the sight of blood and Mrs. Lerricka protested and they left her in bed. I went to the attorney's office after hearing the story and secured the advice of Attorney Harry M. Stein. We went with Mrs. Lerricka to District Attorney John C. Haymaker's office and he advised us to make information against the officers charging them with murder. The information was made before Alderman James R. Conners.

"With these warrants we went with the constable to McKees Rocks, and upon our arrival there we learned that Deputy Coroner Charles Bender had committed the men to be arrested to await the investigation of the coroner. We will push the case to the bitter end."

Grist for American Mills.

FIGHT AGAINST VICE WILL GO ON TO A FINISH

Prominent Men Urge Active Measures at Anti-Vice Meeting.

POLICE DEFENDED BY SAMUEL GRIER

Committee Was Appointed to Cleanse City of Speakeasies and Gambling.

NO COMPROMISE WITH THE OFFICIALS

Project to Appeal to City Authorities Was Turned Down as Useless—Strong Evidence Was Furnished to Support Charges.

The first meeting of the citizens of Allegheny to take steps to rid the city of speakeasies and gambling houses was held in the Pressley chapel of the Allegheny Theological seminary at North avenue and Buena Vista streets at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The meeting was one of the largest of its kind ever held in Allegheny.

Members of all denominations attended the meeting, which was held in answer to cards sent out, signed by several representative clergymen of the city last Friday afternoon. The matter of vice was taken up by the attendants and discussed at length. Representatives of the Gazette, which started the crusade on the North Side some time ago, were present and made statements of the existing conditions, especially in the First and Fourth wards and along the river front.

They told of gambling houses running wide open, and of speakeasies where it was no trouble to gain admission or buy drinks. The city government of Allegheny was on the alert and had no less than three representatives at the meeting, one of whom, Delinquent Tax Collector Samuel Grier, made an address and wanted the body to appoint a committee to confer with the city officials in the matter. He also tried to divert the attention of the meeting from the reports of vice, by stating the Gazette crusade was made for political effect, but he was compelled to suffer many jeers from prominent men who have investigated the evidence the Gazette has collected. Assistant City Solicitor Trimble and Clerk George Shadd, of Superintendent of Police Henry Muth's office were also present, but did not address the meeting.

At the conclusion of the meeting the following committee of nine men was appointed to investigate the existing conditions and take such steps as they think advisable toward the suppression of vice in Allegheny:

The Rev. Dr. William H. McMillan, the Rev. Dr. John McNaugher, the Rev. Dr. Henry D. Lindsey, the Rev. Dr. J. H. Lucas, J. Albert Gray, James W. Grove, George B. Logan, J. M. Stoner and Albert A. Horne. This committee will meet and organize during the present week. It was instructed to call another meeting of the citizens of the North Side whenever it is deemed proper. It was also empowered to fill any vacancies that may occur.

Charges Are Correct.

Shortly after 4 o'clock the meeting was called to order by the Rev. Dr. John McNaugher, who stated its object and nominated the Rev. Dr. E. F. Woodburn for chairman. Dr. O. L. Miller was elected secretary.

In his preliminary remarks the Rev. Dr. McNaugher stated that the meeting was the result of the convention of the National Reform association, held in Pittsburgh last week. He also stated the meeting was called in place of the one suggested to be held at the close of the convention.

"With such a situation as exists in Allegheny today, this matter should not be allowed to go without protest. The Gazette has been doing a noble work in this matter, and I am sorry that it is not here to defend itself. Its charges are correct, and I am sorry that the men who have been investigating the matter have not been here to testify to the truth of the charges."

The Rev. Dr. Woodburn then read the following letter from Mayor Wyman:

"I am in receipt of your letter of the 23d inst., inviting me to attend a meeting of citizens to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Pressley chapel of the Allegheny Theological seminary, for the purpose of considering the question of the suppression of vice in Allegheny. I regret that I cannot be present, as I am engaged in the trial of a case in court. I am in favor of the suppression of vice, and will do all in my power to assist in the enforcement of the law."

The Rev. Dr. Woodburn then read the following letter from Mayor Wyman:

"I am in receipt of your letter of the 23d inst., inviting me to attend a meeting of citizens to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Pressley chapel of the Allegheny Theological seminary, for the purpose of considering the question of the suppression of vice in Allegheny. I regret that I cannot be present, as I am engaged in the trial of a case in court. I am in favor of the suppression of vice, and will do all in my power to assist in the enforcement of the law."

suits has started this movement and its evidence is something that there is no going back on. The paper is one of the most responsible and reputable journals published in the city of Pittsburgh, and the charges, which should cause every respectable resident of the North Side to hide his head in shame, are correct."

Representatives of The Gazette told of the requests of property owners and tax payers of the vice-stricken districts, who had asked that the matter be taken up. It was also stated that the investigations were made at least two weeks before any of the material was published. Different trips to these gambling houses and speakeasies were related, and the methods by which admission was gained to these resorts were described.

Evidence Was Open to All.

Much typewritten evidence was also produced. The Gazette representatives also told of the open manner in which gambling was conducted throughout the First and Fourth wards, and of their many invitations to join various gambling games at the places visited during the crusade.

Attention was also called to an interview with Recorder John Murphy of Allegheny, and it was stated that several connected with the North Side government were present at the meeting.

At the conclusion of the statements of the representatives of The Gazette the Rev. Dr. McNaugher stated that it had been brought to his notice that the Keepers of gambling houses, speakeasies and beer resorts were compelled to buy their wet goods from a certain wholesale dealer in one of the vice-stricken wards. He also stated, he had been informed, if these proprietors did not live up to their promises to buy from this certain dealer, their places were closed by the police and they were not allowed to run.

The Rev. Dr. Woodburn, chairman, stated that as several men from city hall were present, the meeting would like to hear from any such who felt inclined to speak.

Defended The Police.

Delinquent Tax Collector Samuel Grier responded to the invitation and said in part:

I did not come here as a representative of the present city administration, but do not hesitate to speak for it. Only this afternoon, not more than two hours ago, I had conferences with Director of Public Safety Albrecht, Recorder Murphy and Superintendent of Police Henry Muth, and they all assured me that no gambling houses or speakeasies existed in Allegheny.

If you gentlemen have been led to the belief that these places do exist I would earnestly request that you appoint a committee of men to go to City hall and confer with the heads of the administration on the subject. If these places flourish and are protected by the police, then we should all ask for the dismissal of the leaders in the city government.

The riddance of these places of vice is the hardest problem that ever confronted a set of officials of any city, and it is a most difficult one to solve. I remember several years ago a crusade similar to this one was started in the First and Fourth wards. The police succeeded in closing many of the disorderly and gambling houses, but it was an awful task. The police can control these houses and prevent the sale of liquor in them, but if they are closed up and women are allowed to run the streets, Allegheny will, in no time, be worse than London, which is one of the most wicked cities in the world.

I am as much interested in good government as any man in this city, but why was this crusade started by The Gazette? It was for political and no other reasons.

Why did the same paper not start such a movement on the other side of the river? They were in favor with the former administration, and have been entirely friendly to it. The administration of Allegheny has been friendly to Gov. Stone, and The Gazette is trying to whip the governor over the city's shoulder.

In reply to Tax Collector Grier's statements, the Rev. Dr. Henry D. Lindsay, pastor of the North Presbyterian church of Allegheny, said:

"While I favor the appointment of a committee to investigate this matter, it is entirely unnecessary to call the attention of the city officials to the affair. The committee should not go to the city officials, or co-operate with them in any way. We do not have to ask them to do their duty. It does not matter if these speakeasies and gambling houses are now closed, it is a question as to whether they were running before the crusade or not. If the charges made are proven and the city was run wide open, then the executive officers did not perform their duty, and it is high time some action should be taken."

Frank L. Blair said that Ex-Mayor Wyman had closed gambling houses and speakeasies on the advice of two well known citizens of the North Side, and when he was requested to keep them closed he said he did not have the power to do so. Under the new charter the recorder has absolute power over these places and the citizens of Allegheny should get a list of the places running and go to city hall and order Recorder Murphy to close them and keep them closed. "When you get facts the police cannot go back on them. When you let the police force know you mean business they will close these places up and not until then," continued Mr. Blair.

The Hon. Morrison Foster said: "It is the right advice to drive out all these dives. You citizens of Allegheny must all put on your armor and go to work. Get the young men interested and to work. This city is now in a powerless condition and we must work as if the army of an enemy was besieging it. Take the bull by the horns. I have lived in Allegheny since it was a hamlet of 600 people and it was a good city then and can be made a good city now. In instructing this committee I just want to ask that it be instructed to get a list of all property owners who rent to these gambling and speakeasy keepers. They are the ones who are directly responsible."

William Trimble, a member of Allegheny councils, who became quite prominent in the bribery investigation matter, directed his remarks at Tax Collector Samuel Grier and scorned the idea of having a committee visit the heads of the municipal departments. "Close these places without a committee," he said. "In the past few years foreigners have been moving to Allegheny by the hundreds. It seems to be their intention to make it an open city. A continental Sunday is wanted. That is why so many clubs, gambling houses and speakeasies exist. Tell the police to enforce the law against these places and let them know you mean what you say, and in a short time 100 of them will be closed down."

Gov. Stone Held Responsible.

Dr. O. L. Miller said there was no need for the committee to be appointed, spending any money to close these dives. "We pay our money in taxes to keep up the salaries of the city officials, and if they don't do their duty let's not abuse them. Just depose them and elect men in their places that will do their whole duty toward the city."

"The governor of this commonwealth is responsible for the appointment of such men as Recorder Murphy," said F. E. Jennings. "The interview published in the Gazette some days ago is enough to show the caliber of the man. No self-respecting man would use such language. No one but a blackguard would give out such an interview. The city government of Allegheny is corrupt and there should be a change from top to bottom."

Alexander Pollack made the sweeping statement that these gambling houses were visited by policemen regularly once a week, and that they collect money. The amount, he said, depended on the kind of a place run. The collections, it is alleged, ranged from $10 to $30 weekly.

L. L. G. Dalzell, who has lived in Allegheny for the past 56 years, pleaded that the committee make their own investigations and prosecutions, and not confer with the Allegheny officials. "I have complained to the authorities time after time, and told them I could not endure these gambling dens and speakeasies running near my residence, but it was all to no avail. They refused to close them, and were so impudent as to tell me, if I wanted relief, I had better move to another part of the city. Don't leave the matter to the officials. If you do, you will never accomplish anything. They will hoodwink you out of it."

Gazette Is Vindicated.

The Rev. H. B. Claffin claimed he was convinced and had no hesitation in saying that the government at city hall was rotten to the core, and the only way it can be straightened out is at the polls.

John B. Thrasher then said he knew the Gazette to be sincere in working for the interests of the city of Allegheny, and that there was no political move about their crusade. He said these conditions existed, as represented, and urged the committee to take action that will purify the vice-stricken city.

The Rev. Dr. D. A. McClenahan said he believed it was the right course to pursue to appoint a committee to confer with and co-operate with the city officials and the report of the nominating committee, which was composed of the Rev. Dr. John McNaugher, the Rev. Dr. Henry D. Lindsay and the Rev. Dr. J. H. Lucas, was then heard and unanimously adopted.

The Rev. Dr. McNaugher read a letter which had just been handed him from the Allegheny County Liquor Dealers' Protective association, which was as follows:

The Rev. Dr. John McNaugher,

Allegheny, Pa.

Dear Sir: This association, chartered under the laws of our commonwealth, and having for its object the protection of the legal rights of the business interests of our membership and the enforcement of the law against the degrading traffic of liquor by "speakeasies," and the natural vices growing out of such abuses of law and order, learn, in this formal manner, to respectfully approve and commend the proposed actions of the ministers of the churches and law-abiding citizens of Allegheny by public movement, to wipe out the cursed abuse, due to the widespread illegal traffic in liquors in this community, which abuses abound unchecked and with such freedom as to alarm law-abiding citizens everywhere.

This association stands ready with all the forces at its command, both moral and financial, to assist any movement having for its purpose the punishment of those engaged in the illegal traffic of liquors, and its consequent evils, so destructive to good citizenship, and hope to see the nefarious business effectually stopped and prevented.

Enclosed herewith find a copy of an act which, if enforced, will abate this great evil and free our community from the consequent vices. By order of the association.

THEODORE HUCKENSTEIN, Secretary.

LASSOED AND ROBBED.

CLEVELAND, O., Nov. 25.—Gustav Heinrich, a wealthy furrier of New York city, was assaulted and robbed of diamonds valued at $350 early today while on his way to his hotel, after calling upon friends.

Heinrich states that two highwaymen threw a lasso about his head, choked him into insensibility, robbed him of his diamonds, and threw him into a nearby yard. Passersby heard the man's feeble cries and he was taken to the hospital. The hospital authorities this morning reported that he was not seriously injured and will recover from his injuries in a few days. A gold watch and $225 in money in Heinrich's pockets were not taken.

BARRED BY LIMITATION.

Lower Court Sustained in Action to Recover on $50,000 Worth of Promissory Notes.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 25.—Judge Gray filed an opinion in the United States circuit court of appeals today affirming the judgment of the circuit court for the western district of Pennsylvania against Theodore H. Becker in his suit against Paul A. Oliver to recover upon promissory notes made by the defendant, aggregating $50,000.

The jury in the court below had found a verdict in favor of the defendant as regarded nine of the notes on the ground that they were barred by the statute of limitations, and a verdict for the plaintiff as regarded one of them.

Exposition Capital Subscribed.

PORTLAND, ORE., Nov. 25.—Canvassers for subscriptions to the Lewis and Clark centennial exposition, which it is proposed to hold in this city in 1905, began their work today and it is understood that practically the entire capital stock of the corporation, $300,000, is assured as the result of the day's work.

SATISFACTION You know if you purchase your Piano from Frederick's reliable Music Store, 633 Smithfield St., you are sure to have the best values for the least money, and the finest line of pianos made in the world to select from.

THESE GREAT ARTISTS: Franz Liszt, De Pachmann, Von Buelow, Hofmann, Sir Arthur Sullivan (author of so many famous operas), all indorse and praise the famous Boston Piano, the

GENUINE
ESTABLISHED IN 1823.

The principles upon which the American pianoforte of today is constructed belong to JONAS CHICKERING. The construction of CHICKERING & SONS' PIANOS is better today than at any time during their seventy-eight years of manufacturing. The individuality, sweet singing, poetic, mellow and resonant quality of tone in CHICKERING PIANOS are why Europe's leading pianists, critics and royal families purchase an American piano. So if you want the best piano manufactured in the world buy the Genuine Chickering Piano.

CAUTION—The buying public will please not confound the Genuine Piano with one of a similar name of a cheaper grade.

HARDMAN PIANO.
THE ONLY PIANO THAT IMPROVES WITH USE.

A claim that is successfully demonstrated in the actual experience of every owner of a Hardman Piano. It is constructed for extreme endurance, as well as fine quality and beauty.

And, each with a vast army of enthusiastic and devoted followers, we mention the high-class, old reliable

Kroeger Pianos, Behr Bros.' Pianos, Haines & Co. Pianos,
Foster & Co. Pianos, Kingsbury Pianos and Six Others.

A store succeeds by dealing honestly with the people—giving them honest goods. Frederick's many music stores succeed because in all the world not so fine a collection of Pianos can be found under one roof and controlled by one dealer.

A Grand Holiday Exhibition is being made of the above named and other fine Pianos, and you are cordially invited to make an early inspection. Come, if only to look.

Christmas Suggestions Among Such Wares as Leather, Silver, Ebony, Art Needlework, Etc.

A collection of such magnitude, taking each department separately or using them as a whole, as to preclude the thought of detailed description.

We never had such variety from abroad. All the places in Europe where the quaintly novel was to be found had our buyers registered for some days last summer. Besides the fine things from England and the continent, all the novel things for Christmas made in this country have a large space on our Christmas counters.

When you give a thought to what a fleet old fellow Time is you will understand the importance of going through these Christmas lines just as soon as you can spare some hours.

It is the more urgent in the case of the Imported Novelties.

Our Four Propositions in Men's Clothing.

Today or tomorrow for the Thanksgiving Suit and Overcoat. We can show you sack suits up to $35 and Overcoats up to $60, but the four numbers undermentioned are the most popular lines we ever had.

At $15—There is choice of regulation suits and the military suits with its pegtop trousers. Rough cheviot in blue, brown, black and green; also mixtures and Scotch plaids.

At $20—The nattiest of suits—fine unfinished worsteds in black; dark mixtures and new shades in that very popular black and white mixture, dark checks in worsted; dark oxford with small stripes.

At $18—A specially fine long Chesterfield Overcoat. Choice of dark oxford, gray frieze and mixed cheviot. A splendid overcoat—just as full of style and as wearable as any of the higher priced coats.

At $25—Just better cloth than the above, that's all. The linings more substantial, also. Of course, it is worth the difference in price. Such plain colors as brown and gray and the swagger indistinct plaids. With or without yoke. Smooth or rough weaves.

Women's Flannel Waists.

Pay us $1 if you like or pay us $10.50, or select any of the in-between prices, and when you are paying us remember you are getting more for your money than you could possibly get in any other flannel waist stock. Why, we are demonstrating every day the question of less prices.

At $2.50—French Flannel Waists—stripes and polka dots—A tucked waist—back and front.

And thus the prices graduate—$2.75, $3.50, $5 and on up till $10.50 is reached—with every style that you know of, and probably some you have not, as yet, seen.

Latest Paris Colors in Paris Dress Goods.

French Voiles for now and early Spring.

Rather nice, isn't it, to be able to buy goods five months in advance of the regular time for their appearance.

Such handsome materials for the dressy gowns of society's functions.

We have it that all Paris is wearing these filmy stuffs, and if the women of Paris are using them thus early our Pittsburg and Allegheny women will not be backward about taking them up.

45 inch widths, $1.25 a yard.

Practical Things for Gifts to Girls.

The Misses' and Children's department, second floor, has lots of suggestive things that will make nice Christmas gifts. They are all of the practical order.

Girls' Aprons of white lawn, trimmed with lace and embroidery, 50c to $3.25 each.

Girls' Bath Robes of elder cloth—blue, pink, red and fancy stripes, from $1.75 to $10, according to size and quality.

Girls' Bath Slippers, plain and fancy velvets and terry cloth in pank and blue. All sizes. 50c. Florodora slippers of all wool cloths, pink and red, $1 and $1.50.

Misses' Long Coats.

Our buyer ran over to New York last week. The fruits of her trip are represented in part, by Misses' Long Coats of oxford gray and tan double-faced cloths, yoke and sleeves lined with satin; velvet collar. Sizes, 12 to 16 years. $15.

Misses' 27-inch Box Coats—fine kersey. Brown, tan and dark red. Entirely lined with satin. Velvet collar. Sizes, 14 to 16 years. $11.

Girls' full length Coats of all wool cheviot—blue, brown and green; made with double cape and turn-over velvet collar. Sizes, 4, 6 and 8 years, $7.50. It is a coat that usually sells for $11.

The above were great finds and you cannot realize the value by simply reading of the coats. See them and prove them.

retired to his office, where, with Messrs. Leslie, Burleigh and Wilson, he received congratulations from members of the old organization. There were several hundred of the Flinnites called to pay their respects. When all of the little fellows had shaken hands Senator Flinn made his first appearance and congratulated the recorder and the appointees.

The appointment of Dr. McCandless occasioned much surprise. Few of the Flinnites knew that it was coming. It was thought someone with a knowledge of engineering would be named. Dr. McCandless is both a close friend of Recorder Brown and Gov. Stone. A son of the latter is married to the new director's daughter. The doctor may have been named to act as a personal representative of the governor.

Many thought that Crosby Gray, who was removed as superintendent of the bureau of health, would be reinstated. Instead, Recorder Brown announced Mr. Pitcairn as a personal appointee. Mr. Gray is an old soldier, and Stone claimed to be greatly displeased when Maj. Brown removed him.

New Officials Sworn In.

The new recorder lost no time in setting to work to get the Flinn men on the pay roll. He administered the oath of office to all of the appointees, with the exception of Mr. Pitcairn, who was not present. The three directors went to their offices at once, but announced no appointments.

The recorder explained the assessor matter by saying that Mr. Nichols had resigned and Messrs. McCallin, Sprague and Douglass were removed. Mr. Mullen holds over, and it is said that he will be retained. While there are a number of applicants for the other vacancy, it is said that Emil Spahr, who has "went along" in councils for the machine, will be rewarded.

After common council had adjourned Dr. McCandless placed his resignation in the hands of the clerk to be acted upon at the next meeting. The resignation takes effect at once. M. G. Leslie, common councilman from the Seventeenth ward, will no doubt be elected president of the body to succeed Dr. McCandless.

Appointments Expected Today.

Director McCandless will probably make some appointments in his department today. Harry B. Moore, superintendent of highways and sewers, and James M. McKee, superintendent of the bureau of deed registry, have resigned. John Battles will probably succeed Mr. Moore and Charles Rhulandt is booked as the successor of Mr. McKee. G. Wash. Moore will be reinstated as superintendent of the bureau of public property. Whether the other bureau heads will be changed is not known. The appointment of Mr. Battles will leave a juicy commissionership for someone.

Director Leslie says that he will not make any changes until he files his bond. This will probably be done this morning. The police and detective superintendents are his two principal appointments. Senator Flinn is said to have declared in favor of Robert Robinson for the head of the detective force. The superintendent of the police bureau is in doubt. Mr. Leslie says that he intends to give the best administration in his power. It is said that one of the first things he will do will be to issue an order forbidding the employment of waitresses in cafes where liquors are sold.

No Changes in Law Department.

Mr. Burleigh will today re-appoint the present force of assistants. When W. B. Rodgers became solicitor he made no changes in the force then in the office. Mr. Burleigh will at once begin the preparation of the charter ordinance. It will be introduced at the next meeting of councils, which will probably be held Monday.

Director Wilson says that he will make no changes in the charity department immediately.

The recorder has not announced his office force. It is understood that John Henry will be reinstated as chief clerk and W. C. Wright as assistant chief clerk.

Collector Ostermaier does not expect to take charge of his office for a couple of days, allowing W. B. Hays time to close up his books. Mr. Ostermaier will make several changes in the force.

"Ajax" Was Diplomatic.

When Senator Flinn walked into the recorder's office, he was met by Ajax Jones. "Ajax," he said, "I intended to drop in this morning and congratulate you on the manner you have conducted the city for the last two or three days. By the way, are you in accord with the new administration?"

Ajax eyed the Senator for a moment and then replied:

"I am in accord with you."

Ajax announced later that Recorder Brown said that he would be retained.

There is talk of removing the recorder's office to the Public Safety building. It is said that Mr. Brown would rather use his old office on the fifth floor of the palace than remain in the cramped quarters at the hall. Another advantage in making the change would be to bring the executive department closer to the Philadelphia Company's offices. If the change is made, the rooms of the director of public safety will be on the first floor.

In the distribution of jobs, the Nineteenth ward, the home of Senator William Flinn, was given but one appointment, that of Harvey Lowry on the board of assessors. The Twenty-first ward was entirely overlooked. The reason for this is that the Nineteenth and Twenty-first wards are always carried by the Bigelows and the machine thought it a waste of "pie" to name any high salaried men in either of them. It will be noticed that the Twentieth ward received much attention, as the Bigelows are greatly feared. From this ward a director, two police magistrates and a delinquent tax collector are taken.

o'clock. Both chambers were beautifully decorated with palms, potted plants and chrysanthemums from the Phipps conservatory. The decorations were arranged under the direction of Supt. Falconer of Schenley park. President J. Guy McCandless opened common council by a rap of his gavel. M. G. Leslie moved that a committee of three be appointed to notify select council that the common branch was ready to go into joint session.

Joint Session Is Begun.

President McCandless appointed a committee of two, Mr. Leslie and W. A. Magee. As the president, J. S. Lambie, and members of select council filed into the chamber, the common councilmen rose to their feet and remained standing until the selectmen were seated.

John S. Lambie, presiding officer of the senior body, called the joint councils to order, and stated the object of the meeting. W. A. Magee moved the appointment of a committee of five to notify the recorder that councils were in session and waiting to administer to him the oath of office. On this committee President Lambie appointed W. A. Magee, George W. McNeil, Kirk Q. Bigham of common council, and Thomas Thorn and George S. Fleming of select.

Mr. McNeil rose to his feet and said:

"Mr. President, I think you for the honor you have conferred upon me, but beg to be excused."

This made the machine men indignant, but President Lambie excused Mr. McNeal and appointed Albert Zacharias in his stead.

Applause Greets New Recorder.

The machine men applauded vigorously as the recorder stepped into the room, and face President Lambie.

"I have the pleasure to present Joseph O. Brown, who has been appointed by the governor as the recorder of Pittsburgh," said Mr. Magee, facing President Lambie. The president and Recorder Brown exchanged bows.

"This is his commission," said Mr. Magee, and he handed a white parchment roll to President Lambie.

President Lambie—The chair presents the commission from the governor of the commonwealth, appointing Joseph O. Brown recorder of Pittsburgh. The clerk will read the commission.

Clerk Edward Martin read the commission, which stated that Joseph O. Brown was appointed recorder of Pittsburgh to serve until his successor shall be elected and qualified, on the first Monday of April, 1903, unless sooner superceded by the governor. The document also stated that the governor had full faith in the integrity of the appointee, and that he shall hold the office "so long as he behaves himself well."

Oath of Office Administered.

"Are you ready to take the oath of office," asked President Lambie. "Yes," replied the recorder, standing at the side of President Lambie.

President Lambie read the oath of office administered to city officers and members of council. After the ceremony of swearing in the recorder, President Lambie presented to councils the recorder's bond for $25,000 with the Mercantile Trust Company as security. The president said the bond was approved by the governor, and councils added their indorsement.

"Allow me to introduce to you the recorder of Pittsburgh, who is to serve until April, 1903," said President Lambie as he presented the new executive of the city.

Recorder Brown was again greeted with applause as he faced the audience and began his speech. He read his address from manuscript. It was as follows:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of Councils—Having been connected with the city government for upward of 14 years, I have full and personal appreciation of the duties, obligations and responsibilities of this great office of city recorder. I accept the trust with the promise that I shall discharge all its duties with integrity and efficiency.

"My duties are great. Your responsibilities are large.

"You enact. I execute.

Reform Is Promised.

"My responsibilities and yours are equal. We are co-partners of a great trust. We are the servants of a great city.

"Let us stop and stay the hand of disease and death by at once putting in operation the filtration plant, upon lines laid down by the eminent filtration commission, upon specifications understood by the tax payer when he voted for the bond issue. These specifications shall and will be presented to you before you vote the money necessary for the plant.

"Let us be wise and liberal in providing the money necessary to purchase the ground upon which to build the great polytechnical school of Mr. Carnegie. To this school I shall willingly give my time, my labor, energy and best efforts. I believe this coming industrial school will be a greater blessing to this city of industries than would be the locating here of the capital of this mighty nation.

"I shall stand as recorder, as I did as director, for a city free from vice; stand now, as then, the foe to the thief, the thug and the gambler.

"This is not the time for promises. This is the day for action.

"You have a charter ordinance to pass, and much important legislation to consider. City bridges, also, require prompt action.

"This trust and its duties I shall discharge with fidelity to the city, loyalty to you, and with honor to the governor who has committed this great trus to my keeping."

Recorder Brown followed the delivery of his address by reading his list of appointments. Each name was loudly applauded by the machine men.

As the recorder finished he stepped down from the platform to receive the congratulations of his admirers. He made his exit to the recorder's office, where he held a general reception for 15 or 20 minutes. There the oath of office was administered by the recorder to his appointees, as they stood together in a group.

After the recorder and the members of select council retired common council transacted some routine business. Willis D. Stockdale presented a resolution granting to William Smith of the Hope Mission compensation for injuries received while assisting in arresting an Italian, August 6, 1901. Smith was shot in the left arm. He was in the hospital for five weeks and unable to work for thirteen weeks. He says he was called to assist the officer and is therefore entitled to compensation. The resolution was sent to the finance committee.

M. G. Leslie reported a resolution on the death of Thomas J. McTighe, which was adopted.

Ordinances were presented for the grading, paving and curbing of Ossifee street, the relocating of Julius and Torrens street and the construction of a sewer on Commercial street. Thomas Delaney presented ordinances for the vacating of Fort street and Point alley to make way for the warehouse scheme.

Work in Select Branch.

In the select branch the following bills were presented on the call of wards: Ordinances for locating Bellefield avenue from Grant boulevard west to a property line, Denniston avenue from Forbes street to Darlington road, Lydia street from Greenfield avenue to Connor street, relocating Iowa avenue from Adelaide street to Bellefield avenue, repealing the location of Snowden street from Thorn street to an alley 130 feet west; establishing the grade on part of Grant boulevard, Iowa street from Adelaide street to Bellefield avenue, Gordon street from Murtland street to McPherson street, and Lark, Wren and Starlin alleys from Murtland street to McPherson streets; authorizing John Elchlay, Jr., to lay a switch from the Whitehall railroad on South Twenty-first street to Sidney and Wharton streets.

Mr. Clark of the "dead horse" committee, as Chairman Lambie called it, asked that the ordinance for "the purchase of five horses for the department of public works be left with the committee. His request was granted.

A great many ordinances for street and sewer work, already passed in the common branch, were finally passed. The ordinances for the vacation of First and Second streets and Greentree alley from Penn avenue to Duquesne way were passed finally.

Mr. Murphy presented an agreement, signed by an attorney for Mrs. Mary E. Schenley, in which it is proposed to reimburse the city for paving the streets and laying the sewer and water pipes, and to guarantee the city free access to the latter at all times. It was accompanied by a bond of $200,000, as an earnest of the proposal, which was approved.

Ordinances authorizing the recorder and director of public works to enter into contracts were also passed. They included contracts for building a police station in Center avenue, engine houses in the Twenty-third and Thirty-second wards, for new pavements to cost not more than $7,000 and roads to cost not more than $12,000 in Schenley park, for foundations at the Brilliant pumping station to cost not more than $10,000, and for the sale of two old pumps there for not less than $7,000.

Joseph Pringle, who was the independent and Democratic candidate for controller, against Joseph E. Lewis in 1900, is again out for the controllership. He thinks that there is a good chance to win.

"The removal of A. M. Brown," said Mr. Pringle "from the recordership, is a sample of ring trickery, and its gross injustice was equaled only when Mr. Bigelow, an efficient and capable officer, one acknowledged to be head and shoulders above his enemies, was removed from office. However, the people will have their say in February."

DURHAM WON'T TALK.

Refuses to Discuss the Recordership Change in Pittsburgh.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Insurance Commissioner Durham, when seen tonight by the Gazette correspondent, declined to discuss the action of Gov. Stone in his removal of Recorder Brown.

INAUGURATION OF THE NEW RECORDER

Audience of Flinn's Followers Watched the Show With Anticipation.

The induction into office of Recorder J. O. Brown in the presence of the joint council bodies, and surrounded by his political friends and followers, yesterday afternoon, marked the restoration of machine rule in the Pittsburgh government.

The occasion was devoid of any manifestation of popular approval. There was a conspicuous absence of representative citizens. It was a carnival of the "old ring," and members of the organization present were the only ones who rejoiced. A curious crowd was assembled in the lobby of the common council chamber where the ceremony took place, but it was silent during the entire proceedings. Organization men occupied all the standing space on the council floor and around the officers' desks.

They endeavored to work up a demonstration for the newly appointed recorder when he appeared and took his oath of office, but in this the spectators did not participate.

With one exception, every machine man of prominence was there. The absentee was Senator William Flinn. It is presumed that the senator's absence was not unintentional. There is a suspicion that the "Big Boss" remained away that the evidence of his renewed power in city affairs might not be so strongly apparent.

New Recorder Promised Much.

The address of the new recorder was brief, with lavish promises of reform in the suppression of vice, the completion of the filtration plant and the erection of city bridges.

The new executive declared himself in favor of "a city free from vice," a foe to the thief, the thug and the gambler. These declarations were received by Recorder Brown's adherents with a grin almost audible. There was no applause.

Genuine enthusiasm, however, was displayed, when the recorder announced his appointments. The favored ones and their friends showed their approval by loud hand-clapping and applause.

Councils went into session at 2:30

FISCHER PIANO

The one thing about the Fischer Piano that commands special attention is that it is found in more homes every year. It becomes more popular all the time. Sometimes you hear of a person who has become tired of a piano and bought one of another make. But the average experience of those who own Fischer Pianos is that if they get another piano it is almost sure to be another Fischer.

Such facts are convincing.

WILL SUPPLY RAW MATERIAL

GREAT FURNACES WILL BE ERECTED

An Issue of Capital Stock Amounting to $20,000,000 Will Be Necessary to Cover Investments Contemplated for Various Plants.

The Mellons, W. H. Donner and others controlling the Union Steel Company have made themselves absolutely independent of raw materials, including ore and fuel for coking coal. These interests, which will ultimately have combined interests covered by a capital stock issue of about $20,000,000, will stand in Pittsburgh with Jones & Laughlins, limited, as among the two greatest independent steel producing interests in the world.

The Donora Mining Company has its headquarters in Duluth and is incorporated under the laws of Minnesota, being a subsidiary of the Union Steel Company here. It has, by purchases and new orebinds, intrenched itself with a supply of ore which will make the concern independent in its supply for a century or more. Great tracts of fuel coal have been purchased in the Monongahela valley and a large body of high class coking coal in the new Klondike region of Fayette county has been produced. All these deals insure the Pittsburgh company's supply of raw material.

Experts of the Donora Mining Company have been drilling along the Mesaba range in Minnesota for the past six months. They have struck an extra high grade of ore property. The ore has been assayed to run over 63 per cent in iron and considerably under the Bessemer limit in phosphorus.

Field Has Been Kept Secret.

The find has been carefully guarded by those in interest, who are unwilling to have it become public. Yet the strike is known to be a fact. President W. H. Donner of the Union Steel Company yesterday declined to discuss the matter in any way.

The ore find opens rights which will hold about 20,000,000 tons of ore. The mining interest of the Pittsburgh company has gone further for its supply of ore. It has purchased a number of properties, including a section of the Old Range ore, and the large holdings make the Union Steel Company one of the greatest independent and economical factors for the production of steel in the country.

The coking coal property secured by the interests of the Union Steel Company covers 8,000 acres. The property adjoins that of the Federal Steel Company and other constituent interests of the United States Steel Corporation in the new "Klondike." The American Steel and Wire Company has its coking property there and all of these interests since the formation of the United States Steel Corporation have merged their coke interests with the H. C. Frick Coke Company. The "Klondike" field has come to be recognized as equal to that of Connellsville in the product secured. The product is no longer classified as non-Connellsville coke, but the name "Klondike" has been substituted.

Coking Plants to Be Erected.

In a short time it is understood the Union Steel Company interests will arrange for the erection of its own coking plant, either at the field or in connection with the great new steel works which have created an important new community and city at Donora.

About 1,200 acres of fuel coal have been secured by the Union Steel interests in the fourth pool. This property will be developed in a short time, the Union Coal Company having been incorporated to cover these operations. This coal, of the thick Pittsburgh vein, is regarded as the very best obtainable for the fuel purposes of the Union Steel Company. Moreover, the haul to the steel plant will be a short one.

Plans are now being completed for the erection of a group of blast furnaces and a great steel plant at Donora. There will be two, possibly three, blast furnaces with capacity for output of about 600 tons each. This work will involve an expenditure of either $1,500,000 or $2,250,000. The steel plant will be a monster affair to convert the output of the furnaces, and will cost about $2,600,000.

The present rod, wire and nail mills of the company are in active operation with a great amount of business booked ahead.

In the course of another year it is likely that the company will be bringing its own ore from the northwest, working it in its own furnaces and converting for the finished product, with its own coal and coke.

DELEGATE FELT SLIGHTED.

Venezuela Representatives Fail of Election to Chairmanship of Any Pan-American Committee.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 25.—This morning's session of the Pan-American congress was chiefly taken up with the report of the work done by the several committees. Mr. Macedo, one of the secretaries of the conference, made up a list of the chairmen of the several committees who had been appointed thus far. Thereupon Jose G. Forstoul, a delegate of Venezuela, arose and said that he considered it a slight upon his country that neither of its delegates had been appointed to the chairmanship of a committee.

President Raigosa explained the committees chose their chairmen. Danches Margol, one of the Mexican delegates, offered to resign the chairmanship of the committee on agriculture and industries in favor of either of the delegates of Venezuela, but President Raigosa said that he was not empowered to accept it, and Mr. Fourstoul said that he did not know whether at present he would be prepared to accept the chairmanship of a committee.

THE NEW BANK.

An Auspicious Opening.

The North American Savings Company, corner Fourth avenue and Market street, opened its doors to the business public yesterday at noon, and the large number of commercial and savings accounts opened with it during the first three hours of its business career augurs well for the future of the bank—and establishes beyond question the wisdom of the management in choosing the location they have for the institution.

Unlike many of the older banks, whose stock is largely owned by a few individuals, the stock of the North American is held by upwards of 300 shareholders, which says plainly that this will not be a bank for the few—but for the people, and of the people.

The board of directors is made up of 11 of our most successful business men and their achievements in their various lines, assures the patrons of the North American as strong and conservative a management as that of any bank in the city.

The transformation of the building they occupy is indicative of the push and enterprise that will make the bank a success. They took possession of the premises October 22, and opened for business yesterday, November 25, with the building completely remodeled inside and out, equipped with elegance, neatness, and every modern convenience for the business and the comfort of its patrons—showing what business men can do—when they go at it as has been the case here.

Although open for business now no formal announcement has been made, but this will follow, as soon as the minor details of the work is finished. The bank in the meantime is prepared to care for business.

FOUR YOUNG GIRLS KILLED

KNOXVILLE FAMILY NEARLY WIPED OUT BY FIRE.

Father Makes Heroic Efforts to Rescue His Children but Is Overcome by Smoke When Aid Was Near at Hand—Cause of the Accident Presumed to Be the Explosion of an Oil Can.

By the explosion of an oil can early yesterday morning the four daughters of John G. Miller of Knoxville were burned to death, the father was badly injured and the mother is prostrated by the shock. The list of the dead and injured follows:

The Dead.

ROSE MILLER, aged 23 years, died on the way to the South Side hospital.

AMELIA MILLER, aged 19 years, found in the ruins.

The Injured.

J. G. Miller, who jumped or fell from the second story window; his leg was broken.

Mrs. Miller, suffering from shock.

The Miller family live at 116 Charles street, Knoxville, in a two-story frame house. The father is employed at the A. M. Byers mills on South Sixth street, and goes to work early. At 4 o'clock yesterday morning Rose started downstairs to prepare breakfast for her father and her sisters Amelia and Amanda, who work in a box factory in Third avenue. Before she had been in the kitchen very long an explosion was heard. Her screams attracted the attention of her father and mother, and also several neighbors. The girl's clothing was a mass of flames and she ran through the house into the street. Her father and a number of the neighbors rushed to her assistance, but they were too late, as she had inhaled the flames and died about an hour afterward while on her way to the South Side hospital. How the explosion occurred is unknown, as the only one who could tell the story is dead.

The father then returned to look after the rest of his family and went to the second floor, where his wife and other children slept. By this time the house was filled with smoke, and the flames were quickly eating their way to the upper rooms. Miller managed to reach his wife's room. He found her almost suffocated by the smoke, and as she had been ill for the past three months with typhoid fever, he succeeded after much difficulty in getting her downstairs. When she saw the house was on fire she ran into the street screaming with terror. Some of the neighbors took her to one of the houses, where she is being cared for.

Miller returned to the second floor to look after the rest of his family. The two little girls had gotten out of the house by this time and were cared for by the neighbors. The father roused his three daughters, who were almost suffocated by the smoke, and got them as far as the front window of the front room, smoke and flame cutting off all other ways of escape. At the window he was seen to raise the sash. Immediately he was enveloped in a cloud of smoke. He fell and his right leg was broken. When he was picked up he was asked if there was any of his children in the house. He shook his head and his questioners thought that all had escaped.

When the fire was put out a tour of the rooms was made. In the front room the bodies of two of the girls were found. They evidently had been first suffocated and then the flames burned them. The third child was found in another room. The three bodies were taken to the undertaking rooms of John D. Schaub, in South avenue, Allegheny.

On discovering that the house was on fire Amanda and Amelia had made an effort to escape by the stairs. Failing in this, they returned to the room in which Sylvia slept, and the three followed their father to the front room of the second story. Amanda was leading the way and had Sylvia by the hand, when the little girl became mad with freight and tearing herself from her sister rushed for the stairway. The child never reached the stairs, as her charred body was found under a bed in the second room in the rear of the house. The other two girls remained in the front room and tried to escape by the window. Their bodies were found lying within a few feet of each other.

OPPOSE A LIBRARY.

Amalgamated Lodge at Elwood, Ind., Against Acceptance of Carnegie's Gift.

ELWOOD, IND., Nov. 25.—Opposition to the acceptance of the proposed gift of Andrew Carnegie of $25,000 for the erection of a public library building in this city has developed in an unexpected quarter.

It is said that McKinley lodge of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers has entered a vigorous protest against the acceptance of this or any other sum from Mr. Carnegie, and threatens to boycott the library in case any of the iron magnate's money shall be used in connection with it.

TOOK CHILDREN ABROAD.

Schuyler Hamilton, Jr., Secures Writ Commanding Former Wife to Bring Them to Court.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Schuyler Hamilton, Jr., obtained a writ of habeas corpus in the supreme court today directing his former wife, Baroness De Graffenreid, to produce their three minor children in court.

The Hamiltons were divorced in 1894, and he alleged in his petition that his former wife violated an agreement not to remove the children from the United States by taking them to Paris, where she lived with her second husband.

THIEVES PERSISTENT.

Burglars Make Two Attempts to Rob a West Homestead House.

Thieves made attempts early yesterday to rob two houses in West Homestead. At about 11 o'clock Sunday night Patrick Cullen of Neel street heard some person in the kitchen. He got his revolver and went after him, firing two shots at the burglar.

At 2 o'clok in the morning Mr. Cullen's son, Charles, heard some person in the kitchen and went down in time to see a man running away. Two weeks ago a watch and $100 in money were taken from the house.

A thief also entered the house of Charles Dunn, on Cherry street, but was scared away without getting anything. Mr. Dunn had just received $100, and it was thought the burglar knew of it and was after the money.

MAILS WERE DELAYED.

Citizens of the Monongahela Valley Put to Much Inconvenience.

The whole of the upper Monongahela valley on the southwest side was greatly inconvenienced yesterday by the almost absolute failure of the mail service. There were no mails at all on Sunday and up to yesterday at 1 o'clock not a train on the P. Y. & C. railroad, which carries mail, got even as far as Homestead, owing to a tie-up on the line at the Union station and on the South Side, where extensive improvements are being made.

The carriers had but little to do in the morning. Mails did not reach Duquesne until about 2 o'clock and Donora, Dravosburg, Charleroi and Brownsville did not get their's until late in the afternoon.

STRIKE DELAYS BIG SHIPMENT

Towboat Pilots of Monongahela River Combine Tie Up Many Boats.

ONLY 1,695,000 BUSHELS WERE MOVED

Unless Strike Is Broken Company Will Not Be Able to Take Full Advantage of the Present Rise in the Rivers.

The strike of the towboat pilots has curtailed the shipment of coal south, the pilots having succeeded, so they assert, in tieing up many towboats. The fight is being made against the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company for a recognition of their wage scale. It is asserted that the company is willing to pay the wages to some of the pilots, but declare the scale will not be signed.

The pilots aver that no breaks in their ranks have taken place. The coal combination has manned 22 towboats, and succeeded in making a fair run of coal yesterday afternoon, but it is not the amount that usually goes out on such a good stage of water. Of the pilots that are still working for the coal combination 13 belong to the pilots' organization, but their yearly contracts with the combine do not expire for several months. Of this number six will retire, so the pilots say, December 1. The six will be able to get to Louisville with their tows of coal by that time.

The coal combination was the only company to send out coal yesterday. The independents will start their towboats today.

Shipment Was Only Fair.

The combine sent the following boats: Tornado, 4 barges, 1 barge of rails; Stella Moren, 4 barges; Sam Clark, 7 barges, 1 barge of rails; Jim Brown, 7 barges, Cruiser, 7 barges; Sailor, 5 barges; Fred Wilson, 6 barges, 1 of rails; Bertha, 4 barges, 1 of rails; Maggie, 5 barges; Josh Cook, 6 barges, 1 of rails; Little Fred, 5 barges; Joseph Walton, 7 barges; Charles Hook, 4 barges, 1 of rails; Tom Rees, 5 barges and 1 each of rails and nails; Iron Age, 7 barges, 1 of rails; Coal City, 9 barges; Volunteer, 5 barges; Pacific, 5 barges, 2 of rails. This made a shipment of 113 barges, 10 of rails and 3 of nails. The coal shipment approximated 1,695,000 bushels. The scale of wages which the pilots are asking was presented to the coal combination last July, but the officers of the company have refused to sign it, and still declare that it will not be recognized.

The company had expected to get off some 15,000,000 bushels of coal on the present rise, but unless the ranks of the striking pilots are broken, the shipments will be greatly delayed. The rise looks good for several days, if not for a week, and there was a possibility of the company completely cleaning out the harbor had not the strike gone into effect.

Independents Not Affected.

All of the independent coal companies have signed the wage scale, which is as follows: Master and pilot for a year, $5,000; master one year, $1,000; for pilot, round trip from Pittsburgh to Louisville, $800 a trip; Pittsburgh to Cincinnati, $250 a trip; one way Pittsburgh to Louisville, $200 a trip and to Cincinnati $175. Heretofore the pilots have been getting $175 a round trip to Louisville and $150 to Cincinnati.

The combination has prepared to send the following towboats and tows, many of which departed yesterday afternoon, asserting that it has full crews on every boat: Cruiser, 17 barges; Josh Cook, 17 barges; Sam Clark, 17 barges; Fred Wilson, 17 barges; Joseph Walton, 17 barges; Pacific No. 2, 17 barges; Charles Brown, 17 barges; Enterprise, 17 barges; Tom Rees, 17 barges; Volunteer, 14 barges; Sam Brown, 17 barges; Tornado, 17 barges; Ironsides, 17 barges; Coal City, 17 barges; Sailor, 17 barges; John Moren, 17 barges; Exporter, 12 coalboats, 5 barges; Raymond Horner, 12 boats, 5 barges; Tom Dodsworth, 12 boats, 5 barges; Joseph B. Williams, 17 boats, 5 barges; Harry Brown, 12 boats, 5 barges; James Moren, 12 boats, 5 barges. This will make a shipment of 283 barges and 77 coalboats, carrying 6,273,000 bushels of coal. The company is said to have fully 22,000,000 bushels loaded.

The pilots give the following list of towboats that are tied up by reason of the steamers having no pilots: John W. Alles, Enterprise, Clifton, I. N. Bunton, Dave Wood, Stella Moren, B. D. Wood, Bertha, Belle McGowan, Ed Roberts, Nellie Walton, J. C. Risher, Acorn, William G. Horner, Little Dick, Tornado, Jim Brown, Voyager, Charles Clarke, Clifton, Hornet No. 2, T. J. Wood, Wilmot, Adelle, Jim Brown, Charles Jutte. The boats that are undergoing repairs and which are not ready are the Defender, Iron Age, Hornet, Boaz, Mariner, Ironsides, John A. Wood and John Moren. The Fallie and Valiant are down the river. There are more than 25,000,000 bushels of coal loaded and waiting shipment. The Peoples Coal Company will send the towboats Oakland, Gleaner, George W. Thomas and R. L. Aubrey and several smaller boats. Their shipment will approximate 2,500,000 bushels. The Budd Coal Company will send the towboats Frank Gilmore, John C. Fisher and Hunter No. 2. Flint & Co. will send 200,000 bushels with the W. H. Flint.

THE THREE RIVERS.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

CINCINNATI, Nov. 25.—The towboat J. B. Finley made a new record late last week. She left here Thursday with 26 empty coal barges and one fuel flat and made the trip upstream to Middleport on an average stage of 4½ feet without grounding them. The tow was made up of 10 barges across, or 210 feet wide, and its length was 525 feet. The Calderwood, on her way to Louisville, grounded her tow of five full coal barges below Warsaw yesterday, and today she succeeded in getting four off, while the fifth one remains hard aground and in bad shape. The Helen Gould pulled the E. Andrews and tow off a bar above Chilo this morning. The barge sunk by the Marmet at the lower end of Nine Mile dike, on the left side going up, is dangerous to boats. The barge is a wreck. The Virginia was inspected this afternoon, and tomorrow she will open the Cincinnati and Pittsburgh trade. The Sea Lion arrived with seven barges of railroad ties from Cattlettsburg today. Stage at 6 p. m., 7 feet. Cold and cloudy.

LOUISVILLE—River falling, with 4.3 feet in the canal, 2.1 feet on the falls, and 6.5 feet at the foot of the locks. Business good. Cloudy, and threatening snow or rain. The Charles B. Pearce left for the Kentucky river on the long trip. That river is open to navigation again, the locks having been repaired. The Avalon and barge for the Tennessee river passed down at 4 p. m. The Louisville and Evansville Packet Company has bought the John W. Thomas for the Evansville, Owensboro and Rockport trade. The Calderwood and tow are stuck at Warsaw and awaiting a rise. Charlie Langhart left for London, Ky., as a witness against two negroes who robbed the cash drawer on the boat. Capt. Marion Ryan is at home sick.

EVANSVILLE—River 1.8 feet and stationary. Clear and cool.

CAIRO—River 3 feet, a fall of .1 of a foot in 24 hours. Pleasant. The Margaret has been chartered by the Pittsburgh Coal Company, and left to assist the Harvey. Capt. A. J. Powell left for Caseyville today. Capt. H. B. Taylor, secretary, treasurer and superintendent of the Mound City way, died this afternoon of pneumonia. He was sick only a few days. He was born in Kentucky in 1843, and was a soldier in the Union army. He was captain of the Paducah and Cairo packet for many years, and for five years had been connected with the marine ways. The remains will be buried at Paducah.

MARIETTA—River 5 feet and rising. Cloudy and cool. Baxter down, 8 a. m.; Bedford up, 6 a. m.

WHEELING—River 6 feet 6 inches and rising. Cool and light rain.

STEUBENVILLE—River 8 feet and rising. Cloudy and cold.

GREENSBURG—River 9 feet 1 inch and stationary. Light rain and cooler. Woodward down Tuesday. Cherry up.

BROWNSVILLE—River 8 feet 4 inches and rising. Cloudy.

PARKERSBURG—River 6.6 feet and rising. Cloudy and cool. Several small boats are in the harbor here preparing to go out. The J. B. Finley passed up with a large tow of empties this afternoon.

POINT PLEASANT—River 4.9 feet and rising. Cloudy and cool. Down, Greenwood; up, Jessie, Gleaner, Florence Marmet, George Matheson and Val P. Collins.

GALLIPOLIS—River 7.5 feet and rising. Cloudy and cold.

WARREN—River 6 feet and stationary. Light rain.

MORGANTOWN—River 9.5 feet and rising. Cloudy and cool.

Kanawha, Charleston, 4 p. m.

At 9 o'clock last night the stage of water at Davis island dam was 9.9 inches and slowly rising.

George Poe, a former Ohio river packet pilot, may go back to steamboating.

T. C. Poe, the weather prophet, is now at his desk at the Cincinnati wharfboat.

The Beaver has put in a new set of boilers and one of the most complete electric light plants on the river.

Capt. John McCoy has arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday from Pickney and may go back to piloting on the Ohio river.

The towboat Yellow Poplar, which was aground at Buffington, has been floated and is on her way to Pittsburgh.

Capt. James O. Wood yesterday hired with the Peoples Coal Company and will be one of the pilots on the towboat Oakland.

Piling has been driven in the Ohio river at Morris landing and extends 125 feet out on shore. Pilots are warned to be on the lookout for it.

The towboat Fallie is laid up at Middleport, putting new sheets in her boilers. The Valiant passed there this morning on her way to Pittsburgh.

A waterspout on the steamer Kanawha was hurt yesterday by being squeezed between the stage and the boat. He was sent to the Mercy hospital on the steamer's arrival.

Capt. James A. Henderson says that the steamer Queen City will be the first Cincinnati packet to start from Pittsburgh and will leave here Wednesday at 4 p. m. The Virginia, which is at Cincinnati, will leave there today for Pittsburgh and the Keystone State, which is also at that place, will leave there Thursday. The crew of the Virginia passed through Pittsburgh on their way down the Ohio to take charge of that boat. The steamer Lorena will leave Zanesville today for Pittsburgh and all of the other short line packets are now navigating the river.

Maidenhood and Womanhood

At the threshold of wedded life with its cares and responsibilities, what more appropriate could a bride consider than a box of the medicine that will keep the new family in perfect health.

"I took Cascarets myself and they are fine. I also have been giving them to my children with best results."—Mrs. Davis, 429 E. Capitol St., Washington.

"Cascarets are the best medicine I ever tried. I cannot be too grateful for them."—Mrs. Ella Sanders, Fox, Ind.

"I was for a long time troubled with constipation and catarrh of the throat. Am now using Cascarets with good results and am satisfied I will be entirely cured."—Mrs. H. F. Yeomans, 431 Champlain Ave., Chicago.

"I have used Cascarets and must say they are wonderful. I recommend them to all my lady friends."—Mrs. J. H. Mayes, Chariton, Ia.

"About a year ago I went through a very difficult operation and since then suffered from severe headaches. I tried Cascarets and the result was wonderful. God bless you."—Mrs. Moses Leese, Gilman, Colo.

There are many physical disturbances of the bodily functions connected with the change from maidenhood to womanhood, and the health and wholesome life not only of the bride, the new wife and prospective mother, but that of the new generation that is to be, depend upon keeping all operations of the digestive canal regular and natural with Cascarets Candy Cathartic, the only medicine that will do it gently yet surely without grip or gripe.

See that Spot!

You dont, but your friends do.

Why don't you have it covered It can be done. The trouble is not chronic, but functional. It is caused by a weakened condition of the hair follicle, due to a microbe that feeds upon and destroys the delicate mucous membrane with which it is lined.

The hair-root, deprived of its nourishment, gradually becomes weakened, shrivels up and the hair easily falls from its collapsed follicle.

This very common condition—known as premature baldness—is overcome by the use of Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Food, the only safe and scientific cure for all hair and scalp diseases. It strikes at once at the seat of the disorder, destroys the microbe that causes it and assists in feeding the weakened hair follicle back to health.

Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Food is not greasy or sticky, and contains no disagreeable or dangerous sediments. It is clear, pure as crystal, and delightful to use. Its odor is pleasant—yet not pungent. The important thing is—it grows hair.

For Sale by Druggists at $1.00 the bottle, or sent, expressage prepaid, upon receipt of price by the Cranitonic Hair Food Co.

SPECIAL NOTICE—If you have a thinly-covered spot like that shown above you are becoming prematurely bald. Don't wait until your case becomes chronic. Write the Cranitonic Hair and Scalp Institute, 526 West Broadway, New York City, and send a small sample of your hair combings; state in your letter if you have dandruff, falling hair or itching scalp, when our physicians will make a microscopic examination of the hair, mail you a report upon its condition and prescribe curative treatment free of charge.

To all who send hair we will mail free a 48-page illustrated book, entitled "Hair Cure;" also a sample of the Cranitonic products.

Kings Daughters Meet—The Kings Daughters of the First Methodist Protestant church will hold a bazar and Christmas sale December 5, afternoon and evening at the residence of Mrs. Joseph Gordon, Dithridge street.

Foreign Mission Gathering—The general board of foreign missions of the Methodist Protestant church will meet in the parlors of the Methodist Protestant book rooms today at 10:30. Important business will be transacted.

Much Spurious Coin—The police of East Pittsburgh have discovered a great many counterfeit nickles and dimes which have been passed recently. The counterfeits are poor ones. The police have a clue as to the counterfeiters.

Prisoner Is Ill—Rhoda Reade, the Boston woman arrested here last Friday for stealing $114 and a lot of jewelry in that city, was removed to the Homeopathic hospital yesterday from Central station. She has grip and laryngitis.

Stole Tableware—James Allison, a colored man, was arrested by Officer Adolph Schultz yesterday on a charge of stealing a lot of knives, forks and spoons from No. 525 Wylie avenue. One spoon was found on him at Central station.

Would Help the Boers—John Yenny, a Swiss, was in Braddock yesterday and circulated a petition, to be presented to congress, showing sympathy with the Boer cause, and asking the senate and house to intervene in the Boers' cause.

Iron Fell on Him—Thomas McFadden, 30 years old, who lives in Bell avenue, North Braddock, while loading structural iron at the McClintick-Marshall plant at Rankin, had both legs broken at 4 o'clock yesterday. He was taken to the Homeopathic hospital.

Old Violins Displayed—An exhibit of rare old violins is now displayed by August Gemunder & Sons at the hotel Lincoln, room 660. Luigi Von Kunits, the violinist, visited the exhibit yesterday, and, after trying several of the instruments, became enthusiastic.

Hit by a Car—Christopher Crause, aged 70 years, of Thirty-sixth street, was knocked down by an eastbound Penn avenue car yesterday afternoon at Thirty-ninth street. He is at the West Penn hospital suffering from concussion of the brain. His chances of recovery are slight.

Will Build Hotel—Frank Becker, owner of the White House cafe, McKeesport, has purchased the John Weiss property on Fifth avenue, just opposite the National hotel, at No. 223 Fifth avenue, and will, it is rumored, erect a modern hotel on the plot.

Lecture By Prof. Moulton—As the fifth address in his course of lecture-studies on "Stories as a Mode of Thinking," Prof. Richard Moulton of the University of Chicago spoke before the Pittsburgh University Extension society last evening in Carnegie library on Eugene Sue's "Wandering Jew."

Money for Kindergratens—The committee on kindergartens of the Allegheny public schools, at a meeting last night decided to recommend that the request of the Free Kindergarten association, asking for $80 a month for each kindergarten in the city, be granted. This sum is for the teachers of the classes.

Looking for Fehr—Policeman John Englert has gone to New York to endeavor to ascertain the whereabouts of missing Ordinance Officer William Fehr. Although Fehr wrote his family from Philadelphia that he intended to go to Cuba, it is believed by the local police department that he is in New York.

Steel Castings Shipped—The Pittsburgh steel foundry of Glassport has shipped 45 tons of steel castings to Jones & Laughlins, limited, Pittsburgh, to fill the first installment of 250 tons ordered by the latter firm for the immense Talbot furnace which they are erecting on the South Side.

Want Fire Protection—A meeting will be held tomorrow evening at the office of Justice of the Peace W. G. McCleery at Munhall, at which a fire company, to be known as Munhall Volunteer Fire Company No. 2, will be formed, to protect Munhall station, which is quite a distance from the other portion of the borough.

Looking for a Son—William Gunsaulus of Tyrone, Pa., is hunting for a son at Braddock, who left his home some time ago to secure work in the mills either at Braddock or Youngstown. Mr. Gunsaulus says that a man calling himself Harry Sailor, wrote him that his son was dead and asked for money for funeral expenses.

Money for Old Country—At Munhall yesterday $1,500 was made out in money orders and $6,000 at Homestead. Most of this is sent by money order to New York and by drafts on foreign banks from there across the water. This money is sent over by prosperous workers here to relatives in the old country for Christmas.

Quick Work at Edgewood—Work on the new deaf and dumb asylum at Edgewood is being rushed, and it is the hope of the contractors that cold weather will not prevent the work being completed soon. The contractors expect to have the new buildings finished in the early spring. The building will be the finest of the kind in the state.

Houses in Demand—Swissvale is greatly in need of new houses to supply the great number of applications real estate dealers in the borough are having every day. Over five hundred houses were built during the summer. But this is not nearly enough to supply the great number of people that wish to live in the borough on account of their work being there.

Sewickley Union Service—A union Thanksgiving service will be held in the Methodist Episcopal church of Sewickley, at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning. The churches which will engage in the service are the Baptist, United Presbyterian and Methodist. The Rev. M. W. H. McKinney, pastor of the Baptist church, will preach the sermon. The other pastors will also take part.

Centennial Ended—The centennial celebration of the First United Presbyterian church was ended last night with a concert. The church was crowded, many of the former members being present. The vocal music was furnished by Mrs. Annie Grace Riheldaffer, Miss Jean Loughridge, Samuel T. Beddoe and David T. Moore. Stephen H. Leyshon was the organist.

Ministers Will Talk—The Jr. O. U. A. M. will hold a meeting at their hall in Braddock tonight, which will be addressed by several pastors of the town. The meeting will be an open one and a big attendance is expected. The Rev. George P. Streets of the Baptist church will speak on "Ideal Citizenship," the Rev. J. Sala Leland of the Methodist Protestant church on "What is Patriotism."

Four Smallpox Cases—Four persons living in th boarding house of Edward Miller at 931 Main street, Allegheny, were taken to the Municipal hospital sufferinb from smallpox in a malignant form. The victims of the disease are John Ferguson, Harry Burt, George Cross and William Clark. All the cases are well developed. Other inmates of the house were taken to the pesthouse as a precautionary measure.

Elderly Man Hurt—James Ryan, 60 years of age, who says his home is at Banksville, New York, was perhaps fatally injured by being hit by a street car at Penn avenue and Eleventh street about 6:30 o'clock last evening. The car struck him while he was crossing the street, and besides cutting his left leg badly injured his spine very severely. He was taken to the Homeopathic hospital in No. 1 patrol wagon.

Injured by a Fall—Andrew Nones, a Greek, aged 35 years, residing at 313 Liberty avenue, is at the Allegheny General hospital suffering from many injuries received by falling from the roof of the La Belle steel works, Allegheny. Nones was employed as a tinner, and fell a distance of 20 feet. He sustained two scalp wounds, a probable fracture of the base of the skull, and had his right arm fractured.

Suspected of Crime—John Murphy and Frank Williams, two suspicious characters, were arrested yesterday morning at East Pittsburgh by Special Officer Harper of the Pennsylvania railroad. They are charged by Detective James McKain, as being the men who held up and robbed Frank G. Rodgers at Wilkinsburg station late Saturday night. Both men were sent shortly before midnight to the workhouse for 90 days.

Service in New Church—Fraternal services were held at the new Bellevue United Presbyterian church last night, at which Dr. Grier of the United Presbyterian seminary, Allegheny, was the chief speaker. Other ministers of the town made brief addresses, all congratulating the congregation on its new house of worship. Services will be held every night this week, and a special communion held on Sunday.

Knew His Brother—The man who dived into a furnace stack at Shoenberger's mill on Fourteenth street last Thursday morning, was identified yesterday at the morgue by George Wasilewic as his brother-in-law, Alexander Polukiewic of 161 Fourteenth street. He could not advance a reason for the man's jumping into the furnace, and it is presumed he was insane. The body was taken to Wasilewic's home at Twenty-eighth street and Liberty avenue last night.

Grabbed a Charged Wire—George Jago, employed at the Edgar Thomson steel works, while walking along an elevated steam pipe, lost his balance and in falling grabbed an arc light wire. Two men caught him and tried to pull him down from the wire. They were thrown to the ground. He hung on the wire for some minutes before he was finally released. It is estimated that a 2,200 volt passed through his body. James Gordon, another employe of the company, was badly scalded about the body yesterday while at work.

Five Persons Arrested—Police Lieutenant William Crehan, with a squad of police from the Hazelwood police station, made a raid on a house in Forward avenue about 10:30 o'clock last night and arrested five alleged thieves, who arrived in the city a short time ago from Buffalo. The crowd was made up of three men and two women, and it is claimed they are wanted in Buffalo for railway robbery committed during the Pan-American exposition. The neighbors knew them by the names of William Bloom and his wife, Julia Bloom; John Vernor and his wife, Bridget Vernor, and John Foley.

B. AND O. BUYS ANOTHER ROAD

Ohio and Little Kanawha Is the Latest Purchase of the System.

BUT ONE OF SEVERAL ADDITIONS

First Thought That the Purchase Was Made for the Wabash to Tap West Virginia Coal Fields. White Danger Signal Adopted.

Postive announcement is made in a telegram of yesterday from Marietta, O., that the real purchaser in the much-discussed change of owners of the Ohio & Little Kanawha railroad is the Baltimore & Ohio. Heretofore the supposition has been that the purchase was made by the Wabash interests, as the Ohio & Little Kanawha, in connecting with the Wheeling & Lake Erie at Zanesville, would form part of a line to tap the rich coal fields of West Virginia along the Ohio river.

For the Baltimore & Ohio the line will serve the purpose of a cut-off between the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern at Marietta and the main line to Chicago at Zanesville. This is but one of the Baltimore & Ohio's recent extensions in that part of the country. Its acquirement of the Cleveland, Lorain & Wheeling and the Ohio river roads, and its extensions by building toward Canton, have occupied much of the attention of the management for some time past. Gradually practically all of the lines in the southeastern part of Ohio and along the Ohio river in West Virginia are coming into the control of the Baltimore & Ohio and the Pennsylvania. Until the entry of the Wabash is assured those two systems, now under one ownership, will have the western outet for all the West Virginia coal well fortified against competition.

White the Safest Danger Signal.

General attention has been called to the right colors for signals by the adoption of green last week by both the Union and Southern Pacific for the O. K. signal. The Pennsylvania also is said to be contemplating giving up white as the safety light, for reasons similar to that which prompted the move of the western roads. The fact that light is normally white, and that no available oil burning red has yet been found, is the basis of the complaint. On any colored signal such as red or green, as now used on most roads, the danger of the colored glass breaking so as to let a white light show, is always present. Many wrecks have been traced to this cause. It is argued that, if white were the danger signal, such accidents would be impossible. It would always show when set, even if the glass of the lantern were broken.

Engines for Either Kind of Service.

The greater part of the 180 new engines ordered recently by the Pennsylvania from the Baldwin works, will be made after new designs, fitting the engines for either fast freight or passenger service. The first purpose, it is announced, for these engines, which will go to all parts of the system, is long hauls of high classes of freight. In case of need, however, they will be capable of speed sufficient for use in the passenger business. There will be 78 moguls, with wider firebox than the present class. The new engines will have 62 inch driving wheels, 2,469 square inches of heating surface, 205 pounds of working pressure and will weigh 162,500 pounds.

Col. Moody Back From Florida.

Colonel Samuel Moody, assistant general passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, comes back to Pittsburgh in better health than for several months past. His stay at San Lucie, Fla., added to the few weeks of rest at his Beaver home, have restored the colonel to his usual state of good health, to the great pleasure of his many friends throughout the country. It is likely that he will resume the duties of his office in a short time.

RAILROAD NOTES.

General Superintendent Charles Watts of the northwest system of the Pennsylvania lines west has returned from a hunt in Virginia.

The Pennsylvania will install, in the near future, block signals upon the Philadelphia, Wilmington & Baltimore, and the Baltimore & Potomac.

Plans, first made 11 years ago, will now be carried out by the Reading, for bridging the Schuylkill from a point above Bridgeport to Norristown, to obtain a direct connection into the latter city.

STEEL FIRMS SATISFIED.

Pittsburgh Manufacturers Have Given No Options as Yet to Combine Promoters.

None of the important Pittsburgh interests have optioned their properties to the New York law firm reputed to have the formation of a new steel combine well in hand, and to be incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, with initial capital of $250,000,000, subsequently to be increased to $1,000,000,000.

Jones & Laughlins, limited, the Union Steel Company, the Shuron Steel Company and Pittsburgh furnace interests have been asked to enter negotiations to merge with other steel interests, but in no instance has a favorable reply been made. The interests of Jones & Laughlins refuse to consider any combine proposition and the two other steel interests named have not yet rounded out the scope of their planned operations.

Henry C. Frick, mentioned in connection with the deal in reports from New York, yesterday said in reply to an inquiry that he knows nothing of the matter. William H. Blymer, head of the New York law house of Blymyer, Hobbs & Stover, who was expected to arrive in Pittsburgh yesterday, could not be located. At the Duquesne hotel, where he is expected to register, a number of telegrams are awaiting him.

Pittsburghers mentioned as prospective members of the new combine say that they understand from the promoters that some concerns have been optioned, but they doubt that the deal has reached tangible shape.

TWICE TOLD TALES.

No Meat Extracted From Them by Some Who Most Need the Facts.

We have more than twice told the reader of the fact that he or she may perhaps easily discover the cause of the daily ill feeling and the experiment is not difficult to make.

But there are readers who think truths are for some one else and not for themselves.

Some day the oft-told tale will flash upon us as applicable when the knowledge comes home, that day after day of inconvenience and perhaps of suffering has been endured, the cause not being recognized or believed, although we may have been told of the cause many times over, but never believed it applied to us.

It would startle a person to know how many people suffer because they drug themselves daily with coffee. We repeat it, it is a powerful drug, and so affects the delicate nervous system that disease may appear in any part of the body, all parts being dependent for health on a healthy nervous system.

Relief from coffee for 30 days has cured thousands of people who never suspected the cause of their troubles.

The use of Postum Food Coffee is of great benefit to such, as it goes to work directly to rebuild the delicate cell structure from the elements nature selects for the work. Relief from a heavy drug and the taking of proper nourishment is the true and only permanent method.

WILL BROADEN FIELD OF WORK

PRESBYTERIAN UNION DECIDES TO REORGANIZE.

Officers Tendered Their Resignations Last Night and a Committee Was Appointed to Redraft the Constitution—The New Organization Will Hold Business as Well as Social Meetings.

The Presbyterian union of Pittsburgh and Allegheny is now without officers and is in the process of a revolution. At a meeting held last night all the officers elected at the annual meeting in October resigned. New officers will not be elected until after the adoption of a new constitution, which will probably be at the next meeting, to be held Monday afternoon, December 9.

At the invitation of the recently elected president of the union, William C. Lilley, a meeting was held last night for the purpose of reorganizing the society along other lines than mere social. President Lilley called the meeting to order, and the Rev. Dr. S. A. Hunter led in prayer. President Lilley then read letters of regret from a number of prominent members who could not be present at the meeting. Among those who sent their regrets were the following: Robert Pitcairn, the Rev. Dr. James D. Moffat, the Rev. Dr. Maxwell, James I. Buchanan, the Rev. Dr. Henry T. McClelland, James I. Kay, Charles E. Speer and J. J. Matthews.

After stating the object for which he had called the meeting, President Lilley requested that a chairman and secretary for the meeting be elected. The Rev. Charles S. McClelland was elected chairman and the Rev. W. A. Jones secretary.

All of the old officers then tendered their resignations. Mr. Lilley acted as their spokesman and stated that, in view of the fact that only half a dozen members of the union were present at the meeting when the officers were elected, they did not feel that the vote had represented the sentiment of the union as a whole. They also wished to resign in order that the way might be clear for a complete reorganization.

The resignations were accepted. The officers who resigned were: President, W. C. Lilley; vice president, the Rev. David M. Skilling; secretary and treasurer, the Rev. Dr. E. R. Donehoo; chairman of the executive committee, Prof. A. S. Hunter; members of the executive committee, Prof. J. E. Morrow, Prof. J. C. Armstrong, E. E. Fulmer and M. C. Acheson.

A new constitution was submitted for the consideration of the members present, and, after some discussion, was referred to a committee, which will redraft it and submit it for adoption to the union at the meeting on December 9. The committee into whose hands this important matter has been intrusted is composed of the Rev. Dr. William McEwan, chairman, Dr. H. D. Lindsay, Prof. A. S. Hunter, W. C. Lilley and J. McF. Carpenter.

The most radical change proposed in the new constitution will be to make the union a business association as well as a social club. Instead of the two social meetings each year, as has been the custom, four meetings will be held annually, two business and two social. It is intended that the union shall be a factor in strengthening the churches of the presbyteries of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and that it will aid in a practical way to spread Presbyterianism.

THE BIG HORSE SALE.

Thomas W. Lawson of Boston Is One of the Heaviest Buyers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—The Easly-Tipton Company commenced the sale of 995 thoroughbred horses at Madison Square Garden today. The long list included the names of some famous animals and the sale drew a big crowd of buyers. Bow Bells and Ponce de Leon, stallions, owned by the late Marcus Daly, were offered first. Samuel McMillan of New York bought the former for $5,100, and Thomas W. Lawson the latter for $6,500. A summary of the more important sales follows:

Bow Bells, b. s., 2:19¼, by Electioneer-Beautiful Bells, Samuel M. McMillan, $5,100; Ponce de Leon, blk. s., 14 years, 2:13, by Pancoast-Elvira, Thomas W. Lawson, Boston, $6,500; Prodigal, b. s., 2:16, by Pancoast-Beatrice, J. W. Bailey, Gainesville, Texas, $4,100; Milrod, b. s., by Guy Wilkes-Nanon, Elmhurst farm, Lexington, Ky., $1,600; Managing Director, b. s., by Director-Anglia, W. S. Redmond, Madison, N. J., $950; Anagallis, b. m., by Prodigal-Annie Wilton, Brayton Ives, New York, $1,800; Annie Tilton, br. m., by Wilton-Annie L., T. W. Lawson, Boston, $1,000; Animosity, by Prodigal-Annie Wilton, J. W. Bailey, Gainesville, Texas, $800; Brown Silk, br. m., by Baron Wilkes, Nannie Etticoat, Elmhurst farm, Lexington, Ky., $1,700; China Silk, br. m., 2:16¼, by Prodigal-Brown Silk, T. W. TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1901.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

The Recorder's Salutatory.

Mr. Joseph O. Brown was yesterday installed as recorder of Pittsburgh. He signalized his entry into office by the most profuse promises of good government and a clean administration of city affairs. We frankly confess that we have but little confidence in the fulfillment of these promises. No matter how honest he may be in his determination to root out the evils which grew up and flourished under the former administration of himself and his compatriots, his environment is such that it will be a nearly impossible task. We suggest, however, that it would be best for all well-wishers of our city to suspend judgment, and give the new recorder a chance. Unless our acrobatic governor turns a new somersault, which is not likely, Mr. Brown will be at the head of our city government for a little over 16 months. What our people want is reform in city affairs, no matter from what source it comes; and if Saul is found among the prophets so much the better.

It is the duty of all good citizens to make the best of things as they are when they cannot be bettered. If, therefore, Recorder Brown means what he says, and honestly carries out his promises, The Gazette will not only refrain from captious criticism of his administration, but will give him its cordial support; but if he is trying to fool the people, he must look for both criticism and condemnation.

The Old Soldier and the Governor.

The governor's interest in old soldiers was pointedly set forth in his statement "to the citizens of Pittsburgh" giving reasons for the removal of Maj. A. M. Brown from the recordership. A count in the indictment framed by Gov. Stone against Maj. Brown was that he "permitted the removal of old soldiers for political reasons against my protest." One old soldier removed by Maj. Brown was Crosby Gray, who had been at the head of the health bureau and was succeeded by A. J. Pitcairn. The new recorder, appointed, partly, it is to be presumed, because of Maj. Brown's alleged unkindness to old soldiers, took office yesterday and had an opportunity to please the governor by restoring Mr. Gray to his place. Instead he was left out in the cold and Maj. Brown's appointee continued in office. If the governor was honest in his professions concerning old soldiers in his proclamation of displeasure with the former recorder, the action of the new recorder in thus confirming and indorsing his predecessor's act of removal of one should sit hard on the gubernatorial breakfast.

In view of another declaration by the governor that Maj. Brown had repeatedly violated the charter "by the removal of men from office for political reasons," it would be interesting to have a statement as to how many of yesterday's appointments to places of profit were made without reference to the political efficiency of the appointees.

Price of American Goods.

Some advocates of tariff revision, no less than the extreme free traders, make it one basis of their demand for tariff reduction that American goods are sold for lower prices in the foreign than in the home markets. The declaration also enters into the present demand for reciprocity, as witness the recent address of the governor-elect of Iowa at the annual dinner of the New York chamber of commerce. The idea that it is the general rule for American manufacturers to sell more cheaply abroad than at home is undoubtedly prevalent among those who influence Mr. Cummins and other western public men and politicians. While it is admitted that an American manufacturer, under the spur of necessity to clear the home market and keep his workmen employed, may at times market his surplus to foreign buyers at a rate below the home quotation, it is shown in a report of the industrial commission that this is not the uniform rule, but that in the case of at least one company "many of the goods are sold at higher prices abroad than at home," while only "some few" of the exported goods are sold at lower prices in the foreign than in the domestic market. The company is merely one of many in the same line seeking trade on both sides of the Atlantic. The principle that governs its business must likewise control the policy of its American competitors. This should be taken account of in future discussion, regardless of the defense that might be set up as to the business necessity of "meeting the market," whether at home or abroad.

The Crusade Against Vice.

It was a gathering representative of the best citizenship of Allegheny City that met yesterday afternoon to give its attention to the conditions that have been brought to public view by The Gazette. The course of this paper, as was to have been expected, received hearty indorsement from all who addressed the meeting except Delinquent Tax Collector Grier. Mr. Grier was present as the defender of the city administration and in that capacity made the pointed declaration that if the things alleged by The Gazette are true "we should all ask for the dismissal of the leaders in the city government." It is somewhat curious that Mr. Grier bracketed with this the statement that some years ago the police found it "an awful task" to close gambling and disorderly houses, that "the police can control these houses," but "if they are closed up and women are allowed to run the streets Allegheny will in no time be worse than London." This is something of a confusion of ideas, for if Mr. Grier's policy of controlling the dens is right, why should he want "the leaders of the city government dismissed" for permitting them to run? And why should women be "allowed to run the streets?" The persons who had assembled with the intent of taking measures to stamp out vice were not impressed with the force of Mr. Grier's argument, nor with his denial from the police department of the existence of dens and expression that The Gazette had a political motive in its crusade. Instead of being diverted from their purpose they went straight ahead with the business that brought them together, and will push the work of stamping out vice.

Mr. Stead's Charge.

Were William T. Stead's charge true that the English in an engagement in South Africa had placed Boer women and children in their front to receive the fire of the Boers, his condemnation would be none too strong, and even the most patriotic Briton might excuse his incitement of Europe to interfere. But the report is denied by Lord Kitchener as "absolutely false," and there is small reason to believe that Englishmen are resorting to the barbarous tactics alleged. Until we have good evidence to the contrary we shall credit the official denial. Mr. Stead, if he has proof, should produce it; if he lacks proof, he should suspend his speechmaking until he secures it. The charge is too serious to be made recklessly, but Mr. Stead is notoriously reckless in his statements. There is a class of persons that shoot fire and ask questions afterward. Mr. Stead can hardly be placed in this class, for oftener than otherwise he just shoots and keeps on shooting. He has accomplished good in his time, but is oftener than not a mere scold and busybody in public matters.

Sporadic Cases of Smallpox.

There is no reason for uneasiness because a case of smallpox is occasionally reported by the health authorities, for the recent wide prevalence of that disease, fortunately in a mild form, is liable to be followed by sporadic manifestations that it has not been completely stamped out. The announcement that four cases have developed in a boarding house in Allegheny would in the past have created much alarm, but better knowledge of the disease and its causes have resulted in better management, and people now go about their business without the slightest trepidation even when cases of the disease are in their immediate vicinity. It would be folly, however, to ignore the necessity for vigilance under such circumstances, and upon health officers rests the responsibility for keeping these sporadic cases so well under control that they cannot become centers of widespread contagion. The experiences of the past few years have demonstrated that the health officers are alive to their duties.

The Deadly Oil Can.

The accident in Knoxville yesterday morning is a more than usually severe illustration of the great danger that attends the use of oil in the making of fires. Four sisters lie dead, victims of the explosion of an oil can and of the fire that followed, a terrible bereavement to fall upon a family without warning. Beside these four deaths, the mother is prostrated and the father has sustained a broken leg through a fall from the window. Only two members of the family of eight, daughters aged 11 and 13, escaped death or injury, and their sufferings, with those of their parents, must be intense. It is a case that commands deepest sympathy, and is at the same time another warning against the use of oil to stimulate the kitchen fire. Similar warnings have been many in the past, but they have failed to teach the needed lesson to all who ought to learn.

The New Sea Terror.

Not only was the submersion test of the Holland submarine torpedo boat a complete success in the particular that at the end of it the occupants of the vessel were in as good condition as when, 15 hours before, they sought the bottom, but it was also gratifying to the inventor and promoters in showing the superiority of the new to the old type of torpedo craft in bad weather. The ordinary torpedo boat is a fair weather fighter and sailor, and none too seaworthy under favorable conditions, as recent disasters abroad bear witness. Strength being of necessity sacrificed to speed, the boats depend on swiftness for success of attack and ability to escape, and are poorly fitted to cope with a storm. With the submarine type in the first place, nothing need be sacrificed to speed, as concealment by submersion answers every purpose; and in the second place the storms that play havoc on the surface are unfelt in the depths. When the crew of the Holland were released from their confinement they were astonished to find a fierce storm raging, of which they had been in absolute ignorance while under water. Being unaffected by storm these submarine terrors, if responsive to their steering and propelling machinery, and as capable as is claimed of offensive operations, will revolutionize naval warfare. One battleship costs much more than a score of submarine boats, but one submarine boat can transform a battleship into a scrap heap, if half that is claimed to have been demonstrated be true.

Weather and Prosperity.

Nature has come to the relief of Ohio river shippers. Some millions of bushels of coal and other freights that have been awaiting a shipping stage of water may now move south and the capital that has been tied up here be set free for local use if a sufficient number of pilots can be secured. Had it not been for the weather this capital would have remained tied up and men dependent on movements of river freights would have been compelled to look elsewhere for employment or remain idle. The slackwatering of the Ohio will correct this condition. The river business of this great community and points above on the Allegheny and Monongahela have for too long been dependent on mere weather conditions. It can and should have water all the year round regardless of dry spells.

See how things get twisted. "In effect it is now urged that Gov. Stone has been bribed," says the Philadelphia Record. Softly! Softly! Doesn't the Record know that the governor's postscript denied that he had been bribed? This is the only information that has been given the public on the subject of bribery, and the governor himself gave it. The Record is going behind the returns.

It is declared that Queen Wilhelmina has refused to pay her husband's old debts and that a family row is imminent as a consequence. Doubtless Wilhelmina feels that the present and future expenses of her consort are quite all she cares to pay for the privilege of being his wife.

King Edward seems inclined to resent the disposition of his subjects to Americanize his coronation by renting out the best London houses to Americans and by selling them their places in the front seats.

Rhode Island will come to the front this week as the donor of the White House turkey and will then drop back into another year of seclusion.

The country positively refuses to become excited over the premature presidential booms of aspiring and forehanded statesmen.

If Commander McCrea and his marines get a chance they will teach those South American toy soldiers what real fighting is.

Mr. Bryan's Commoner continues to intimate that the Democracy is in need of a strong oratorical leader in 1904.

Senator Wellington has bought a newspaper in a bull dog determination to prolong his own obsequies.

After all, that little affair in Central America promises to be only a semi-Colon.

Thanksgiving ought to put everybody into good humor for giftgiving later on.

There will be an attack upon Turkey all along the line this week.

New Castle's Gas Supply.

The New Castle manufacturer stands in no danger of a failure of his fuel supply. The gas-belt manufacturer is confronted by heavy loss in case the gas fails, since he must then pay high freight rates on coal, and incur the expense of a change in his fuel apparatus, as well. New Castle's coal supply is practically inexhaustible, and nearly all of the native coals are high in volatiles, being magnificently adapted to the production of gas. The development of a vast coal territory just across the Mercer county line makes New Castle's fuel advantage even greater, since the quality is of a high average and the proximity of the field so near as to insure a low railway tariff.—New Castle Herald.

All Gotham Gazes Through a Blue Drizzle

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Nov. 25, 1901.

New York had the blues today. Remains of the hurricane and rainstorm that tore things up yesterday and Saturday night splattered about the streets of the city today and put a damper upon business. Shoppers stayed at home and department store clerks were too languid to wait upon even the few customers that did appear. The goods on the shelves were clammy and the hair of the young women behind the counter would not stay in curl. There were oceans of mud on the principal thoroughfares and torrents of dirty water rushing through the gutters. The white wings were not much in evidence, because the Tammany street cleaning department has run out of money, and what is the use of cleaning the streets anyhow when there will be another administration January 1? So the streets have not been cleaned and New York is wallowing in mire. Tales of the havoc caused by the storm are the only gossip of idlers, and the remarkable thing is that there are any craft left in the harbor except where they were tightly tied up to the piers. The few ocean liners that have come in look as if they had had a melancholy time of it. They give the general impression from their appearance, of having been in a soaking rain for two or three days—as, indeed, they have. La Champagne of the French line has her own tale of woe. She arrived 36 hours behind time and her officers say they met the gale 450 miles out at sea early yesterday morning. The wind blew 75 miles an hour and there was a heavy rain. The ship looks as if she had been in a tempest for a week at least. When she got within a reasonable distance of Sandy Hook she ran into one of those cheerful fogbanks that are so common off the Hook and the passengers began to think they never would get to Broadway; but they did, and one of them said this afternoon that in this weather Broadway is not much more jovial than a Sandy Hook fog. But, then, the depressing weather had distorted his disposition, and, like everyone else in New York today, he gazed at the world through a blue drizzle.

The Crush Hat Not Banished.

Don't you believe the report that the opera or "crush" hat is not to be worn in New York. It may be true that there were more stiff silk hats at the horse show than those of the concertina variety, but they will not go any further. The argument has been advanced that a millionaire wears a silk hat where an ordinary man will roof himself in with a "crush," because the millionaire can afford to buy a new hat if he should happen to spoil the hat he is wearing, while the man whose income is not unlimited, and, perhaps, depends upon his own efforts, will take care of his hat, so that he may be able to wear it a dozen or a score of times in future. This may be true, but it is the observation of most of us that the millionaire—in America, at least—is too much a man of business deliberately to risk the smashing of his $12 Knox or Dunlap, when he can more easily wear a hat that will not be damaged if it is flattened. There are as many crush hats in Broadway and in theater lobbies tonight as ever there were, and the general sentiment was that the pancake hat is too convenient an article of dress to be lightly discarded, whatever horse show habitues may have to say about it.

Seth Low In an Auto Mix-Up.

And now the rampant auto has threatened the mayor-elect of Greater New York. Seth Low and George L. Rives were riding down town in an automobile today with a duly-licensed chauffeur at the lever, when the machine ran into a wagon at Bleecker street and Broadway. The mayor-elect was nearly thrown into the roadway and there was wild excitement for a few moments. Wheels were locked and the only thing perfectly free in connection with the accident was the wagon-driver's flow of profanity.

Tammany Trying to Save a Little.

Having recovered slightly from the shock of election day, Tammany officeholders are looking about them to see what they may get on the 1st of January. They will get little help from Mayor Low. They recognize this truth, but politicians who have studied the ground carefully can extract comfort from an apparently hopeless state of things, particularly when they are Tammany hall politicians. John W. Keller, who has been commissioner of charities for four years, thinks he would like to go into congress. He will try for the nomination for congress in the Seventh congressional district, which is in New York city, and if he can get it he will go to congress, for a nomination in that Tammany district is practically an election. Richard Croker is believed to favor Keller, although he may give the nomination to Perry Belmont. Keller is an able man, who has become exceedingly prominent in municipal matters since he gave up newspaper work when Tammany took hold, four years ago. He does not want to go back to editing, although he realizes that he might have to work harder as a congressman. Police Commissioner Murphy also wants the nomination.

Latest Bulletin from the Cherub.

The latest reports from the A. G. Vanderbilt mansion is that the new Vanderbilt baby is asleep. It matters not what time the bulletin is dated, because the baby has done nothing but sleep, except when he has been eating, since he was born last night. At last accounts his weight was eight pounds, and his personal description "a cherub." Mr. Vanderbilt, the father, was seen at the offices of the New York Central for a few minutes today, but he could not stand the pressure of congratulations and soon went home.

The Horse Show Handshake.

It is said that the horse show has left a new handshake in the city. As it is described by a person who professes to have studied it, the persons who intend to greet each other extend their hands palm downward until the tips of the fingers touch. Then they wiggle their hands slightly and the edifying ceremony is over. It may be true that there is such a handshake. We have plenty of fools in New York.

Signs of Tammany Demoralization.

Acting Police Captain Churchill, who has been terrorizing the divekeepers in the Bowery, seems to have got himself into trouble. He was called before Commissioner Murphy today and rebuked for alleged reflections on his superior officer, meaning "Big Chief" Devery. Churchill said he had not meant to be disrespectful, and he was allowed to go. The gossip is that Churchill will not be likely to close up dives as sharply as he has done, because it will give offense to some of the influential Tammanyites. It does not appear that there are any grounds for this statement, unless the interview he had with Commissioner Murphy may be regarded as such; but then, since election day Tammany has been so dazed that all kinds of motives and actions are ascribed to that rapidly evaporating organization. It is demoralization personified.

Croker Becomes a Visiting Man.

Richard Croker's disappearance from New York caused a great deal of conjecturing as to what had become of him. He was represented to have gone somewhere in company with a trunk and a dress-suit case, and his destination was placed anywhere between Wantage, England, and Cherry Hill, N. Y. It turns out that he is in Baltimore, the guest of John B. McDonald, the contractor who is building the rapid transit tunnel in this city. It is not often that Mr. Croker goes to another city as the house guest of anyone. He prefers to sojourn at a hotel, as a rule, so that he can do as he pleases without conventional restraint. At least that used to be his way. Possibly, since he has become an English squire, he has changed his views with his style of raiment.

Insolvent, But Jovial.

John B. Doris, the veteran showman, who is well known in Pittsburgh—as he is, in fact, in every city in the United States—was examined in supplementary proceedings today. A judgment has been obtained against him on account of a debt of $462, and the court wanted to know what resources Doris had. The showman laughed as he said that he had not a dollar, but that his debts would make a list reaching from the court room to Forty-second street. Doris has been connected with the production of several plays of a frivolous nature in the last year, but none of them were successful. For a number of years he was manager and owner of a museum in Eighth avenue, known as Doris' museum. He sold it to Mr. Huber, who is Fourteenth street keeps the only dime museum of any standing in this city. Doris says he has been in politics for the last three months, but is not making any money out of that joyous occupation. It looks as if his creditors would have a strenuous time in getting any money out of him at present.

Pittsburghers at the Horse Sale.

Harry Darlington, John D. Callery, W. D. Long and W. S. Steele were Pittsburghers in attendance at the opening of the big sale of fine horses in Madison Square Garden today. The sale will continue two weeks. The exact number of horses to be sold altogether is 995, according to the catalogue. Among them is the great trotting stallion Directum, 2:06¼. There was a very large attendance at the Garden today. Thomas W. Lawson of Boston, the "carnation and yacht man," bought the stallion Ponce de Leon, 2:13, for $6,500. It was the highest figure of the day.

A Winter Roof Garden.

Roof gardens are rather a chilly suggestion in this weather, but New York is not afraid of them. One of them is advertised to open on the 23d of December, so that it shall get the Christmas patronage, and it will be conducted in about the same way that it is in July. It is the glass structure on top of the New York theater, and to give it the proper twang, it is to be called the "Winter garden." Steam pipes run through the place and the management says it will be as warm up there as in a theater, and a great deal more cheerful. That remains to be seen, however.

How Coney Weathered the Gale.

Coney island is in a badly broken up condition today—broken up literally, for the storm of Saturday night and yesterday tore things from their fastenings and threatened for a time to pull old Coney up by the roots. The denizens of this world-famous resort are accustomed to hurricanes, and when they find any of their bathhouses, sidewalks, photograph galleries and summer hotels standing on dry land after a storm, they are disposed to congratulate themselves. The storm this time was one of the worst seen off this part of the coast for many years, but Coney did not suffer as much as it has in other tempests that were not so violent. The reason is that Coney islanders have ceased to trust Father Neptune at all, and, consequently, are always braced up for the worst. Were it not for this, there would hardly be any Coney island at all today, so far as buildings are concerned.

Dignity to Rule the New Regime.

That there will be not quite such a free-and-easy way of speaking of municipal officials under the new administration as has prevailed in Tammany times, was illustrated today in the lobby of a big Broadway skyscraper. A hurried newspaper man rushed up to an elevator starter, in all his magnificence of new blue suit and shining brass buttons, and inquired: "Can you tell me where I can find Jake Cantor?" The official was visibly pained and there was a distinct drop in the temperature as he answered icily: "Mister Jacob Cantor, president-elect of the borough of Manhattan, has an office on the ninth floor." None of your "Jake's" for a president of the borough under Mayor Low, even if it is allowed by Mayor Van Wyck.

Timely Aid for the Press Agent.

There was only one new thing at the theaters tonight. It was "The Unwelcome Mrs. Hatch," produced at the Manhattan theater, with Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske in the title role. There has been a great deal of discussion over this play (deftly worked up by the press agent), as to whether it was written by David Belasco or Mrs. Burton Harrison. The matter got into the courts and there was much interesting testimony. It does not appear that it was of any particular consequence to anyone, except Mrs. Harrison and Mr. Belasco, who wrote the piece; but the trouble in the courts set all New York talking about it, and thus gained the object of the management. There is no use of one putting on a new play in this city unless you can attract general attention your way beforehand.

SPEAKING OF THE GOVERNOR.

The least that can be said of Gov. Stone's action is that it is disgusting.—Greenville News.

It would be bad enough if the shame of all this fell alone on the governor. But the people of the commonwealth are compelled to most unwillingly share it with him, which makes it inconceivably awful. No public official has ever before fallen so low as this creature of the machine. No commonwealth has ever been dragged down to so low a level. —Harrisburg Patriot.

What Bigelow knows about Stone we can only surmise from the latter's remarkable "postscript." Brown, the deposed recorder, has been telling of the governor's efforts to persuade him to retire, offering him various inducements, which included an appointment to the supreme court. As time goes on we shall probably have some further revelations, though nothing more is needed to complete the dishonor which the governor has already earned. The practical question is simply whether these men intend to fight or to submit. Mr. Elkin's cause is probably ruined in any event.—Philadelphia Times.

The fact that Stone's cabinet will not desert him is sufficient cause to make the reading public extremely suspicious that there are more people than "Bill" Stone and "Bill" Flinn in the deal. The refusal of John P. Elkin, Stone's attorney general, to break away is opening Republican eyes all over the state. He may pretend ignorance or trump up some other cause, but the voters of Pennsylvania will not care one straw for either Stone's chief lieutenant with the executive mantle. The closeness to the betrayer has undoubtedly inoculated him (Elkin) so thoroughly that decent Republicans, and there are many, cannot and will not support him.—Connellsville Daily News.

There is no question that in carrying out this base intrigue Flinn had the pledge of Gov. Stone to remove Recorder Brown last summer. So certain were the Flinn adherents of it that they made bets on the removal, and those of the opposite faction who confided in the governor's integrity enough to take bets have lost their money. The only cause for the delay was in the fear of the effect of Recorder Brown's removal on the election in Allegheny county and on the vote for the governor's candidate for supreme judge. But in two weeks after the election the bargain is consummated, and the Flinn-Stone machine has arisen in the western end of the state.—Philadelphia Record.

After the spasm of virtue on his part in appointing so able and good a man to the office of recorder, one of the very best executives the city ever had, in whom all the people had confidence, he should at least have shown political consistency by standing by his own appointment. The people of the state will resent the action of Gov. Stone, and when the time comes will doubtless permit him to fall into the political oblivion he has invited for himself. It is a pity that the disgusted and outraged feelings of the people cannot be so framed into a demand as to cause the resignation of the governor. But he is not of the resigning kind. He will stick and continue to be as weak as formerly.—New Brighton News.

When Gov. Stone removed Major A. M. Brown from the recordership of Pittsburgh, replacing him with a leader of the old city ring that it was the purpose of the ripper bill to destroy, he did more ripping than he thought. He ripped himself out of the respect of the decent people of Pennsylvania. He ripped himself out of the confidence and fellowship of the organization that put him into the gubernatorial chair. He ripped himself out of a chance for election to the senate of the United States. The second-class city charter bill was enacted for the express purpose of breaking the power of the ring that misgoverned Pittsburgh for so many years. This ring was Republican in name, but supported the regular Republican organization only when its ends were served thereby. It was the Pennsylvania Tammany. The legislature proposed that this ring should be driven from power, and that a new executive head of the city, to be appointed by the governor, should fill the office by the appointment of good men, placing Pittsburgh's government on a business basis and conducting her affairs for the best interests of the people. In order that this reformation might be made complete and the overthrow of the ring made certain the legislature provided that a gubernatorially-appointed recorder should rule until 1903, when the people should choose his successor. Recorder Brown is doing exactly what the legislature intended that he should do. The last remnant of the old ring had been eliminated from the executive branch of the municipal government and indications pointed to its overthrow in the legislative branch at the spring election. In removing him, governor Stone shows the people of Pennsylvania that he is actuated by political motives of the basest and most selfish sort; that he places what he believes to be his political advantage above the wishes of the legislature and the best interests of the people. He has surrendered helpless Pittsburgh to the old ring, coupling this act with the publication of the most remarkable statement ever made by the Governor of a state—a statement that utterly fails to excuse him. Stone is evidently dealing for the support of Philadelphia and Allegheny counties in his campaign for the senate. In making his peace with the Flinn ring he has lost the support of every influential Republican who is opposed to Flinn and Flinnite methods. He has incurred the contempt of the regular organization of the party. He has made his election to the senate something that is impossible, short of a political miracle. It may be remarked that if John P. Elkin wishes the support of any of the regulars for governor, he must get out of the cabinet of William A. Stone.—New Castle Herald.

PERSONAL.

Louis Williams, representing the Green Brier distillery of Nashville, Tenn., is at the Anderson. "We have a fair trade in Pittsburgh," said Mr. Williams, "and it is increasing yearly. Rye whisky appears to be the favorite tipple in Pennsylvania, and it has been hard to place our goods in this market, as we make nothing but sour mash, and that only of the best grade. The bulk of our trade is in the northwest. Ohio and West Virginia are good buyers and we have a large jobbing trade in Chicago. The firm has been distilling Bourbon whisky since 1869. Our output is about 10,000 barrels a year. There has been a great improvement in the manufacture of sour mash whisky in the south in the last 20 years. Modern methods are now used, and as a result a much better whisky is made. The whisky we make is the oldest brand of Bourbon in the country."

E. B. Aslop of Pittsburgh and J. F. Hays of New Castle went out over the Pennsylvania railroad last night via Washington to Asheville, N. C. Mr. Aslop is president and Mr. Hays general manager of the Toxaway Company and also of the Transylvania Railway Company. "The Toxaway Company," which is composed of several Pittsburgh capitalists, has developed the Saphira country, which lies northwest of Asheville. The company has built three large hotels and is now preparing to build another hotel there," explained Mr. Aslop. "The Transylvania railway connects Hendersson with Brevard. The line is 30 miles long and will be extended another 10 miles. This part of the country," added Mr. Hays, "has the only lakes in the mountains, and each one of our hotels is built in the vicinity of a lake. The companies own 26,000 acres of land in the Saphira country, and Pittsburgh capital is helping to develop this part of the south."

W. B. Keller, representing the Reese-Hammond Fire Brick Company of Bellvar, Pa., is at the Henry. "The consumption of fire brick," said Mr. Keller, "in this country is very large. Pittsburgh, however, is the largest consumer of fire brick in the world. Four counties in Pennsylvania produce virtually all the fire brick that is manufactured. The counties are Clearfield, Cambria, Clinton and Clarion. We ship our product to all parts of the country and as far west as British Columbia."

Rev. Dr. D. S. Fouse, general superintendent of missions of the Reformed church, is at the Monongahela house. "The object of my visit to Pittsburgh," said Dr. Fouse, "was to select a site in Bellevue for a mission church. Acreage in that neighborhood is very high. A plot of ground 90x150 feet the owner asked $5,000 for. A similar plot in Chicago could be bought for much less money."

Lieut. Franklin R. Kenney of the One Hundredth company of coast artillery, stationed at Fort Perry, Long Island, returned last night to his duties after a leave of 30 days spent in Pittsburgh. Lieut. Kenney's father died a few weeks ago. Mrs. Kenney accompanied her son to Fort Perry.

Ralph Peters, general superintendent of the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis Railroad Company, and M. W. Mansfield, superintendent of the Indianapolis division of the same railroad, are registered at the Lincoln.

RURAL FACTS AND FANCIES.

Never borrow your neighbor's paper. There is no greater nuisance than a paper-borrower. If you are too penurious to subscribe and pay for your own paper, read the Bible. You need to.—Exchange.

J. E. Knepshield, accompanied by Andrew Novinger of Glipin township and Frank Grindler of Hyde Park, are out for a hunting trip in Potter county. They are after big game, so anything less than deer or bear will be perfectly safe. We expect venison for this.—Leechburg Advance.

A farmer who was in the city today said it looked bad for farmers who have not yet got their corn husked. It is said that 30 per cent of the corn grown in this vicinity is yet in the shock. If this is true there will be a lot of cold fingers before it is husked out. The weather was fine for such a long period that farmers thought it not necessary to rush their work. The result is that the corn crop has been neglected.—Canton News-Democrat.

Ira White, the well-known gardener, was a caller at our office recently, leaving us five fine turnips. They were not quite enough for our winter's supply, though the quintet averaged about four pounds each, weighing together almost 20 pounds. The largest measured 24 inches in circumference. Mr. White had quite a crop of these big turnips. For table use they are excellent.—Claysville Recorder.

John A. Bryan, a prominent farmer of near Ruffsdale, with his family visited friends in town yesterday. Our courteous friend paid the News office a call, which was duly appreciated. Mr. Bryan left in our charge a sack of fine apples and pears, which in goodness is only exceeded by the big-heartedness of the donor.—Scottdale News.

An editor works 365¼ days a year to get out 52 issues of a paper; that's labor. Once in a while somebody pays him a year's subscription; that's capital. Once in a while some son-of-a-gun takes the paper for a year or two and vanishes without paying for it; that's anarchy. But later on justice will overtake the last-named creature, for there is a place where he will get his just deserts.—Exchange.

Our faithful friend and guide;
Hath granted yield from vine and field
Rich comfort to provide.
Our feet He leads
Through verdant meads
The living streams beside.
And for His love we homage pay
To Him this blest Thanksgiving day.
With swelling song and glad acclaim
We come from fields and marts
To magnify His holy name
With humble, thankful hearts.
Through all the years
His help appears
With love that never departs.
For this we come and gladly lay
Our tributes this Thanksgiving day.
For all the Lord hath done for us
We chant a glad refrain
From coast to coast, from sun to sun,
From valley, hill and plain.
Our Shepherd, guide,
Whate'er betide
His love will still remain.
And bowing at God's throne we pray
His blessings this Thanksgiving day.

—Will M. Maupin, in Bryan's Commoner.

LATEST NEWS OF SOCIETY AND GOSSIP OF THE HOME

Society

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26.

A GOOD WOMAN—
"She looketh well to the ways of her household, and eateth not the bread of idleness." —Old Testament.

PENNSYLVANIA Daughters of the War of 1812 will honor the memory of the last martyred president on Thanksgiving day. A large bouquet of red and white carnations will be sent to Mrs. McKinley at Canton, with the request that on Thanksgiving day it be placed upon the tomb of her husband. The carnation, symbolizing faith and loyalty, is the flower adopted by the Daughters of 1812. A large proportion of the membership of the state society is found in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, the Dolly Madison chapter being the largest and strongest in the state, and the suggestion of the memorial on Thanksgiving day, the first Thanksgiving day since the tragedy in Buffalo, when the nation's thanksgiving is tinged with the sorrow of its latest bereavement, came from a Pittsburgh woman.

The officers of the state society, Daughters of the War of 1812, are Mrs. Sullivan Johnson, Pittsburgh, regent; Mrs. George W. Kendricks, Philadelphia, first vice regent; Mrs. Thomas McDowell Jones, Harrisburg, second vice regent; Mrs. George Conway Bent, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Reineman, Pittsburgh, secretary; Mrs. William H. House, Pittsburgh, registrar; Mrs. Henry Clay Marshall, Media, historian; Dr. Millie J. Chapman, Pittsburgh, surgeon general, and Dr. Henry Baker and Dr. E. H. Ward of Pittsburgh, chaplains.

The Dolly Madison chapter, Daughters of the War of 1812, held its regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the Twentieth Century club. Five new members were added to the group of patriotic women, making its membership now over 50. The new members whose applications were accepted by the chapter yesterday are Mrs. Frank Murdock, Miss Katherine C. Carnahan, Mrs. Andrew Gibson, Mrs. George Clarkson and Miss Julia Morgan Harding. Mrs. Gibson is a real daughter of the war of 1812, her father having taken an active part in the second struggle with England.

Yesterday afternoon the Pittsburgh Daughters were invited and urged to attend the meeting of the National society, Daughters of the War of 1812, which will be held in New York January 8, the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans. It will be an important business meeting and the social features will add much to the enjoyment of all those who will attend it. Mrs. Joseph W. Marsh, who returned 10 days ago from Kansas City, where she visited relatives, is regent of the Dolly Madison chapter, but was not present at the meeting yesterday, suffering from a severe cold and sore throat. Mrs. Sullivan Johnson, the state regent, presided in her absence.

The Meeting of Colloquium.

The Colloquium club held one of its most enjoyable meetings yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. William F. Abel in Murtland avenue, East End. The previously arranged program was completely changed. Miss Jennie McIlvaine read a paper on "Nicholas III. and His Court," and Miss Lydia Murdock discussed the Caurina, Alexandrina, and the Farnily." The literary program was followed by an exceptionally enjoyable musical, with Miss Augusta Abel, who recently returned from musical study in Germany, pianist; Miss Henrietta Kiel, soprano, and Miss Helen Kiel, accompanist.

Two new members were admitted to the club yesterday afternoon. They are Mrs. John W. Pontefract and Mrs. James C. Bennett. Among the other visitors present were Mrs. Black of Chester and Miss Grace Runnette.

The next meeting of the club will be held December 9 at the Pennsylvania College for Women, when the annual election of officers will take place. Next year the club will study the far east, including Japan and the Philippines. The first meeting, January 15, will be designated Pittsburgh day, and a very enjoyable program will be presented. In June a Pennsylvania day will be observed.

The Annual Pittsburgh Club Ball.

The annual ball of the Pittsburgh club will be held December 31, and will usher in the New Year. Invitations will be issued in a couple of weeks, the list of guests being under consideration at present. The ball will be at the club house in lower Penn avenue. The guests will be received in the assembly room, the married men of the board of governors and their wives forming the receiving party. They will include the president, William Nimick Frew, and Mrs. Frew, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Jones, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry R. Rea and Mr. and Mrs. J. Walter Rhodes. George W. Guthrie, the vice president of the club, and Mrs. Guthrie will not receive, as the family is in mourning for the death of Mrs. Howe. The unmarried men of the board of governors are E. Blair Painter, William J. Patton and Walter J. Mitchell. The Pittsburg club ball marks the heighth of the winter social season in Pittsburgh.

Entertaining a Trio of Guests.

The Misses McKay gave a large euchre party yesterday afternoon at their home, Oak Hill, Amberson avenue, Shadyside. Their honor guests were three young girls who are spending a couple of weeks at the McKay residence, Miss Drake of Corning, N. Y., Miss Rust of Saginaw, Mich., and Miss Gilchrist, also of Michigan. Tables for 70 players were scattered through the great reception hall, the drawing room and the library, and the most successful players won handsome prizes, several being presented by the young hostesses. The rooms were handsomely, though simply, decorated with potted plants and with flowers, whose colors harmonized with the rich furnishings. The guests included the younger girls in society.

A Nevin Recital.

The women of the Sewickley Methodist Episcopal church are planning for an entertainment in the church on Friday evening, November 29. It will be known as the Nevin recital and the program will contain some of the best musical talent of the valley. Among those who will participate in the program are The Nevin Mandolins and the Misses Helen Spencer, Margaret Adair, Annie Wallace and Ethel Christy. Mrs. John D. McCord, Miss Marion Gaston, Mrs. R. T. M. McCready, Miss McCready, Frank Walker, William Nevin and R. Cunningham. A biographical sketch of Ethelbert Nevin will be read by Mrs. George Gormley. The entertainment promises to be the best held in the valley for some time.

Will Wed Today.

One of the last of the fall weddings in Crafton is to take place this morning, with low nuptial mass in St. Philip's Roman Catholic church, Crafton, when Miss Irene Brown of Creighton avenue and John Henry Carr of New York will be married by the Rev. Father William Kelty, pastor of the church. The ceremony will be witnessed only by the immediate friends and relatives of the two young people. After their eastern wedding tour Mr. and Mrs. Carr will make their home in New York.

A Wedding This Week.

The marriage of Miss Martha Aiken of Allegheny and William W. Powell, Jr., will be solemnized tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. John Aiken. It will be a quiet home wedding. The bride and bridegroom-elect announce at home days after December 15 at their home in Sheffield street, Allegheny.

A Reading by Mr. Church.

The first entertainment in the lecture course at the Thurston Preparatory school this season will take place this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the school in Shady avenue, East End. The attraction for the afternoon will be a reading by Samuel Harden Church from his new poem, "Beowulf." The audience will be composed of the pupils of the school and invited guests.

A Churchly War of Roses.

"A War of Roses" will be given this evening in the North Presbyterian church, Lincon avenue, Allegheny, under the auspices of the ladies of the church. The novelty of name and entertainment, the women who are working for success expect, will make it as important a factor in church entertainments as was its prototype in English history. Many new and novel features are proposed to make this very up-to-date Thanksgiving sale and entertainment very attractive to all the people of the church and neighborhood.

Domino Whist for Miss Knox.

Miss Grace Aiken gave a small domino whist party yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Rebecca Knox, daughter of Attorney General P. C. Knox, and Miss Mohler of New York. The entertainment was given at the residence of Mrs. David Aiken in Amberson avenue, Shadyside, and was handsomely conducted. The tables were placed through the drawing rooms, which were decorated with flowers, and at each table prizes were awarded. Miss Knox and Miss Mohler have been spending a few days with Miss Grace Aiken, but return to Washington, D. C., today.

Notes of Society.

Mrs. John Jay Tinsdale gave a luncheon yesterday afternoon at her apartments in the Idaho, East End, in honor of Miss Rhule, formerly of Pittsburgh, who has spent the past year in New York. Covers were laid for 12.

The Women's Industrial society of the Methodist Episcopal church of Oakmont will give its annual supper and entertainment in the church on the evenings of December 5 and 6. A Christmas bazar will be one of the prominent features of the entertainment, whose object is the securing of funds for the purchase of a new carpet for the church.

Miss Lillie Strong of Scranton, state secretary of the Young Women's Christian association, was last night the guest of the Pennsylvania College for Women. In the evening she spoke in Dilworth hall before the Y. W. C. A. of the college.

The Misses Valonia and Mary E. Forse gave a pretty afternoon tea at their home in Morewood avenue, Shadyside, yesterday.

Mrs. William J. Askins entertained the members of the social committee and the officers of the New Era club at luncheon yesterday afternoon at her home in Howe street.

New Heir to Vanderbilt Millions.

Mrs. Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt, Mother of the Young Multi-Millionaire.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Mrs. Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt and the youngest Master Vanderbilt—yet unmarried—are reported tonight to be quite well. Mrs. Vanderbilt has been a mother since 10 o'clock last evening and her progress toward recovery is entirely satisfactory. Dr. Erwin A. Tucker, the family physician, announces that the son and heir is lively, and that he weighed nine pounds at birth.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt was graduated from Yale university in 1899. Out of the estate of Cornelius Vanderbilt he received $60,000,000. Miss French was the daughter of Francis Osmond French, who had made a fortune in the hotel business in this city. Miss French had in her own right about $4,000,000. She had been a a leader in the best society circles, and the engagement met with favor with both families.

THE FESTIVAL OF THANKSGIVING.

Fruits of all kinds, in coat rough, or smooth rind, or bearded husk, or shell, she gathers tribute large, and on the board heaps with unsparing hand.

A Thanksgiving dinner of "ye olden tyme" would rather dismay the good housewife of today and cause her to wonder how our dear old Puritan ancestors could find room for all the good things that constituted the bill of fare deemed necessary for a fitting celebration on that day of days.

In those days the religious ceremonies were the most prominent feature of these celebrations, and not the dinner, as is almost universally the case in our days.

While the preparations for the colonial Thanksgiving were on such generous scale, there was little expense entailed, compared to the getting up of such a feast in the present time, for the father of the family had but to take down his fowling piece and go into the woods, abounding in choicest game, and return loaded with all the meats needed for a royal feast. The old-time housewife knew nothing of cold-storage meats and still less of the scientific knowledge of household chemistry. The simple Puritan mode of living, the difference in nature of food provided for the more primitive man, and the more hygienic surrounding generally, made the need of a deeper knowledge on the food question less essential than now the so-called thing in. fluences of civilization have produced a nation of nervous dyspeptics, along with other notable and more to be desired results.

Modern Thanksgiving.

Little of the old-time significance of the day now remains, although it is quite as befitting the present that we, as a greatly favored nation, pause for a becoming length of time to manifest outwardly to all the world that we are not unmindful of great blessings so generously bestowed, that we realize that:

"The grace of God is free,
Before, behind, and on every hand,
Enwheels us round."

The family still clinging to its beloved traditions cannot omit this day unless they live up to the old-time customs so dear to their hearts, and for this one brief season will set aside or ignore their adopted laws of hygiene, made necessary in these days of living, and excuse the digression and accept the penalty with becoming fortitude, comforting themselves as did the boyish culprit when brought to punishment for broken rules, with the fact that "they had the good time first."

To give a very decided suggestion of colonial times you must have your menu made up largely of those that graced the first Thanksgiving meal. If these are not sufficient to complete the list of dishes desired you can elaborate by judiciously combining with the typical dishes any of the every-day delicacies approved of by the present generation.

As our Puritan ancestors are said to have depended almost entirely on oysters, clams, wild game, which then included turkey, succotash and maize, these foods must, of course, be included in the menu, and prepared as nearly as possible as our grandmothers used to cook them; if we wish to heighten the effect of the pretence that we are living over again "those good old times." If our more modern teachings and tastes disapprove of this idea, we can modify the menu to suit our 20th century views and still retain the foods that suggest the colonial feast.

A Colonial Dinner.

To heighten the impression still further, ransack your attic treasures. If your modern habits allow you to still "have and to hold" such "trash," and bring forth every quaint and curious relic of grandsire's time; give it a place of honor in the dining or living room.

A most entertaining and useful object lesson in history might be given the children of the family with these utensils and furnishings of those days of the infant history of our lusty nation.

Old-Fashioned Pumpkin Pie.

This was a delectable dish as our grandmothers made it.

Select a deep yellow, fine grained pumpkin; pare, cut into convenient pieces and cook slowly. When tender, put into a cloth and squeeze out every bit of water. Then mash and beat fine with two tablespoonfuls of butter. For each cup of pumpkin, mashed, allow two eggs well beaten and milk enough to make it thin enough to pour like custard (a little over a cup of milk to each cup of pumpkin pulp). Season to taste with a little salt, mace, cinnamon, nutmeg and ginger, but not enough to make the custard dark. Sweeten to taste. Bake same as custard pies, until the custard is set and a nice golden brown.

Chestnut Pudding.

Boil one pound of shelled chestnuts for a few minutes to loosen the brown skin, then throw into cold water; remove the skin, then boil the chestnuts in milk until soft enough to press through a sieve. Add to this puree the beaten yolks of six eggs, one pint of rich, sweet cream, six tablespoonfuls of sugar. Stir over the fire until near the boiling point; then add three-fourths of a package of gelatine softened in cold water. Stir until gelatine dissolves in the mixture. Remove from the fire; add a teaspoonful of vanilla; set the mixture over cracked ice and stir until it begins to thicken. Then have a mold wet with cold water; pour in enough of the mixture to cover the bottom to depth of half an inch. When this is firm enough cover with a layer of pineapple and citron cut into dice. Over this place thin slices of sponge cake moistened with orange juice. Then add another layer of the cream, then the fruit and cake, and so on until all the cream is used, having top layer of cream. Set in a cold place for two or more hours. Serve with vanilla sauce. The fruit and cake must not be placed too near the sides of the mold, as the cream mixture must be allowed to run down at sides and so encase the other materials. Just before sending to the table cut down a slice so the layers will be exposed to view. Candied cherries may be used instead of the citron or both added to give more color.

PRISCILLA'S PENCIL.

A Bunch of Violets—
Given by a pretty girl to a ragged street boy on Saturday night found an unexpected resting place. As soon as the boy's eyes lighted on them his face grew so wistful that the girl who wore them could not resist, having a weakness for small and grimy newsboys. When they were laid in his hand he could hardly speak his thanks, and hustling his papers at a discount to a companion, he hurried up through the rain to an alley house, through whose narrow window might be seen two candles burning, fulfilling the pathetic message spoken by the white crepe on the door. The newsboy, with primitive instinct, straightened his hair by running his fingers through it, pulled down a disordered sleeve and tiptoed past the door to the room where the candles were. A woman sat in the corner, her toil-worn hands folded in her lap, her eyes red with weeping, while from an adjoining room came the sound of voices in mingled talk and laughter.

In the little white coffin before the candles lay a baby—such a poor, pinched morsel of a baby that one involuntarily gave thanks for its transplanting to the land where there is no suffering. There were a few flowers on the table, and one withered little hand held a white rosebud. The boy slipped up very quietly and laid the fragrant violets close to the little white feet hidden under a drapery of the dress.

He looked a minute at the closed and sunken eyes, and then, as he slipped out as softly as he had come, he told another boy that "Jim Turner's little sister, she was goin' to be buried without any shoes, and I jist put some flowers there so no one would notice it."

A Chubby Boy—
On an East End bound car the other night was exceedingly restless and unmanageable, until a rosy-faced old gentleman took up the task of entertaining him. "What do you want for Christmas?" said the old gentleman, smiling kindly. The boy looked with round, solemn eyes, and answered in a voice loud enough to be heard all over the car:

"I want a hammer, a dreat bid one, and I want a board and I want whole lots of nails, and I want to be allowed to bang and bang and bang." In the general laugh which followed there was more than one sympathetic masculine understanding of the desire.

A Japanese Teacup—
Brought last winter from Japan played chief part in a pretty romance which will be consummated by a January wedding. The cup has no ordinary saucer, but is set on a square plate, slightly extended at one edge, to allow small cakes to be put on it. The proud owner always brought it forth on special tea occasions, and recently she gave it to a very eligible young man to carry to the bright particular girl of the afternoon. The young man was so intent on the girl that he let the cup slip and spill all of its contents over her silvery grey afternoon frock. Going down on his knees he tried to wipe up the disaster, but in vain, and the girl looked so sympathetic that he whispered a request to be allowed to kneel always at her feet. Presumably it was granted, for it was at the engagement tea that the story came out, when the fiancee begged her friend to make a wedding present of the Japanese cup and blushingly gave her reasons.

The Thanksgiving Girl—
Will wear red for the home dinner or for the evening party, bright cherry or cranberry red, with no other color, save perhaps a bit of cream ribbon or lace about the neck. Red for Thanksgiving, white for Christmas and yellow for New Years is the unwritten rule which the sentimentalities are imposing of late years, endeavoring in the color of their frocks, as Gallileune says we should do, to express the cheer of the Puritan festival, the purity of Christmas joy and the ardent hope for the new year.

HOUSEKEEPERS' NOTEBOOK.

In wiping a polished floor, water should never be used. An oiled cloth is the proper thing to remove stains and preserve the polish.

To remove obstinate stains from a cook stove, wipe with a cloth dipped in kerosene. Indeed, a stove daily given such a rub will never need the dubious aid of stove polish to preserve its good looks.

A silence cloth on a table should be cut the size of the table, never folded under. It is far better to have two cloths of different sizes than to have the unwieldy edge, always given where a cloth is folded.

To preserve lemons fresh keep them in a jar covered with cold water, which must, however, be changed once a week or more.

A dust of nutmeg sprinkled over boiled beef just before it is sent to the table will improve the flavor.

To make a savory sauce for cold meat, hash an onion, a cove of garlic, a bit of parsley, a pinch each of sage, sweet marjoram and summer savory, a bit of nutmeg, some salt and peper and brown delicately in butter. Then add a cup of stock and set on the back of the stove to simmer. Pour over the meat.

The Duty of Mothers.

What suffering frequently results from a mother's ignorance; or more frequently from a mother's neglect to properly instruct her daughter!

Tradition says "woman must suffer," and young women are so taught. There is a little truth and a great deal of exaggeration in this. If a young woman suffers severely she needs treatment, and her mother should see that she gets it.

Many mothers hesitate to take their daughters to a physician for examination: but no mother need hesitate to write freely about her daughter or herself to Mrs. Pinkham's Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., and secure from a woman the most efficient advice without charge.

Mrs. August Pfalzgraf, of South Byron, Wis., mother of the young lady whose portrait we here publish, wrote in January, 1899, saying her daughter had suffered for two years with irregular menstruation—had headache all the time, and pain in her side, feet swelled, and was generally miserable. She received an answer promptly with advice, and under date of March, 1899, the mother writes again that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her daughter of all pains and irregularity.

A Wineglassful of Health

Is your stomach disordered? Is your digestion impaired? Are you in a weak and run-down condition? Are your nerves out of order?

If so, take a wineglassful of Johann Hoff's Malt Extract three times a day with meals. One dozen bottles of contains more strengthening and stimulating properties than a whole cask of ale or porter.

JOHANN HOFF'S Malt Extract

BE SURE TO GET THE GENUINE JOHANN HOFF'S.

The late Prof. D. Hayes Agnew advised as follows: "Get a case of the genuine Johann Hoff's Malt Extract and use it freely and liberally. No small wineglass doses, but a good half tumblerful with every meal, and you will not have cause to regret it."

JOHANN HOFF'S MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

NO BOMBARDMENT ON THE ISTHMUS

Uncle Sam, Through the Navy, Lays Down the Law to Both Regulars and Revolutionists at Colon and Panama.

UNITED STATES MARINES PATROLLING THE RAILROAD

(SPECIAL TO PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—Bombardment of Colon by the government forces of Colombia or bombardment of the city of Panama by the insurgent troops, will not be permitted by the United States men-of-war stationed at those points. The United States has thus taken a hand in the hostile situation prevailing on the isthmus and is prepared to forcibly preserve the freedom of transit under its treaty obligations. An unofficial dispatch says it was the intention of the Colombian gunboat Pinzon to bombard Colon today.

A year ago Assistant Secretary Hill, acting secretary, wired Consul General Gudger, directing him to inform the insurgents that the United States would not permit bombardment of Panama. There has been no change in the American attitude, and it is added that there is absolutely no difference between the situation at Colon and that at Panama.

Late advices came in a dispatch received by Secretary Long from Capt. Perry of the Iowa, who has made a trip across the isthmus from Panama to Colon, from which place he sent a telegram, this extract of which the secretary made public.

"Capt. Perry reports that free transit across the isthmus is restored and that he returns to Panama this afternoon. The captain will leave a guard on each passenger train for the present."

Roosevelt and Long Agree on Course

Comprehensive advices in the department today regarding the situation from their representatives on the ground and the light they furnished, enabled the president and Secretary Long to agree upon instructions to the naval officers covering possible developments. Commander McCrea cabled the navy department that he had forbidden the bombardment of Colon until non-combatants had an opportunity to leave the city.

Consul General Gudger reported that serious interruption of railroad traffic has occurred, but later advised Secretary Hay that the government forces had defeated the rebels, presumably near Empire, an important station of the railroad, and that the railroad is running without obstruction. The battle near Empire is preliminary to the movement on Colon, information of which was received by Mr. Herran, Colombian charge d'affaires. From Capt. Perry this dispatch was received:

"Alban (governor of Panama), with 600 men, fighting rebels on line near Empire. Transit in danger of interruption. With detachment of men I have gone to make the transit clear and establish detachments to keep it so."

Consul Gudgers' latest dispatch, which came after 11 o'clock, was about as follows:

"Our troops have arrived at Matachin, one-half of the way across the isthmus. No obstruction, and Colombian government seemed to be victorious over the insurgents."

Reinforcements for Uncle Sam.

In view of the exciting conditions prevailing on the isthmus, the authorities were glad to learn today of the arrival of the gunboat Marietta at Colon. Commander F. H. Delano, who commands the Marietta, is senior to Commander McCrea of the Machias, and will therefore assume general command of affairs at Colon. The gunboat Concord will arrive in a few days at Panama. This force is ample, the authorities believe, to protect American interests and to preserve freedom of transit.

The secretary of the navy telegraphed Captain Perry of the Iowa, whose marines have already landed, to assume full command of all the United States naval forces on both sides of the isthmus in order to insure harmonious operations.

Under instructions from the state and navy departments, the consular and naval officers of the United States at Colon and Panama have issued proclamations calling attention to the treaty obligations of the United States and warning all persons against making any attempt to interrupt traffic. Railroad property in Panama and Colon and the wharves and piers at those ports also have been placed under American protection.

Mr. Herran, charge d'affaires of the Colombian legation, today received the following cable dispatch: "Rebel army completely defeated at Culebra and Emperador. Governor marched last night upon Colon. Traffic interrupted yesterday, but will be re-established today."

Mr. Herran earlier in the day received a dispatch from the acting governor of Panama stating that the new governor, Gen. Alban, had started with a considerable government force to operate against Colon and Lines. It is the expectation of the Colombian authorities to combine this land movement with that of the force on board the gunboat Pinzon and thus be able to recapture the town of Colon.

COLON, Nov. 25.—An armed guard of marines from the United States battleship Iowa has re-established the transit across the isthmus, and details from the Iowa's marines are now protecting each passenger train.

There has been fierce fighting at Empire station, on the railroad line between Panama and Colon, between the insurgents and the troops of the Colombian government, with very heavy losses on both sides.

Colon Given a Bad Scare.

The government troops are attacking the Liberals at Culebra. The result, so far, is not known.

The government gunboat, Gen. Pinzon, left her anchorage close to the other warships last night and it was reported she was landing troops on the north end of Colon. There was much commotion in the streets today. People sought refuge on board the United States gunboats Marietta and Machais, along the railroad and on the piers.

At a conference held at 1 o'clock this morning on board the British cruiser Tribune, at which Gen. Ignacio Felisco, Senor de la Rosa, secretary of Gen. Diaz, and the commanders of the foreign warships were present, the general agreed not to land troops there or open fire on the town before 6 o'clock Friday evening.

The Fighting at Empire.

COLON, Nov. 25.—Yesterday morning at 10 o'clock the schooner Clapet and a railroad barge returned to Panama bringing 350 men from Chorrera, being the remainder of Gen. Alban's expedition. Great crowds gathered at the wharf to witness the landing of the soldiers. They were received with bands of music, but the music sounded mournful and the airs sounded more like a funeral march than the joyful strains of welcome to a victorious army. Gen. Alban was slightly wounded during the fighting.

At 2:30 yesterday afternoon, at the head of 700 men, Gen. Alban left Panama by train for Empire station, where the Liberals were reported to be in fairly strong numbers. His purpose was to surprise and rout them. The train bearing these troops was held up just before it arrived at Culebra station, the Liberals opening fire on Alban's advance guard. Alban disembarked his men from the train, which returned to Panama.

The fighting at Culebra lasted from 4:40 until 9 p. m. The Revs. Loveridge and Jacobs, Baptist and Wesleyan ministers, respectively, narrowly escaped being shot. Their houses in Culebra were riddled with bullets.

Many Dead and Wounded.

The government troops advanced and the fighting was stubborn all along the railroad line until Empire station, a mile and a half distant, was reached. The Liberals retreated slowly, Alban's men following them until Matachin station was reached. Here Gen. Alban met and conferred with Capt. Perry of the Iowa, who was returning from Colon on an armored train. It is understood that Capt. Perry will not allow the railroad to transport troops, consequently, Gen. Alban and his men were forced to push ahead on foot. It is said here they thus reached San Pablo, where the Liberals are in force, and that fighting is taking place there. The Liberals are under the command of Gen. Lugo.

The Liberals fought for about four hours before beginning their retreat, and then contested every foot of the way to Empire, which is about a mile and a half from Culebra. Some of the houses in Culebra were badly damaged and many civilians were in danger.

Between the stations of Culebra and Empire over 150 killed and wounded men could be seen along the track. There is no proper Red Cross organization, and the wounded lack care. Liberals at Colon declare the majority of the men killed on the line are Conservative troops, and that the rebels are still in force along the railroad.

Three hundred of the Iowa's marines were landed at 4:30 yesterday afternoon at Panama to protect the property of the railroad and to insure the continuance of transit across the isthmus.

The breastworks on the railroad bridge that leads into Panama, as well as those erected inside the city, have been demolished by the government.

SUSPECT OUR MOTIVES.

Think Uncle Sam Means to Seize the Isthmus of Panama if Given an Opportunity.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—All the morning papers discuss South American affairs. The Daily Telegraph says: "The United States are acting in strict accordance with their diplomatic rights; but they may find it extremely difficult to adhere to their ideal program."

The Daily News says: "All this plays straight into the hands of the United States, and that energetic power has not been slow to take advantage of it by forceful acts, which may at any moment develop into an occupation of the isthmus."

The Morning Post, which hardly expects the isthmian squabbles to have any serious effect upon the relations between the great powers, says: "Germany will not indulge in any special risks or exertions over a mere point of honor in the Venezuelan dispute. Without expressing an opinion on the abstract justice of the United States to control the isthmus, we believe no single power is likely to oppose it. The Monroe doctrine is hardly likely to be contested so long as the European powers are divided among themselves."

BRAVE INFANTRY OFFICER'S HOT FIGHT WITH REBESL.

Orders a Charge and Rides at Them Before His Men Get Into the Action.

MANILA, Nov. 25.—Second Lieutenant J. Van Schaick of the Fourth infantry, while scouting with a few men of that regiment, met 150 insurgents who had attacked and sacked the harlet of Siaraca, near Cavite.

Upon seeing the Filipinos, Van Schaick ordered his men to charge them. The command was obeyed and Van Schaick being mounted reached the insurgents 20 yards in advance of his men. He killed three of them with his revolver. An insurgent fired his rifle point blank at Van Schaick at four paces, but missed. Lieut. Van Schaick was then knocked from his horse. He jumped to his feet and engaged in a hand-to-hand conflict with the enemy, using the butt of his revolver. He sustained two severe wounds, one of which nearly severed his wrist. At this point the lieutenant's men arrived, rescued him and put the insurgents to flight.

Gen. Hughes, commander of the department of the Visayas, reports that negotiations are about completed for the surrender of the insurgent leader Samson on Bohol island.

SIR THOMAS WILLING TO CHALLENGE AGAIN FOR AMERICAN CUP

YANKEES PLAYED FAIR

LONDON, Nov. 25.—"Should no one else challenge, I am willing seriously to consider making another attempt to lift the cup."

This announcement was given out by Sir Thomas Lipton at the banquet given at the Hotel Cecil in his honor tonight, and which was attended by more than 400 guests. "It would never do," added Sir Thomas, "to give up when only a pulse beat came between us and victory."

The reception to the challenger for the America's cup was marked with the greatest enthusiasm and all classes were represented at the banquet this evening. Lord Tweedmouth acted as chairman and proposing the health of President Roosevelt, he referred to his versatility as a politician, statesman, sportsman and writer. President Roosevelt's name was greeted with tremendous applause, although only a few Americans were present. These included Gen. G. B. Williams of Washington, Reginald Ward of New York, who has lived in London of recent years, and Eugene Zimmerman, father of the present Duchess of Manchester.

Sir Thomas' speech was the feature of the evening. He maintained the excellence of the Shamrock II., and that a wee bit of luck would have turned the tables. "It was only a matter of the toss of the coin," said Sir Thomas. "We raced over a hundred miles and the decision was only a matter of seconds, which goes to show that we are justified in believing we can build boats to bring back the cup."

Sir Thomas paid warm tribute to W. G. Jameson, the yachtsman, to Designer Watson and to Capt. Sycamore of the Shamrock II., as well as to the challenger's crew. He declared nothing could have exceeded the fairness of the Americans. "They made everything easy," said Sir Thomas, "except the trifling matter of lifting the cup (laughter), while the perfect manner in which the course was kept clear was little short of marvelous."

While Sir Thomas paid glowing compliments to the United States, he confessed his chagrin at being unable "to put on that table the famous old mug."

He offered both the Shamrocks as trial boats to any Britisher anxious to challenge, and closed his remarks with the declaration that he would be willing to make another attempt for the cup should no one else do so, and expressing his confidence that the third Shamrock would have the luck of the three-leafed shamrock.

Lord Tweedmouth, proposing Sir Lipton's health, said the yachtsman's influence and sportsmanlike conduct had done much to clear the mists of misunderstanding between the two countries and paved the way to the Nicaraguan canal agreement. "We have shown the world," said Lord Tweedmouth, "that we can achieve the end desired, one side granting concessions without disgrace and the other side accepting these concessions without defiance."

Among those present at the banquet were Denny J. Lawrence, M. P.; T. P. O'Connor, M. P.; Henry C. Richards, M. P.; the Rt. Hon. Sir Francis Jeune, Sir George Henry Lewis, the Hon. Charles Russell, Baron Stern; Col. Knollys and Sir Thompson. Miss Russell sang during the evening.

LATINS AGAINST ANGLO-SAXONS

MADRID, Nov. 25.—(Special Cable.)—The daily press approves the attitude of the Hispano-American delegates against the United States and the Pan-American congress, hoping it will lead to a closer union of the Latin races against the Anglo-Saxons.

CHARITY IN LONDON BADLY MISAPPLIED

Well-to-Do Children Drawn Into Sunday Schools By Free Dinners.

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Indiscriminate provision of dinners for underfed school children was hotly denounced in an influential gathering of educators and charity organizers this evening in the Royal United Service institution. It is asserted that the parochial clergy in many districts of London give daily dinners to all children applying, irrespective of their necessities, the object being the filling of Sunday schools. Sir Arthur Clay thus remarks:

"This form of charity is peculiarly dangerous unless administered only after an adequate investigation, and such a safeguard ought to be provided in the interests of all concerned. It is the donors' right to know that their gifts are properly distributed. It is obviously all wrong that children should be tempted with offers of unnecessary relief and to look for charity instead of their parents' food. Parents, too, ought not be subjected to temptation and neglect their first important duty, and, further, they have a right to know when it is proposed to give charitable assistance to their children, and to decide whether to accept the same. At present many children are fed without the parents' knowledge."

DISMISSED FROM THE ARMY.

Emperor William Punishes Col. Von Reisswitz for Not Preventing Blaskowitz Duel.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—German newspapers assert that Baron Von Reisswitz has been summarily dismissed from the army by order of Emperor William.

Baron Von Reisswitz was colonel of the regiment in which Lieut. Blaskowitz, who was recently killed in a duel with a brother officer, had served. The action was taken because Baron Von Reisswitz did nothing to prevent the duel in which Blaskowitz was killed.

THE EMPIRE OF THE AIR

(SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.)
(Copyright, 1901, by the New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, Nov. 25.—M. Santos-Dumont heard his praises sung with no uncertain voice at the dinner tendered to him last night at the Hotel Metropole by the Aero club of the United Kingdom. All present united in praising his wonderful work and enthusiasm ran high.

The first speaker was the Brazilian minister, who, after expressing his great satisfaction that the young inventor was a Brazilian, assured his hearers that the name of Santos-Dumont would live in history as that of the first man who had navigated a flying ship across and against the wind.

Col. Templer said the whole British people would join in wishing M. Santos-Dumont's future efforts might be crowned with the success he so richly deserved.

In replying, M. Santos-Dumont said: "This reception which has been accorded to me will encourage me to return next summer after my aerial voyage from France to Corsica. I shall then be happy to make some trials in steerable airships above London."

M. Santos-Dumont then proposed the success of the Aero club and drank to the health of the British nation, "which, after gaining the empire of the seas, already aspires, thanks to the Aero club, to the empire of the air."

MISS WACKERMAN VIOLENT.

She Made an Attempt to Throttle an Attendant and Is Placed in a Padded Cell.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Miss Helen Vanderbilt Wackerman of New York, who was taken to St. Giles' Infirmary November 13 as a wandering lunatic, is now in Claybury Asylum, Woodford, Essex, which is controlled by the London county council. She was removed to the asylum after a desperate attempt to kill a nurse belonging to the infirmary, whom she almost succeeded in throttling. Miss Wackerman is now in a padded cell, but Mrs. Wackerman, who has visited her daughter, said today that she seemed to be improved.

Mrs. Wackerman paid a long visit to the American consulate this afternoon. She has been advised that no steps to obtain the release of her daughter are feasible at present.

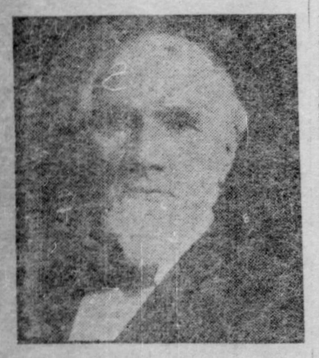
THE DEATH ROLL.

Patrick Kane.

After an active business life, lasting more than a half century, Patrick Kane, one of the oldest and best known residents of Western Pennsylvania, has passed from the scene of his earthly labor. His death took place at 2 o'clock yesterday at his home, 1800 Butler street. On July 12 he suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which he never fully recovered, and a second stroke on Sunday resulted in his death. Mr. Kane was born in County Kerry, Ireland, in 1827. He received his education at Pembroke abbey, in his native county. He came to Pittsburgh in 1848 and secured his first employment as a clerk with the Adams Express Company, where he remained for 15 years. After leaving the employment of the express company Mr. Kane purchased the livery stable of the late John McKeown, on Grant street, which he conducted for a number of years. He later engaged in the grocery business in company with his brother, the late M. C. Kane. About 20 years ago he retired from active business to give his attention to the management of his real estate. From 1861 to 1866 he was a member of select council of Pittsburgh, in which body he took an active part. He was a director in the Nations Trust Company, whose failure caused so much hardship a quarter of a century ago, and he paid all the assessments levied against him, although in order to do so he sacrificed a large portion of his fortune. He was one of the incorporators of the City Savings bank and was a director of that institution from its beginning until its merging a few months ago into the City Trust Company. He was one of the organizers of the City Insurance Company. He was at the time of his death a director of the City Trust Company. Mr. Kane took an active interest in all matters relating to the Catholic church, of which he was a member. He was one of the founders of the St. Paul's Orphan asylum in Tannehill street. He was an incorporator of the Calvary cemetery and also was a trustee of St. Mary's church, Lawrenceville. He was a member from Pennsylvania of the Catholic congress of the World's Fair at Chicago. He was married in 1861 to Miss Byrne, eldest daughter of John P. Byrne, a merchant of Philadelphia. He leaves a widow and four sons, William J., John E., Leo and Michael, and three daughters, Mrs. C. A. Fagan and the Misses Annie and Josephine Kane.



Patrick Kane.

Sister Mary Mercedes.

Sister M. Mercedes, aged 28 years, died at the convent of Our Lady of Charity, on Troy Hill yesterday after a short illness. She had entered the convent but a short time before her death, and to the world was known as Alice Mayhard. She is the daughter of Elizabeth and the late John Mayhard of No. 55 Lowrie street. She was born and reared within a short distance of the place at which her death occurred. She is survived by her mother and four sisters, Eugenie and Lida, teachers in the Thirteenth ward schools, this city, and two younger sisters.

Mrs. Valeria A. Shaffer.

CARNOT, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Mrs. Valeria A. Shaffer, aged 29 years, wife of Dr. J. A. Shaffer of Carnot, Pa., died Sunday night. She was born at Seventy-Six, Beaver county, Pa., being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Reid of that place, who survive her. She is also survived by her husband and four children.

Mrs. Margaret Brady.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Mrs. Margaret Brady, a former resident of Allegheny, where she made her home with her son, T. J. Brady, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Annie Coyle, at this place Sunday morning, aged 70 years. Her remains will be taken to Pittsburgh tomorrow for interment in St. Mary's Catholic cemetery.

John Best.

LANCASTER, PA., Nov. 25.—John Best proprietor of Best's boiler and engine works and one of Lancaster's best known and most successful business men, died this evening, aged 81 years, from the effects of a stroke of paralysis.

Henry Ostendorf.

Henry Ostendorf, a dairyman of Crab Hollow, Penn township, died suddenly at his home yesterday at noon, it is supposed from heart disease. He was 61 years old.

Obituary Notes.

John F. Neely, Sr., is dead at his home, West View, Ross township. He was in his 72d year. He was born and reared in Ross township, and for a number of years had been living a retired life.

Mrs. Robert Smith, proprietor of the "Old Stone tavern," in the West End, is dead. Her husband and brother died within the past few weeks, and this, with the infirmities of old age, hastened her death.

A COOL WOMAN, IF MURDERESS

All Witnesses Concur In Saying She Was Composed After the Tragedy.

STAR WITNESS PROVES A DISAPPOINTMENT

Tells Nothing That Was Not Developed at the Inquest--The Mysterious Figure Seen Walking Along Fire Escape After Shots.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—The trial of Mrs. Lola Ida Bonine for the murder of James Seymour Ayres, Jr., at the Kenmore hotel last May, began in real earnest today. The preliminary details as to the finding of the body, the location of the furniture and blood stains, were all in with the conclusion of the testimony of J. F. Drew, the Capitol policeman, who was on the stand when the court adjourned last Friday.

Baker, the man who saw Mrs. Bonine descend the fire escape; Hopkins, who roomed over Ayres and raised the first outcry; Miss Woolums, who roomed under Ayres, and Miss Lawlers and Miss Minas, who roomed on either side of him, testified today. The two latter were regarded as star witnesses, but they testified to no facts not developed at the inquest.

Drew testified that there was room enough behind the door of Ayres' room for a man to have been there while the door was opened to admit another person, a contention which the prosecution deny, and also that there were empty cartridges in the slop jar in Ayres' room before the pistol with which the shooting was done was emptied by Officer Brady after the tragedy. This would tend to establish the theory of defense that the pistol belonged to Ayres.

No Evidence of Ill-Feeling.

Miss Minas testified that Ayres and Mrs. Bonine ate ice cream and cake in her room the night before the tragedy, and that at that time there was no evidence of ill feeling between them.

Mrs. Bonine throughout the trial today, when witnesses described the cries, groans, and throat gurgling of the dying man, remained absolutely unmoved.

It has been learned that Mrs. Bonine a few years ago lived at Greensburg, Pa., for several months, her husband being an agent.

J. Frank Drew, the Capitol policeman, swore that he had several times seen the defendant come out of Ayres' room. The last occasion was about a week before the tragedy. It was at night, about 9 o'clock.

He testified that he had seen Mrs. Bonine come out of the rooms of others in the hotel, among them those of several single men, and her demeanor was in no wise different from that when he saw her emerge from Ayres' room. She displayed no evidences of excitement. She had a habit of visiting the sick.

Thomas M. Baker, an employe of the fish commission, testified that on the night of the tragedy he was awakened by the report of pistol shots. He jumped out of bed, went to the window and heard a voice from above inquiring what was wrong below. He replied that he had heard pistol shots.

A Woman on the Fire Escape.

Then, while standing at his window, he saw a figure on the fire escape just outside of Ayres' window. The figure walked the length of the fire escape in his direction and then descended two flights to the floor of the veranda, where it disappeared into a window. It was the figure of a small woman, clad in dark, tight-fitting clothing. The woman wore no hat, as he did not hear the fall of her footsteps, he judged she was in her stocking feet. He described the manner of her descent, which he said was very deliberate and without emotion.

He did not know the defendant at the time of the tragedy, but saw her about 1 o'clock of the afternoon of that day. She was at that time being questioned by Detective Horne. She was smiling, and he heard her say she knew nothing about the cause of Ayers' death. The shots he heard sounded muffled.

Robert P. Hopkins, a clerk in the war department, testified that he heard three loud reports. He went to the window and looked down. He saw something which looked like a skull lying on the fire escape just outside the window, which he afterward ascertained was the window of Ayers' room.

Emma A. Lawless, employed in the bureau of engraving and printing, testified that on the night of the tragedy, about 9:30, Ayers knocked at her door and asked if she had any sugar, as he wished to make some cocoa. She gave him the sugar.

Knew Not What Awoke Her.

About 10 o'clock she retired. She was slightly aroused during the night, but was not awakened. She formed no idea as to what aroused her or what time it was.

Miss Mary E. Minas, a clerk in the census office, testified that she was a friend of Ayers.

"And of Mrs. Bonine?" asked the district attorney.

"Of Mrs. Bonine up to that time," replied the witness.

Continuing, Miss Minas said that on the evening of the tragedy she had visitors, a gentleman and his wife. When they left the halls were so dark that she was obliged to take the hand of her friend to lead her to the stairway. Downstairs she met Mrs. Bonine and remarked that she was up late.

"Yes, I am looking for Maurice," (Mrs. Bonine's son) replied Mrs. Bonine. Mrs. Bonine accompanied her to her (Miss Minas') room, and after a few moments she left.

Miss Minas then retired. That was about 11 o'clock. She was awakened by three pistol shots followed by cries for help and a gurgling sound; then a fall, and then all was quiet. Her first idea was that it was a burglar in the hall, but it all happened so quickly that she really was not sure it was not a nightmare.

Fainted From Fright.

"I was paralyzed with fright," she testified. "I rushed to the door and piled several chairs against it to protect myself. I then sank into a rocking chair. I think I must have fainted. After some time I went to the window and looked out. All was as still as death."

After the discovery of the body next morning Mrs. Bonine came over and sat beside her and comforted her, as her nerves were unstrung by the tragedy. Mrs. Bonine was very composed. She ordered her breakfast and inquired about all the details of what she (Miss Minas) had heard. Mrs. Bonine remarked, "What a pity it was you did not cry out when you heard the groans."

Miss Minas testified that after the inquest on Sunday Mrs. Bonine came to her with the paper containing the account of her (Miss Minas') testimony in her hand and expressed regret that she had told what she (Mrs. Bonine) had done on the night of the tragedy. Mrs. Bonine called her attention to Baker's testimony about the color of the dress the woman on the fire escape wore, and said her (Miss Minas') testimony would direct suspicion toward her.

Miss Minas testified that Mrs. Bonine usually managed the dances at the Kenmore and that Mrs. Bonine taught Ayres to dance. She also testified to the disagreement between Mrs. Bonine and Ayres during the holidays and to the fact that Mrs. Bonine subsequently complained because Ayres no longer danced with her. She had invited Ayres to a birthday party in February, to be held in Mrs. Bonine's room, but he declined to come.

On cross-examination Miss Minas testified that the noises she heard in the middle of the night sounded to her as if they came from the hall. She did not recognize the voice as that of Mr. Ayres. She heard no evidences of a struggle.

Miss Mary Woodlums testified that she saw the shadow of a person pass her window at 2 o'clock on the morning that Ayres was killed. She said she had retired the night before about 10 and was awakened by sounds in the room over her own. She heard voices, pistol shots and something falling. She had gotten up, lighted the gas and looked at her watch. She then went back to bed and immediately noticed the shadow of a person passing the window. The next morning Miss Woolums left, and did not return until Thursday night. She then expressed a fear of going to her room, whereupon Mrs. Bonine volunteered to go with her. After they arrived there Mrs. Bonine asked her about the shadow and requested her to explain how it had appeared. When Miss Woolum's replied that she could not properly show her how it was with the gas burning, Mrs. Bonine suggested that the gas be turned out, and when Miss Woolums replied that she was afraid to be in the dark, Mrs. Bonine replied that she was not. Mrs. Bonine's manner was composed.

SEMPLE JURY UNABLE TO AGREE UPON A VERDICT.

Judge McPherson Sent Them Back and They Will Report Again This Morning.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 25.—The jury in the trial before Judge McPherson in the United States district court of John L. Semple, the lawyer of Camden, N. J., charged with aiding and abetting counterfeiters in the making of spurious $20 notes in prison, went out at 11 o'clock this morning and at a late hour tonight it had not agreed on a verdict.

At 5 o'clock this afternoon the jury came into court and the foreman told Judge McPherson that the jury could not agree and asked that it be discharged. One juror stated to the court that a month's consideration would not change the opinion of several of the jurymen. Another juror complained of illness and wanted to be relieved from duty, but the court refused his request and sent the 12 men back to their room with instructions that they must agree. If they should come to an agreement during the night the verdict will be sealed and opened in court tomorrow morning.

Judge McPherson in his charge to the jury this morning said that all doubt as to the counterfeiting in prison had been eliminated, the fact having been clearly established by the evidence and admitted by the defense. The matter for careful consideration was the motive which impelled Taylor and Bredell, the convicted counterfeiters, to manufacture the spurious notes. If the testimony showed that Semple induced them to engage in the work by holding out the hope of leniency from the government after the plates had been surrendered, he was equally guilty with Taylor and Bredell. The judge said that the innocence or guilt of the defendant depended solely upon the question of veracity—the story as told by Bredell and Taylor on the one side and the denial of the charges by the defendant on the other side. The jury, he said, must determine who was telling the truth and base their verdict thereon.

TRUST SECRETARY IN JAIL.

TOPEKA, KAN., Nov. 25.—District Judge Hook today refused a writ of habeas corpus prayed for by E. J. Smiley, secretary of the Kansas Grain association, commonly known as the grain trust.

Smiley was summoned before the court of Reno county to answer questions and produce books and papers concerning the operations of the grain association. He appeared, but declined to answer questions put to him, claiming that the section of the anti-trust law under which he had been summoned is in violation of the fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution. For refusing to answer he was adjudged to be in contempt of court and was sent to jail.

Judge Hook says Smiley must exhaust all remedy in the state courts before appealing to the federal courts, and that the federal courts have not exclusive judisdiction over federal cases.

ANOTHER CONVICT CAUGHT.

OMAHA, NEB., Nov. 25.—The police of Council Bluffs have under arrest a man whom they feel sure is Frank Lawrence, one of the federal prisoners who recently escaped from the Leavenworth prison. The man was charged with drunkenness, and while he is serving a jail sentence the police are hunting up his record and have notified the prison officials at Leavenworth.

The man, when arrested, wore a pair of trousers such as is furnished by the government, and his underwear is similar to that issued to the prisoners at Leavenworth. His physical appearance also tallies with the description received by the police from the prison authorities.

ANIMAL 60 FEET HIGH.

Dinosaur's Remains Discovered by Prof. Marsh Being Restored.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Prof. Charles Bercher and his assistants at the Peabody museum of Yale, have begun the restoration of a gigantic dinosaur three or four times as large as the specimen completed several months ago. The forefoot, foreleg and joints will be restored. The foot is more than three feet long. The restored leg will be 16½ feet high.

The fossil remains have laid in storage since before the death of Prof. O. C. Marsh, who found them in Wyoming. He estimated that the complete dinosaur would stand 60 feet high. Lack of room prevents complete restoration.

WESTINGHOUSE LOSES.

Filed Protest Against Infringement of Patent Too Late.

UTICA, N. Y., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Judge Coxe today filed his decision in the case of the Westinghouse Airbrake Company against the New York Airbrake Company, an infringement suit upon the letters patent granted to George Westinghouse, Jr., January 9, 1883, for a pressure-retaining valve in automatic brake mechanism. Judge Coxe dismissed the bill. In closing his opinion in the case, he says:

"Where a patent has lain dormant for 15 years and has been infringed by the defendant for seven years with the knowledge of complainant and without a word of protest, a decree for an accounting should not be granted."

WEATHER NEWS AT FARMHOUSES

Distribution of Forecasts By Rural Free Mail Delivery a Success.

REPORT OF SECRETARY WILSON SAYS SO

Forty-Two Thousand Families Now Warned of Coming Frosts and Storms—Breeding a Race of Oranges That Can Stand the Cold.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, in his annual report, calls attention to the distribution of forecasts by means of rural free mail delivery. There are now in operation 365 centers supplying an aggregate of nearly 42,000 families in the farming districts with the latest weather predictions.

"This work," says the report, "has become decidedly popular, and we have had the hearty co-operation of the postoffice department in making it a success. With some additional appropriation it is the intention to reach several hundred thousand farmhouses with the daily forecasts and warnings during the coming year. The value of frost and cold wave warnings to rural communities is beyond estimate, and the rural free delivery of the postoffice department places the means at our command of reaching those who can be the most benefited by these warnings."

The department has been for several years trying to secure by breeding a race of oranges resistant to frost. A cross of hardy Japanese with the Florida sweet orange has resulted in the hardiest evergreen orange known, and there is promise of ultimately securing a fruit both hardy and of good quality.

While there is much experimental work yet to be done before the present system of wireless telegraphy is reliable for intership communication, or before any two systems can work within the same field without each rendering the other useless, such progress has been made by the government experimenters that with no interference by private systems, stations can be successfully operated over at least 150 miles of coast line.

The secretary winds up the discussion of the subject of irrigation by presenting the following resolutions:

First—That private enterprise will have to be supplemented by public aid in the construction of certain classes of irrigation works if we are to secure the largest development of western agriculture.

Second—That reservoirs located in the channels of running streams should be public works.

Third—That the first step toward national aid for irrigation should be the passage of enlightened codes of water laws by the states to be benefited.

Fourth—That the land laws should be modified by repealing the desert act and by requiring cultivation as well as residence on a homestead.

Fifth—That the non-irrigable grazing lands should be leased in small tracts, so as to unite the irrigable and the pasture lands.

THE PENSION ROLL.

Veterans, Their Widows and Dependents Provided For.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—Pensions were granted today as follows:

Snively, Pittsburgh, $8; Esther J. Arb, Milliganton, $8; Nancy J. Stallman, Gibsonia, $12; Christina Knopsnyder, Rockwood, $12.

Ohio—William P. Barber, Warrensville, $8; Leonard Fish, Brooklyn, $8; Archibald F. McKee, West Salem, $17; John N. Kline, Antioch, $10; Charles Humphrey, Kett, $12; Mary F. Skelley, Hopedale, $8.

GRIDIRONED BY CARRIERS.

All Butler County to Have the Benefit of Free Delivery.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Representative Showalter had a conference today with postoffice department officials regarding the placing of all the rural section of Butler county under rural free delivery. It will require about 80 routes for this purpose, and the maps are about completed. The plan will soon be adopted and Butler county will be the second county in the state to be completely gridironed by these routes, with daily mail for all.

Mr. Showalter secured an additional letter carrier for Beaver Falls on December 1, and has asked for an additional carrier for Butler.

COL. ANDERSON'S SUICIDE.

One of the Originators of the World's Fair Drowns Himself.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—Just before noon today the body of Col. Alexander D. Anderson was found on the banks of the Potomac at Mount Vernon, having been washed ashore. Anderson's pockets were filled with stones. He disappeared Sunday morning, leaving a note in which he said he had decided to seek rest in the Potomac.

Col. Anderson was one of the originators of the World's fair of 1893, but hoped and worked for its location here instead of at Chicago. He was for several years associated with Col. John W. Noble, former secretary of the interior, in law practice.

INDIAN CATHOLIC TRAINING.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—The Catholic archbishops at their annual meeting last week adopted this resolution:

That we heartily commend and will practically encourage work for the raising of the amount annually needed for the support of the Catholic Indian schools, and will similarly encourage wider efforts aiming at bringing the benefits of Catholic training to the Catholic children of the government schools.

CLOSING HIESTAND INQUIRY.

Senate Committee Will Hear Argument on Friday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—The inquiry in charges against Maj. H. O. S. Heistand was resumed by the senate committee on military affairs today.

The committee held a secret session and decided to hear arguments Friday afternoon. The committee then adjourned until Wednesday, when it is proposed to close the testimony.

Probable Future of the Arsenal.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—The board of army officers convened here this forenoon and adjourned until tomorrow. The disposition of the Allegheny arsenal will undoubtedly be left to the judgment of Gen. Brooke, commander of the department of the east. It is understood that he will acquiesce in the recommendation of Quartermaster-General Ludington that the arsenal be turned over to the quartermaster's department to be utilized as a depot for army stores.

Washington Aqueduct in Operation.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—The Washington aqueduct tunnel, commonly known as the Lydecker tunnel, work on which began 20 years ago, and in 1888 was suspended for 10 years, following sensational discoveries of faulty construction work, was put into operation today. This reservoir will give 15 feet of additional pressure in many parts of the district.

ONE-CENT LETTER POSTAGE.

Madden Says It Would Be Possible if Reform Is Instituted in Second Class Privileges.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—Third Assistant Postmaster General Edwin C. Madden, in his annual report, recommends the consolidation of third and fourth class matter; an increase of the limit of indemnity for the loss of registered matter from $10 to $100, and that postal employes be made liable for the value of registered matter lost through their carelessness.

The total postal revenues for the year from all sources were $111,631,193, being $3,923,727 less than the expenditures.

Mr. Madden says it is but a question of time if the rate of increase of second class matter continues before it will consume most if not all the revenue derived from other classes of mail matter. The principal abuses of the pound rate named by the report are sample copies, bulk subscriptions, book serials, return copies to news agents and premiums to subscribers, the latter being characterized as the king of abuses. Reformation in this class, the report says, may make 1-cent postage practicable at no distant date.

FACING STARVATION.

Half a Million Chinese in Yang-Tse Valley Require Relief.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—John Goodnow, consul general at Shanghai, reports that there are over half a million of people in the Yang-Tse valley who will starve this winter unless they get help from outside. A committee of foreigners and Chinese has been formed in Shanghai to relieve the conditions of these people and all foreigners in China are subscribing liberally.

Contributions may be made through the British consul general at Shanghai, P. L. Warren, chairman of the relief committee.

Arizona Judge on the Rack.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—A private hearing was begun today at the department of justice in the case of Judge Webster Street, chief justice of the Third district of the Ninth judicial circuit court of Arizona, against whom a number of charges have been filed, including bribery, corruption and improper judicial conduct.

National Bank Reserve Agents.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The comptroller of the currency has approved of the following selections of reserve agents by banks: The New Citizens' national of New York by the First national of East Liverpool, O.; the Market national of Cleveland by the old Phoenix national of Medina, O.

One War Cloud Blows Away.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—The threatened trouble over the boundary line between Chile and the Argentine republic has been averted for the present at least. Signor Infante, charge of the Chilean legation here, today conveyed to this government an assurance that the two republics have reached an understanding.

Effect of Cutting War Taxes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 25.—The monthly statement of collections of internal revenue shows that for October, 1901, receipts amounted to $24,350,907, a decrease as compared with October, 1900, of $3,104,672. The decrease for the four months of the present fiscal year amounts to $8,460,058.

MACHINE WENT WRONG.

Chaffeur Fournier Fails to Break Automobile Record at Oakley Track, Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 25.—There was a large and enthusiastic attendance at the Oakley race track this afternoon to witness the automobile races given under the auspices of the Cincinnati Automobile club. There were three races decided and the time in each was fairly good, considering the condition of the track and a cold, raw wind, which retarded the machines.

The feature of the day was the effort of Henry Fournier, the French chauffeur, to break the record for a circular track. He was originally carded to race 15 miles, but while on the track early in the afternoon his machine went wrong and when he came out to race against the records, it was growing dark so rapidly the judges decided that he should go only eight miles. Fournier failed to break any records, claiming that his machine could not do itself justice, owing to the temporary repairs made on it. Except M. Fournier, the participants were local automobile enthusiasts. Summary:

Second race, five miles, for gasoline carriages, 12 horsepower and below—R. Meyer, won; Max C. Fleischmann, second; Carl G. Fisher, third; Carl L. Baumann, fourth. Time, 8:32⅘.

Third race, gasoline carriages, 12 to 20 horsepower—E. Moyer, won; Carl G. Fisher, second; Harry W. Summer, third; Max C. Fleischmann, fourth. Time, 9:24.

M. Henri Fournier against time—First mile, 1:11 1-5; second, 1:09; third, 1:08; fourth, 1:08 4-5; fifth, 1:08 1-5; sixth, 1:09 1-5; seventh, 1:10; eighth, 1:11. Time for eight miles, 9:16 2-5.

CLEVELAND RECOVERING.

His Physician Says the Crisis Is Passed and He Is Doing Well.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Ex-President Grover Cleveland, who has been suffering from a severe cold, which threatened to develop pneumonia, is improving rapidly. Mrs. Cleveland made this statement to a correspondent for the Gazette this evening:

"Mr. Cleveland is doing very well, indeed. He is improving just as fast as could be expected under the circumstances. He slept well last night and is no longer troubled by the severe cough which attended the breaking up of the cold. He is still confined to his room, but, of course, that could only be expected after such a severe attack."

Dr. Wyckoff, the attending physician, made this statement: "Mr. Cleveland is improving as fast as his malady would warrant. He rests well, and we expect complete recovery very soon. The crisis has passed."

Newspaper Changes Hands.

RICHMOND, VA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The Richmond Dispatch was today sold to a company, of which Leland Rankin, formerly of the Nashville American, is the head. It has heretofore been owned jointly by the Cawardin and Ellison families.

Bald?

Then you starved your hair. What did you do that for? When you saw that your hair was falling out, why didn't you use Ayer's Hair Vigor? It feeds the hair, gives it vigor, stops it from falling, makes it grow, and always restores color.

"I was almost bald before I began using Ayer's Hair Vigor. In a short time my hair all came in again, and now it is thick and heavy."

LAMENESS WAS CURED BY FAITH

VISITED NOTED SHRINE IN QUEBEC

Had Been Lame for 13 Years, as Result of an Accident and Had Tried Best Surgical Treatment In This City.

"In the name of God, and through the intercession of St. Anne de Beaupres, I command you, Sister Mary Aldegonda of the Convent of Mercy of Pittsburgh to lay down your crutches and walk." After the Very Rev. Father Therielfr of the chapel of St. Anne de Beaupres of Quebec, Can., issued this command, Sister Mary Aldegonda, who has been unable to walk without the aid of crutches for 13 years, laid them before the shrine, and, placing her crippled foot on the floor, walked with a firm tread from the chapel.

This is supposed to be one of the most remarkable miracles that has ever occurred in the chapel of St. Anne de Beaupres.

For 13 years she had the best medical attention that could be secured in this city. The injury baffled the surgeons. Finally deciding, after 13 years of suffering, to seek relief through the aid of the Almighty and the intercession of St. Anne de Beaupres, she was cured after a treatment of six days.

Sister Mary Aldegonda was injured in the Mercy hospital on the night of August 23, 1888. She was attending a patient, and in the darkened room she struck her left foot against a chair. At the time she paid no attention to the injury. It was painful, but she attended to her duties without any complaint.

Compelled to Abandon Work.

About three weeks afterward the injury pained her so that she was compelled to abandon her work at the hospital. The physicians of the hospital examined her foot and discovered that she had broken it. They said imputation would be necessary. She refused to assent to this treatment.

About a week after this she agreed to undergo an operation. The operation was performed and the physicians removed three small bones from the injured member. The wound healed up, but she was left a cripple. She was broken-hearted when she learned that she would be compelled to use crutches for the balance of her life.

For 13 years she submitted to affliction.

During the cold season of the year she was compelled to take to her bed on account of the excruciating pain in the injured foot. The physicians gave her no encouragement. In fact, they had abandoned her case. She gave up all hope of relief. She was compelled to give up her occupation as a nurse. In a short time she was given occupation as a bookkeeper at the home for working girls, established in connection with the convent.

About five weeks ago she spoke of her case to the mother superior of the convent. Her friends had heard of the shrine at the chapel of St. Anne de Beaupres in Quebec, Can. With her friends she decided to make the trip to Canada and mingle with the other pilgrims at the shrine.

With three companions she went to the chapel. For five days she claims that she participated in the prayers and services according to the worship of St. Anne. On the sixth day, when they assembled at the shrine, Father Therielfr asked her if she thought she would be able to walk without the aid of her crutches. She replied that she might be able to throw aside one of them.

"No," said Father Therielfr, "you can now walk without using either of them." She then placed the crutches at the foot of the shrine and walked away. She was amazed to find that she walked freely again. This was something that she had not done in 13 years. Owing to the fact that she had not used her limb during that time, the member was still weak. Now that she has been able to exercise, she can walk with a steady and firm step.

When the mother superior of the convent was asked yesterday by the reporter if Sister Aldegonda felt any sensation in the injured member during her treatment, she replied that she had not. She said that the sister had faith in the worship and prayers and felt that she would be benefited.

After she had discovered that she had been cured, she wired her sisters at the convent of Mercy at Tunnel street and Webster avenue to that effect. The message was a simple one: "Sister A. has laid aside her crutches." The news was received with great rejoicing among her friends. On the ninth day she returned to this city. She is still employed in her same position as bookkeeper in the laundry department of the working girls' home.

Big Football Players to Meet Here--McGovern Ready for Mill

THE STAR TEAMS TO MEET AGAIN

Quakers Have Sent Homestead a Challenge to Meet Them Next Saturday.

THE CONTEST WILL BE PLAYED HERE

Captain Fultz Is Getting His Stars Ready for a Warm Game With Wash.-Jeff. on Thanksgiving Day. Tickets Are in Big Demand.

The prospects now are very bright for another game between the Homestead and Philadelphia stars to be played here on Saturday next. Last night the Homestead officers received word from Philadelphia that the Quaker City team was not satisfied with Saturday's defeat and would be glad to come here and play another game.

The club officials could not state last night whether the challenge would be accepted or not, but the matter will be settled today when a meeting of the backers of the team will be held. Some of the officials are opposed to post-season games, while others favor them, and the desire of the Homestead players to get another chance at the Quakers will have a great deal of weight in determining the matter. A special from Philadelphia says that the Philadelphia players feel dissatisfied with their showing last Saturday and are satisfied that they could do better in a second contest. Such a game would be sure to be a popular one, as the local interest in last Saturday's contest was intense.

The Thanksgiving day contest is not going to be a walk-over by any means and the Homestead players look for the college team to give them their hardest game of the season. The showing made by W. & J. against the Carlisle Indians on Saturday has sent the team's stock up considerably in the eyes of local experts of the game. Had that game been played on a dry field there is no doubt but what the local college team would have scored the victory, as Captain Aiken's men put up by far the cleverest game.

That Captain Fultz does not propose to allow his players to rest on the laurels of that Philadelphia victory was shown yesterday, when he ordered them out for practice. The absentees included the two Pierces and Artie Miller, who were allowed to go from Philadelphia to Carlisle to spend a few days at their old school. Winstein was also missing and so was Arthur Poe, the pair being allowed a day's rest. The Homestead players have not yet got over talking about Poe's wonderful work in the Philadelphia game, and it is conceded by all hands that the little Princeton Star is the greatest end player that ever donned a uniform.

The Stars' work yesterday afternoon was very simple and was what was called limbering-up exercise. It consisted of a punting match in which all the players, Captain Fultz included, took part. The Stars are all in fine form, with the exception of Gammons, whose knee was hurt on Saturday, and he expects to be all right by today. The Exposition park gridiron is not in such bad shape considering the weather, and it would be fit for a game today. Of course it's muddy, but that's what the players like, as it makes failing quite an easy task.

The tickets for the Thanksgiving day game are on sale at Pratt's and the demand for them is very large. Nearly one-half the grandstand has already been sold and, judging from the string of purchasers yesterday, the entire stand will be sold before Wednesday evening. There is also a big demand this year for carriage space. Secretary Pulliam, who has charge of these affairs, promises to have things in such shape that he will be able to handle the great crowd expected without the least confusion.

Manager Craig of the W. & J. team, who was in the city last night, reports that the college players are all in grand form, none of them having been injured on Saturday. He says the college players are out after a record and that the Stars will have to put up better football than they have shown in previous games to beat the red and black eleven. The interest in Washington over the game is such that the largest crowd ever brought down from there will be here on Thursday, and every one will come prepared to root to the finish for the college team.

NO FIELD PRACTICE.

W. & J. Players Could Not Wear Their Uniforms.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—Contrary to the intentions of the coaches and captain, the W. & J. football team did not have practice at College park this afternoon. It had been intended to start the men at hard work today but the football uniforms were so wet and muddy that the men were unable to wear them, and as a consequence there was no outside work. Captain Aiken took the football players to the college gymnasium cage and some kicking was done, although the size of the cage hampered this kind of work somewhat. After the players had limbered up to some extent they were taken to the running track and ran several laps and were allowed to go home. The players are all in good condition aside from a few bruises and will be able to get down to hard work tomorrow afternoon. Unless some of the men are injured in practice in the next two days W. & J. should play her strongest team against the Homestead eleven on Thursday at Pittsburg. As a rule football enthusiasm lags during Thanksgiving week at Washington, but this year the fans are enthusiastic as ever and there no doubt will be a large crowd of Washington people at Pittsburg to witness the annual game. The players on the team think that Homestead will not score more than two touchdowns and they will fight hard to keep down the score, as there is no hope of winning from the Homestead team.

FIRST HOCKEY GAME.

Interscholastic Teams Will Open the Ice Sport Season This Evening.

The first hockey contest of the season will be played this evening at Duquesne Garden between the four teams forming the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic league. The teams representing Shadyside and Western University will take part in the first half, while Pittsburgh High school and East Liberty academy will compete in the second half.

Last season there was no regular league, but a series of games between Shadyside and High school with the former winning the championship honors by one game. This year there are more teams forming the interscholastic than ever before. There are but three teams in '99, and W. U. P. has not been represented since that year, when it was a member of the big league. This is the first year for college players in the interscholastic. Most of the Wup players are from the medical and dental departments. Shadyside claims to have the strongest aggregation of skaters that ever represented the school, nearly all of last season's championship seven again on the ice and plenty of new material.

High school has four of last season's team in Helsfar, Youngson, Patterson and Capt. Smith. Preston of last year's seven is with Shadyside. Roessing, Schmidt and Taylor are new men, but promising. Most of Wuy's men are new at hockey, though many are good skaters. East Liberty, though not in a combination with High school and Shadyside last season, has strong team. Evans is regarded as one of the best hockey players in the interscholastic. He was a member of the interscholastic team which went to Philadelphia last winter. Booth and Capt. Harmount are also good ones. E. L. A. expects to be decidedly in the hunt, though Shadyside is confident of retaining her supremacy. Lineup for tonight:

First half—
Shadyside.	W. U. P.
Hall	Goal
Bravo	Point
Preston	Center point
Hutchinson	Forward
Rose	Center
Abl	Right wing

RUBE AND HIS WAYS.

Jesse Tannehill Talks About the Big Left-Hander.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 25.—(Special.)—"So George Edward Waddell is to return to the game," said Jesse Tannehill yesterday. "He is certainly one of the greatest characters that ever played ball. Whenever he lost a game while with the Pirates he was apt to growl: 'How can a fellow be expected to win with a lot of left fielders behind him.' Waddell don't like to be called 'Rube,' but if you address him as 'Eddy' he will fight for you and swear to be your friend for life. 'Rube' and Barney Dreyfuss have had many heart-to-heart talks, and it is one of Barney's whipper-snapper boasts that he is the only ball player he ever met who couldn't give him the worst of it. Drawing his salary in dribs is one of Waddell's strong points, and he used to tap Barney for small amounts, rarely asking for over $5 a time. After the latter's run on Barney's bank, the story leaked out that 'Rube' had been drawing on a $128 balance of his own that he didn't know was coming to him. One of the most touching living pictures I've ever seen has been 'Rube' going to Harry Pulliam and asking for the loan of a dollar. Throwing his arm around his shoulder Pulliam would look the eccentric twirler in the eye and ask, in all seeming seriousness:

"'Eddie, what did you do with that dollar I gave you day before yesterday?' and then the 'Rube' would compromise and take a quarter."

Perhaps Frank Selee can control the southpaw. Against Cincinnati Waddell has nearly always been superlatively successful.

Will Be a Hard Battle.

The Pittsburgh College reserves will play the strong W. U. P. freshman team this afternoon at 3:30 on the Pittsburgh college campus. As both teams have been undergoing hard practice for the past week a very interesting game is expected, as both are confident of victory. The reserves have not been scored against for the past three games and they are determined that the freshman team will not cross their goal line.

Will Play It Off Saturday.

The football contest between the Homestead Library A. C. and the Carnegie A. C. of Braddock park, Works park, Homestead, which was spoiled by the rain and came to an end at the close of the first half last Saturday with no score, will be played this coming Saturday. The line up of both teams will be the same by agreement, which provides that both shall be strictly amateur.

M'GOVERN LOOKS FINELY DRAWN

Experts Think That the Little Champion Is Slightly Overtrained.

SAYS HE FEELS IN THE FINEST FORM

Young Corbett Is Also In Great Shape For the Battle—Both Pugilists Let Up in Their Training and Are Ready For the Ring.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—With his face a bit drawn, but otherwise apparently in perfect physical condition, Terry McGovern practically finished his training today at his headquarters. The little Brooklyn pugilist took vigorous exercise during the day and at the conclusion of the work said that he felt thoroughly satisfied that his condition could not be improved upon. There were several experts who commented on the fact that McGovern's face looked very much drawn, creating the impression that he may be overtrained, but Terry and his trainer, Charley Mayhood, ridiculed the idea. Mayhood said that while McGovern's preparation for the battle on Thanksgiving day at Hartford with "Young Corbett" was unlike former training courses that the Brooklynite had taken, he felt satisfied that the innovations were of a most beneficial character.

"There is no doubt," added Mayhood, "that McGovern is in perfect health, thoroughly able to defend his title of featherweight champion. If Corbett defeats Terry we shall not be able to excuse the defeat on account of lack of condition, but it will be owing to superior fighting qualities of the former. Positively, I believe that McGovern will win, and do the trick inside of 10 rounds."

McGovern looks for a quick finish. He believes that he will be declared the winner but the impression is that the fighting will be fast from the start. He thinks a knockout will be accomplished by himself or Corbett within 8 rounds. While the little champion is confident of success, he by no means underrates the ability of his opponent.

McGovern tipped the scale at 123 pounds, three pounds under the weight at which he will be called upon to defend his title on Thursday. As the articles of agreement call for this men to weigh in at 10 o'clock in the morning of that day, the champion will find little trouble in meeting the weight required.

Young Corbett, at Hartford, has had ideal weather in which to train and rain fell yesterday for the first time since he went there last month. Johnny Corbett, who has handled him for four years, is jubilant over his chances. He says that at infighting Young Corbett has not a peer in America and he has no superior as a two-handed fighter.

When asked about Second and third Y. M. C. A. teams will play on the Athletic field. The Sewickley Y. M. C. A. first football team goes to Rochester to meet the strong team of that place Thanksgiving afternoon.

As the football season is closing, attention in the Sewickley Y. M. C. A. is being turned toward basketball. On December 2, a meeting will be held in the gymnasium to elect officers and make plans for the coming season. Sewickley had one of the best basketball teams in Pennsylvania last year and an attempt will be made to have as strong, if not stronger, team this year. McClelland, one of Sewickley's crack forwards, will not play this year, but a good substitute will be obtained.

GREAT HANDBALL MATCH.

Pittsburgh and Youngstown Teams Will Meet Thursday.

Arrangements have been completed whereby the Woodlake handball team of this city and the Cardinals of Youngstown, will meet on Thursday at Youngstown. The winner will be decided by the total number of points made by the three players of each side. The Cardinals have such players as Murphy, O'Connell and Daniels, while Woodlake will present its great trio of Irwin, Wixong and Burger. Great interest centers in the match between O'Connell and Wixong, who are of the same weight, tipping the beam at 175, and who formerly played together on St. Mary's team in Ireland. The match between Daniels and Burger will no doubt be the star attraction, as the former has been especially engaged to defend the colors against Tiger Burger, who has not been defeated in a combat of this sort in four years. To insure fair play the services of Dr. M. Collins have been secured.

NO MORE FIGHTS.

Indiana's Governor Closes Down on the Sport.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 25.—Gov. Durbin said today he would not allow any more prize fights to occur in Indiana, if it shall be within his power to prevent them. He said the sporting element had been fairly warned and if it shall be possible he will cause the arrest not only of the pugilists, but of the backers, trainers and promoters of the prize fights. Fights have been scheduled for Alexandria and Muncie on Thanksgiving eve.

ANOTHER BASEBALL ROW.

The Western League Is Divided and President Hickey May Be Deposed.

OMAHA, NEB., Nov. 25.—A party of six Western league baseball magnates held a meeting at Council Bluffs yesterday to form a plan of opposition to the program that President Hickey and Manager Tebeau are said to have mapped out, and to consider the advisability of retaining President Hickey's services longer. Those present were Manager Beall of Sioux City, who holds the Minneapolis franchise; Van Brunt of St. Joseph, Flynn of Des Moines, Manning of Kansas City, Burns of Colorado Springs and Rourke of Omaha. The utmost secrecy prevailed and not until today was it known that there had been such a meeting. The gathering was in the nature of a caucus, and the ousting of President Hickey was discussed to some extent.

Thomas Burns, who recently acquired the Colorado Springs franchise, said today that it was impossible to give out the details of the meeting, but intimated that in all probability the plan of President Hickey for a circuit would be turned down. He said no action of this nature could be taken without unanimous consent, which could not be secured. He said that neither himself nor any of the others attending the meeting had received formal notice of the meeting to be held in Kansas City next week.

President William Rourke of the Omaha club said he had a guarantee from President Hickey that his club would be taken care of in the next league.

The minor Western league is also planned by Hickey, it is said, is to include Denver, Colorado Springs, Omaha, St. Joseph, Lincoln and Sioux City, while the larger league would take in Kansas City, Columbus, Milwaukee, Toledo and some other larger cities of the Middle states.

EASY FOR MANCHESTER.

Defeated the Railroad Team by a Large Score.

The Manchester Jr. basketball team defeated the strong Railroad Y. M. C. A. at Manchester Turner hall last night by the score of 40 to 11. The team work of the Manchester boys was of the first order, and the railroaders found almost an impossibility to break it up. Barr, Manchester's new center, was given a trial on the second half, and showed up well. Orr did all the scoring for the Y. M. C. A. team. Various changes were made in the line-up of the latter team in the second half, but little good resulted. A large crowd attended, a large part of which were ladies. The line-up:

Skillinger	R. F. Viers
Koch	L. F. Lanham
Walker	Center Orr
Graham	R. G. Miller
Burry	L. G. De Muth

Substitution—Barry for Wallseer, Metzkes for Skillinger, Kaulbach for Lanham, Alston for Miller, Gardner for Kaulbach. Goals from field—Koch 5, Burry 5, Skillinger 3, Graham 3, Wallseer 2, Metzkes 1, Orr 4. From foul—Orr 3, Graham 2. Referee—Little. Scorer—H. Roth. Timers—Gray and H. Bracker.

SPORT AT SEWICKLEY.

Football Will Soon Give Way to Basketball.

The Sewickley colored football team will meet the Liberty A. C. on the Sewickley field Thanksgiving day at 10:30 a. m., and a warm game is expected. At 2:30 p. m. the second and third Y. M. C. A. teams will play on the Athletic field. The Sewickley Y. M. C. A. first football team goes to Rochester to meet the strong team of that place Thanksgiving afternoon.

As the football season is closing, attention in the Sewickley Y. M. C. A. is being turned toward basketball. On December 2, a meeting will be held in the gymnasium to elect officers and make plans for the coming season. Sewickley had one of the best basketball teams in Pennsylvania last year and an attempt will be made to have as strong, if not stronger, team this year. McClelland, one of Sewickley's crack forwards, will not play this year, but a good substitute will be obtained.

FITZ'S NEW BOOK.

The Ex-Champion Gives Young Athletes Good Advice.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—(Special.)—The advance sheets of Robert Fitzsimmons' book on physical culture are out and the literary world is all agog. His advice to lovely woman will create much excitement. He talks as follows:

"Muscle building brings beauty to woman. This brief statement is sufficient, I think, to make any woman embark upon a physical development course. What will women not do to become beautiful? They—some of them, at least—powder and paint and bleach their hair, and do all kinds of other foolish things in an attempt to improve their appearance."

Regarding the proper method of rearing children, Mr. Fitzsimmons indulges in these impressive remarks:

"Get them up early! Dash the morning and send them out into the fresh air. Even if you live in the city, keep them outdoors when the weather permits. Better to have them dirty and healthy than clean and sickly."

"One thing that I want to particularly impress upon the young athlete is the priceless value of a good home and pleasant surroundings. Some boys and young men have an idea that an athlete must be tough. That is all wrong, and it has been proved time and again that the athlete, whether a runner, boxer, or anything else, can best fit himself for manly sports if he leads a clean, wholesome, good life. And this can best be found amid pleasant home surroundings."

THE BARRIER SPOILED SPORT

ONLY TWO FAVORITES AT THE FRONT

The Bennings Track Was Very Heavy and the Racing Was Somewhat Slow--Lamp O'Lee Ran Second, but Was Disqualified.

MUCH AFRAID OF THE PRESIDENT

Speculators Fear Message Will Do Something Dreadful to Combines.

ROOSEVELT VERY HARD TO FORECAST

The New $250,000,000 Steel Castle Seems to Be Mostly in the Air. Conceived in the Brains of an Aspiring Firm of Young Lawyers.

(BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The Gary interview, in which the chairman of the United States Steel Corporation discussed at some length the inexpediency of federal supervision of industrial combines, popularly known as "trusts," excited a great deal of comment in Wall street today. Mr. Gary's views have enough intrinsic merit to attract an audience at any time, and the infrequency with which they find informal expression invest them with a still livelier interest; but in this instance they have peculiar relevancy for the financial community.

Mr. Roosevelt's attitude toward industrial combines is a source of deep concern to all corporate interests and a source of considerable worriment to the speculative talent. Washington advices received a month ago in Wall street were more or less reassuring. It was intimated on what then seemed to be very good authority that the president would make no drastic recommendations, but it was intimated at the same time that Mr. Roosevelt's message to congress would be a remarkably brief document. It now transpires that the president's message is likely to be a record-breaker in point of length, and since the "authorities" were so badly mistaken as to the bulk of the message, it is feared that they may have gone quite as far wrong in attempting to forecast the president's formal expressions in respect to combines. Indeed, the Wall street lights are just beginning to learn what in Washington they seemed quite a while ago to have learned, that forecasting Mr. Roosevelt is very uncertain business.

Fears of Government Action.

Wall street was not led by the Gary interview to form hasty conclusions, but the arguments therein laid down stood the test of expert examination and have come to be accepted as a very fair presentation of the combine side of the question. How deeply Wall street is interested in this matter was made apparent in the short session last Saturday. It was unanimously announced from Washington that the government was preparing to attack the Amalgamated Copper Company. This news caused traders to sell Amalgamated Copper, as a matter of course; but they also proceeded to attack American Sugar on the interesting theory that if anti-combine attacks are to emanate from Washington the American Sugar Company is quite as vulnerable as the Amalgamated Copper Company. These traders applied their reasoning particularly to Sugar, obviously because of its speculative prominence in the market; but the same reasoning might easily be applied to all other stocks, and infallibly would be, in the event of its being established that the Roosevelt administration is pronouncedly hostile toward combines.

By way of commentary, it may be mentioned that from the speculative point of view it is an "investigation" that is more to be feared than anti-trust legislation. It is no secret in Wall street that certain of the large industrial corporations would be seriously embarrassed by a congressional investigation.

Steel Castles in the Air.

The astonishing statement given out at the Waldorf-Astoria Sunday night by Frederick H. Clarke of the law firm of Blymer, Clarke & Stover—formerly Blymer, Hobbs & Stover, but lately changed in name to include that of the ambitious Mr. Clarke—in respect to a consolidation of well-known steel properties, was discussed in trade circles here today with mingled amusement and disgust. Mr. Clarke ventured in his Sunday night statement to add the names of the Sharon Steel Company, the Sloss-Sheffield Iron and Steel Company and the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company to the list of concerns he had already involved in his more or less imaginary project. He made bold, further, to increase the capitalization of the combine from a modest $50,000,000 to $250,000,000.

Official representatives of the three companies named were so inconsiderate today as to contradict Mr. Clarke and to say that as far as they were concerned there had been no serious talk of consolidation. They, in common with numerous other steel interests, have been informally approached by Mr. Clarke, but from all that can be learned no definite plans have been advanced.

In begins to be known to about this, that Mr. Clarke and his legal associates jointly conceived the outline of a possible combine and addressed letters to a dozen or more companies, laying open the suggestion and asking what was thought of it. If the interests thus approached are to be believed, they did not think much of anything about it, and so replied, first to Messrs. Blymer, Hobbs & Stover, and latterly to Messrs. Blymer, Clarke & Stover. The members of this legal firm are young men, not hitherto prominent in the work of trust-making, and a number of those with whom they have been in communication are about persuaded that they adopted this method of advertising their existence in legal partnership. Even if it were possible to bring all the companies named into a combine, the aggregate would not warrant a capitalization of a quarter of a billion dollars.

Flying Too High.

It is true that a number of prominent steel interests are in New York, but Mr. Clarke's effort to hang his statement upon their presence here fell flat today when Mr. Frick and others denied any connection with the visionary $250,000,000 steel company. Willis King, who is at the Waldorf-Astoria, came here on business in connection with the merger of eastern steel plate interests, an undertaking quite distinct from the Clarke affair. A prominent steel manufacturer, and one whose name, he says, has been unwarrantedly associated with the Clarke combine, said today:

"The promoters of this alleged steel corporation undoubtedly are sincere in their efforts to bring a number of plants into a combine; but when they talk of a company with a capitalization of $250,000,000 I am led to believe that some one has been drawing on his fancy. Gentlemen, The concerns that have been mentioned as possible constituent interests would not justify a capital of anything near that amount, and I am convinced that the negotiations will amount to nothing."

Treasurer's Resignation.

It was announced today that A. F. Luke, treasurer of the United States Steel Corporation, would resign on January 1, to become a member of the banking house of Darr & Moore. Mr. Luke's resignation is not to be taken as in the least significant of friction within the combine. The most cordial relations exist, and Mr. Luke's retirement is a matter of business purely of his own concern. After January 1 the firm with which he will connect himself is to be known as Darr, Luke & Moore. It will conduct a general banking and brokerage business in New York and Pittsburgh along the lines already established. Mr. Darr, the senior member of the firm, is president of the Sharon Steel Company and well known in the Pittsburgh district. It is probable that Richard Trimble, at present secretary and assistant treasurer of the United States Steel Corporation, will succeed Mr. Luke.

Pig Iron Up Another Peg.

The Empire Steel & Iron Company announced today another increase of 50 cents a ton in the price of pig iron, putting No. 2 foundry at the Lehigh valley furnaces on a $15 basis. A representative of the company said today that the upward tendency in the price of pig iron is due wholly to the extraordinary demand, which had begun to exceed production. The advance, he said, would have been made even if the car shortage, which has resulted in the closing down of a number of large blast furnaces, were out of the question. Officials of the Mahoning and Shenango valley concerns say they do not propose to follow the advances of eastern and southern manufacturers.

A New Steel Company.

The Maryland Sheet Steel Company was incorporated in New Jersey today with a capital of $100,000. It is understood that this capital is merely nominal and will be increased at a future time. The incorporators are Albert F. Baumgarten, Howard H. Bickley, Harry E. Weber, Robert R. Richardson and Charles E. Metz. Philadelphia capital is understood to be interested in this undertaking.

NEWS FROM THE MINES

Latest Finds in Gold, Silver, Copper and Other Metals in the Far Western States.

(BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Estimates of the production of Cripple Creek this month range from $2,250,000 to $2,500,000. The output of several leases on Theresa ground on Bull hill will be about 4,000 tons, averaging $35 a ton. The Independence is outputting 300 tons daily of $60 ore.

Good gold values have been found in the El Rey, at Grand Encampment, Wyo. The mine was originally developed for gold, but fine copper was struck and the search for the yellow metal was stopped. A fine chute of gold quartz is now exposed.

California miners are cheered by the indication of an early and wet winter. A good rainfall in the valleys means a heavy lodgment of snow on the mountain ranges and an ample store of water to carry the quartz mills and placer mines through next summer.

A ledge of rich ore from 12 to 20 feet wide has been cut on the Red Bird and Buena Vista, in Bunce canyon, near Colfax, Cal.

Sixteen inches of ore assaying 73 per cent lead, 21 ounces silver and $4 gold to the ton, have been opened in the Kitty Owsley, in East Argentine, Col. A mill run of 500 pounds from the Harris claim gave 650 ounces silver and $2 gold.

Gray copper carrying values of $200 a ton has been opened in the Banty, in Spring gulch, near Idaho Springs, Col.

Capt. Delamar has said $4 gold ledges

Local Stocks Withstood Some Rather Extensive Profit-Taking

STEEL AND COAL WERE ACTIVE

THE COAL SHARES HELD STEADY TO FIRM.

The local stock market yesterday gave what traders call "action for your money." There were frequent fluctuations, and while some members of the same group were declining, others were advancing. These movements indicated that the trading was largely of a speculative nature, and possibly the result of some manipulation. The net result of the day's operations was that of 27 securities dealt in, 11 showed declines, 8 advances, and 8 were unchanged. The active features were Crucible Steel and the coal stocks. Crucible Steel common opened unchanged at 24⅝@24¾, and sold off to 24¼ on what was generally thought to be profit taking. Thousands of shares of this stock were bought around 23 a few weeks ago, and the buyers were evidently willing to take a profit on the moderate advance. Later in the day the stock recovered to 24⅞, but it again sold off to 24½, closing at 24⅜ bid. The preferred stock, which did not sympathize with the advance in the common last Saturday, opened firmer at 85¾ and advanced to 86¾, retaining most of the gain at the close. United States Steel preferred sold at 92⅝, while the common remained nominally unchanged at 43. Within the past week or two there has been a revival of the rumor that Crucible would be absorbed by the larger company, but nothing definite on this point has been obtainable.

There was also some profit taking in Pittsburgh Coal common, which sold at 28¼@28⅜, closing unchanged from Saturday. The preferred stock was fractionally higher. Monongahela River Coal common opened fractionally higher at 13½, advanced to 13⅝, and closed firm at 13½ bid, a net gain for the day of ¼. The advancing tendency in the stock, which was probably based upon the expected rise in the river which would permit of the marketing of 15,000,000 bushels of coal, was checked by the report that the company had met with labor troubles which might interfere with sending out some of its boats.

American Window Glass was comparatively neglected, only 240 shares changing hands at the uniform price of 55½. A block of 1,000 shares United States Glass common sold at 35, an advance of $2 over the last previous sale, and that price was bid for more. The National Fire Proofing stocks developed some weakness, the common declining to 34 and the preferred to 42½. Both stocks were in fair demand at the decline. The Westinghouse stocks were dull but firm, Switch and Signal advancing to 70¼, and Airbrake and Electric seconds preferred remaining unchanged in the bid price.

Philadelphia Company was not mentioned until the closing call, when 100 shares sold at 48, a decline of ⅜ from the last previous sale. Consolidated Traction preferred receipts were unchanged at 63¾, but the receipts for the common stock were ⅝ lower at 23, with that price bid at the close. Inquiry for a bid on the unassented common stock met with no response.

In the bank and trust company group, a small lot of Monongahela National bank sold at 255, a decline of 5, and a small lot of Allegheny Trust sold at 135, also a decline of 5 per cent. Equitable Trust was unchanged at 180. There was only one transaction in bonds, Sharon Steel 5s selling at 100 and accrued interest. The general market closed somewhat irregular, the attention of traders being occupied largely with the break in Amalgamated Copper, which marked the closing hour in the east.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

River Coal common ¼ higher at 13⅝.

Union Switch and Signal higher at 70¼.

Local traders heavy losers by the slump in Copper.

The following is a complete summary of the day's official transactions on the Pittsburgh stock exchange. It shows the change in the closing selling prices, compared with the last preceding sales, the total sales of each security, the opening, high, low and closing prices, new high record and final bid and offers:

transportation facilities are looked upon as among the most valuable kinds of property.

At the closing session of the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday many anxious glances were taken at the board on which New York quotations are posted. Amalgamated Copper was making a new record by breaking below 90, and it was seen that the slump was affecting the cost of the industrial list. It probably had some effect here, since Pittsburgh is largely interested in the stock, and stands to lose a large amount of money on the decline. Last June Amalgamated Copper reached 130, and at that times scores of active local traders had a "dead sure tip" that it was going to 150, and possibly become a second Standard Oil stock. That was the favorite expression at the time. When it broke to 120, the movement was construed as a manipulation to shake out the stock for those before the grand advance. When it touched 100 the bulls began to argue that possibly it might be bought cheaper and many of them unloaded and took their loss, but they still clung to it in the becoming a Standard Oil stock. When it dipped below 90 there was a general loading up again. The head of one Fourth avenue house stated last night that he believed Pittsburgh bought more stock below 90 than it formerly sold above par. A member of another house said that he probably offended some clients by refusing to buy the stock except on a margin that was prohibitory. Sold its average trader. From the high point reached last June to the low point recorded yesterday there has been a decline of $50 a share, representing a shrinkage in the market value of nearly the $15,000,000 capital stock of $77,500,000. It is Fourth avenue opinion that Pittsburgh has contributed a very respectable sum to the bears on the stock.

BANK CLEARINGS.

Pittsburgh bank exchanges yesterday were $1,295,271 81 larger than the total for the corresponding day last year. The local money market remains firm at 5@6 per cent on call and time loans. A considerable amount of local funds is being loaned in New York, and if there is a permanent reduction in rates in the east as a result of the cessation in gold exports that is probable next week a portion of local funds will return to the home market. Following is a comparative statement of Pittsburgh clearing house figures:

	Clearings.	Balances.

Dry Goods.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—The week opens without any change of moment in the market. The home demand for brown lines has again been light and no business reported for export. Orders for bleached cottons are limited and coarse colored cottons are quiet. Prices steady throughout. The cloth position is inactive at previous prices. Prints are quieter than last week and no change in prices. Ginghams firm. Medium and fine white goods heavily sold ahead and firm.

REALTY SOLD IN SHADYSIDE

Captain Lewis T. Brown Buys the Bradley Home for $55,000.

RAILROAD PURCHASE ON SOUTH SIDE

Good Sale in Twenty-First Ward. Exchange of Residence Property in Edgewood—A Knoxville Sale. McCandless Farm to Be Improved.

The Real Estate Trust Company yesterday sold for Charles H. Bradley to Capt. Lewis T. Brown, the residence at the northeast corner of Morewood avenue and Castleman street, Twentieth ward, for $55,000. The lot has a frontage of 77 feet in Morewood avenue and a frontage of 89 feet in Castleman street. The house is built of pink stone, with white trimmings. It was remodeled at a large expense a few years ago, and is a thoroughly modern residence. The entire inside finish of the house is hard wood and the rooms are elaborately decorated. The large grounds have been tastefully set with shrubbery, making the place one of the most beautiful home sites in Shadyside.

The Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railway has purchased from Jones & Laughlins, limited, eight lots in the Twenty-fourth ward for $17,500. The lots have a total frontage of 193 feet in the southwest side of Jane street, near Harcum alley, and a depth of 101 feet.

It was a surprise to many to learn that the Willis G. McCook property at the northwest corner of Wood street and Virgin alley, which was sold by Capt. G. W. McClung to W. S. Brown, brought only $80,000, as shown by the deed registered yesterday. The lot has a frontage of 25 feet in Wood street, and a depth of 80 feet. A four-story brick building stands on the lot. When the sale was made it was currently reported that the price paid was $125,000, or $5,000 a front foot. At $80,000, the price really paid for the lot, it brings the frontage down to $3,200 a foot.

The property at the northeast corner of Bennett and Collier streets, Twenty-first ward, has been sold by George A. Uhling to S. F. Baltensparger, for $12,750. The lot is 84x135 feet.

J. H. Wallace has purchased, through the agency of the Union Realty Company, a lot, 37x100 feet, at No. 335 Jucunda street, Knoxville, for $5,500. The lot is improved with an eight-room, modern brick house, which Mr. Wallace will occupy as a residence. The former owner was George E. Hemphill.

Charles E. Lee has traded to Elmer Lee Milligan a brick cottage, with lot, 40x148 feet, in Oakdale avenue, Edgewood, for a vacant lot having 100 feet frontage in Oakdale avenue and a depth of 160 feet. The former property is valued at $7,000, and the latter at $4,000. Mr. Milligan paid the difference in cash.

W. A. Herron & Sons sold lot No. 3 in the Singer plan, Wilkinsburg, to Mrs. E. Donehoo for $2,000. The lot fronts 40 feet in the west side of Ash street, and has a depth of 130 feet. Mrs. Donehoo will improve the property with a brick house, to be used for a home.

A tract of 47 acres of land in McCandless township has been sold by August Lindow to William Price for $10,570, or $225 an acre. The land is situated in the Blairsville plank road, and will, it is understood, be divided into large lots for building purposes.

John Fischer sold to George P. Hoffman a lot, 20x50 feet, at the northwest corner of St. Thomas and St. Martin streets, Twenty-seventh ward, for $1,625.

The usual cry of poor plumbing, leaky pipes and flooded cellars has begun, and offices where a large rental business is done have been full of "kickers" for several days. Cold weather has sharpened the tempers of many of these, and only the fact that there are no vacant houses to be secured prevents an outbreak of moving in some of the cheaper tenement districts. In many cases report has been made by the health authorities to the owners.

The scarcity of labor and material often prevents the carrying out of extensive plans, and the tenants are obliged to put up with temporary makeshifts. This condition only emphasizes the cry that is going up all over Pittsburgh for houses, and lots of them, which will afford comfort and convenience at a moderate cost.

Among the Architects.

J. F. Emmerling has just completed plans for a residence to be built for Dr. Oliver W. Stewart on Fifth avenue, Sewickley street. The house will be of brick and stone. The cost will be $15,000.

Edward J. Carlisle & Co. are preparing plans for a 12-room residence for Thomas Holbrook in Wilkins place. The cost will be $10,000.

Charles Bickel has prepared plans for a brick and stone residence for Richard Hartje, to be built in Dunmoyle street, at a cost of $15,000.

Peter Johnston will build six frame houses in Ridge avenue, Crafton, to cost $21,000. The plans are now being prepared.

B. S. Packard has awarded the contract to B. F. Ritchie for a residence in Lathrop street. The cost will be $45,000.

Maurius Rosseau is preparing plans for the $40,000 Roman Catholic church to be built at Sheraden.

William Stotz has let the contract to F. L. Fisher for an addition to the factory building of Peter Herne. The improvements will cost $45,000.

Barr Bros. & Co. sold for William Cuyer to John Waeichli a lot in Woodlawn avenue, corner of Stanton street, Eleventh ward, Allegheny, for $1,000. The purchaser intends to erect a store and dwelling.

Samuel W. Black & Co. sold the four-room frame dwelling, No. 5023 Lafayette street, to S. Wellington for $1,600.

W. K. Skinkington has sold for the West Carnegie Land Co. lot No. 98, to Moses Nelson. Also for the Torrence Land Co. two lots, Nos. 225 and 233, to Louis Dice.

Building permits were issued yesterday to Angelo Amantea for a two-story frame dwelling on Boundary street, Fourteenth ward, to cost $1,000, and Hugh Daly for a two-story frame dwelling on Cabinet street, Sixteenth ward, to cost $700.

W. H. Skivington has sold for West Carnegie Land Company lot No. 98, to Moses Nelson.

Methodist Episcopal Church at Titusville, Pa. Charles M. Robinson, Architect. Cost, $30,000.

The usual cry of poor plumbing, leaky pipes and flooded cellars has begun, and offices where a large rental business is done have been full of "kickers" for several days. Cold weather has sharpened the tempers of many of these, and only the fact that there are no vacant houses to be secured prevents an outbreak of moving in some of the cheaper tenement districts. In many cases report has been made by the health authorities to the owners.

The scarcity of labor and material often prevents the carrying out of extensive plans, and the tenants are obliged to put up with temporary makeshifts. This condition only emphasizes the cry that is going up all over Pittsburgh for houses, and lots of them, which will afford comfort and convenience at a moderate cost.

Among the Architects.

J. F. Emmerling has just completed plans for a residence to be built for Dr. Oliver W. Stewart on Fifth avenue, Sewickley street. The house will be of brick and stone. The cost will be $15,000.

Edward J. Carlisle & Co. are preparing plans for a 12-room residence for Thomas Holbrook in Wilkins place. The cost will be $10,000.

Charles Bickel has prepared plans for a brick and stone residence for Richard Hartje, to be built in Dunmoyle street, at a cost of $15,000.

Peter Johnston will build six frame houses in Ridge avenue, Crafton, to cost $21,000. The plans are now being prepared.

B. S. Packard has awarded the contract to B. F. Ritchie for a residence in Lathrop street. The cost will be $45,000.

Maurius Rosseau is preparing plans for the $40,000 Roman Catholic church to be built at Sheraden.

William Stotz has let the contract to F. L. Fisher for an addition to the factory building of Peter Herne. The improvements will cost $45,000.

Barr Bros. & Co. sold for William Cuyer to John Waeichli a lot in Woodlawn avenue, corner of Stanton street, Eleventh ward, Allegheny, for $1,000. The purchaser intends to erect a store and dwelling.

Samuel W. Black & Co. sold the four-room frame dwelling, No. 5023 Lafayette street, to S. Wellington for $1,600.

W. K. Skivington has sold for the West Carnegie Land Co. lot No. 98, to Moses Nelson. Also for the Torrence Land Co. two lots, Nos. 225 and 233, to Louis Dice.

Building permits were issued yesterday to Angelo Amantea for a two-story frame dwelling on Boundary street, Fourteenth ward, to cost $1,000, and Hugh Daly for a two-story frame dwelling on Cabinet street, Sixteenth ward, to cost $700.

W. H. Skivington has sold for West Carnegie Land Company lot No. 98, to Moses Nelson.

MANY CHURCH GATHERINGS.

Ministers of Various Denominations Hear Papers on Pastoral Work.

The ministerial meetings yesterday were well attended and some interesting papers were read. At the meeting of Reformed ministers in Grace church, the Rev. H. Holliger read a paper on "Pastoral Psychology." At the next meeting, two weeks hence, the Rev. A. B. Bauman of Pitcairn will read a paper on "Modern Study of the Bible."

Prof. Richard Moulton of Chicago University, a well-known writer on the Bible, entertained the Presbyterian ministers by an address on "The Literary Study of the Bible."

The Rev. Daniel W. Shaw, pastor of the colored Methodist Episcopal church, read a paper before the ministers of that denomination on "The Test of Membership in the Church."

The Rev. L. N. Lafferty spoke to the United Presbyterian ministers on "How to Secure a Better Observance of Thanksgiving."

The Lutheran ministers listened to a discourse from the Rev. B. E. Shaner on "Best Methods of Bible Study." "The Atonement" was the subject of a paper read before the Baptist association by the Rev. Dr. John M. Thomas.

The Rev. R. W. Anthony of Castle Shannon spoke to Methodist Protestant ministers on "The Influence of Christ on Modern Life."

IN THE OIL FIELDS

Several new wells have been completed in the Cameron district, in Marshall county, W. Va., but their size cannot be determined till they have been shot. The South Penn Oil Company's test on the H. E. Gray farm, located one mile northeast of the Alley-Lewis producer, has been drilled through the sand and has 400 feet of fluid in the hole.

In the Cameron end of the development No. 2, on the V. P. Gorby farm, has 300

ASKS MONEY FOR HER CHILD

Mrs. C. G. Stewart Files an Equity Suit Against a Divorced Husband.

HE GETS $250,000 UNDER A WILL

Court Is Asked to Compel George G. Cochran to Provide For the Maintenance and Education of His Daughter.

Catherine G. Stewart filed a bill in equity against George G. Cochran, asking that a decree be made compelling defendant to pay such sums as will be necessary for the maintenance and education of his daughter.

The plaintiff and defendant were married, and upon May 4, 1901, they were granted by divorce, after which Mrs. Cochran married P. J. Stewart.

The divorced couple at the time had a child, Catherine G. Cochran, who is now with her mother. It is declared Cochran, under the will of George G. Cochran, is entitled to the interest on investments aggregating over $250,000, and under the terms of the will it is his duty to maintain and educate the child. Mrs. Stewart says Cochran is addicted to the use of intoxicating liquor and is of such intemperate and immoral habits that he is totally unfit to take proper care of the child.

Did Better on Second Trial.

Mrs. Julia A. Gordon was awarded a verdict of $5,000 in her suit against Moon township. Mrs. Gordon was riding horseback over a bridge. There was a hole in the floor of the bridge into which the horse stepped, throwing the animal and severely injuring the plaintiff. The plaintiff was given a verdict of $3,000 by the jury in a former trial of this case, but the court granted a new trial on the ground that irrelevant remarks were made by counsel to the jurors.

In the matter of the transfer of the liquor license of George McCausland, at 3235 Penn avenue, to James F. Murphy, Judge S. A. McClung of the criminal court decided that if Murphy pays the $500 fine and costs imposed on him in 1892 for illegal liquor selling the license will be transferred to him. The following licenses were transferred: Michael J. Roland of Homestead to George Schwerbel; William H. Neely of Homestead to W. A. & R. E. Brady.

The will of T. J. McTighe was filed. The value of the estate is given at $40,000, but several sums derived from insurance is not included, and its value will be about $60,000. His household goods and his property on Grant street go to his widow. The income of $5,000 insurance money is bequeathed to his mother, and a like bequest is made to his mother-in-law. The residue of the estate is to be equally divided among the widow and her two children.

PASTOR'S MEETING OPENED.

First Day's Session of the Preacher's Institute Held at McKeesport. Addresses Made.

In point of attendance and interest the first session of the annual teachers' institute at McKeesport is in advance of former years. All of the instructors have arrived on the ground. They are the Hon. Henry Houck, deputy superintendent of public instruction, Harrisburg, Pa.; Dr. Sanford Bell, of the department of applied psychology of Clarke university, Worcester, Mass.; Dr. Lincoln Hulley, of the department of history, Bucknell university, Lewisburg, Pa.; Prof. P. M. Pearson, incumbent of the chair of oratory of the Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill.

After an invocation by the Rev. Theodore N. Eaton, Ph. D., D. D., pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Dr. Sanford Bell delivered a lecture on "The Right Attitude Toward the World and Yourself." Prof. Pearson discussed James Whitcomb Riley, and was followed by Dr. Hulley on "Education and Life." Dr. Houck closed the exercises of the day with a few remarks on the aims and benefits of teachers' institutes.

Colored Man Meets Death by Touching a Trolley Pole—Injuries Received in Dislodging Body.

Large Johnson, a colored man, 30 years old, who lives at No. 210 Hawkins avenue, Rankin, was killed in a peculiar manner at Second street and Hawkins avenue about 5 o'clock last night.

He was about to enter a grocery store when he happened to touch a trolley pole near the edge of the sidewalk. Unknown to Johnson an electric light wire had broken and the end of it had come in contact with the pole, heavily charging it with electricity.

The man was instantly killed and it was nearly an hour before the body could be removed from its position next to the pole. A dog brushed up against the body and was instantly killed. T. J. McGoff tried to remove it from its gruesome position and received a severe shock. It was finally dislodged with the aid of a board.

DRIVEN OUT BY ANGRY MORMONS

A Woman Missionary From Corry Tells an Awful Story of Persecution.

WAS BOMBARDED WITH BRICKS AND STONES

Her Life Threatened, and Even In Philadelphia She Asserts That Her Steps Are Hounded By Fanatics—Flag-Raising the Cause.

(SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.)

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Nov. 25.—"I come to you as a woman with a price set on my head by agents of the Mormon church; whose footsteps are dogged by them even in your city, and who dares not go out after dark, even in Philadelphia, for fear of being attacked by these men."

This assertion was made to the Presbyterian ministers at their weekly meeting in Witherspoon hall today by Mrs. Mary Clarke Devote, a missionary who has just returned from Utah. Mrs. Devore is a native of Corry, Pa., and for 15 years has been associated with the Presbyterian board of home missions.

"On August 16, 1900," she said, "I arrived at Hiram Utah, a town of 1,300 people. Nearly all the residents are Mormons and inimical to Christian churches. I had no sooner raised the American flag over the schoolhouse there than an influential Mormon threw a decayed canteloupe at it. They called it 'thath rag of oppression.'

"Not satisfied with assaulting me when I continued my work in the school, they held a meeting to encompass my death. They said I was no missionary; I was too smart. They attacked my school and fired bullets at me. In spite of all they did to harass me, I stayed until last June. When I left they drove me to the train with a shower of bricks and stones.

"'You will never live to tell the tale about us,' was their parting salute."

Mrs. Devore closed her address with an earnest appeal to the ministers to help the missionaries in Utah in their work of spreading the Gospel among the Mormons. Her life in Utah has broken her health, and after her visit in this city Mrs. Devore will go to Corry to recuperate.

Negro Children Cremated.

DARLINGTON, S. C., Nov. 25.—Limerick Flax, a negro living at Lides Bridge, left home last night, locking up his three children, the oldest being 11 and the youngest three years old. During the night the house caught fire and all three children were burned to death. The coroner's jury returned a verdict charging criminal carelessness against the father.

New Manager for Steamship Line.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 25.—William C. McMillan of Detroit has been chosen to succeed the late David Carter as general manager of the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Company. Mr. McMillan is a son of United States Senator McMillan of Michigan and has been connected with the D. & C. Company for a number of years.

ROLLER BOAT ROLLS.

Lands on a Mudbank on Shore of St. Lawrence River and May Stick Until Spring.

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Knapp's roller boat today demonstrated its ability to roll. In a blinding snowstorm, with a stiff north wind it rolled from Prescott across the St. Lawrence river to Ogdensburg, but missed the channel to the upper harbor and rolled into the soft mud on a bar abreast the city and settled hard, surrounded by snow and ice. Efforts to tow the boat by long hawsers into the deep water were unsuccessful and she may not be released until spring. The inventor and a stockholder, who were on board, were taken off in small boats. The inventor claims success.

The boat is 110 feet long and 22 feet diameter. An engine is suspended in a car in the center. The motive power is applied in the form of a climbing engine. Mr. Knapp says he will now build an ocean roller boat, 800 feet long and 200 feet in diameter, with a capacity of 4,000,000 bushels of wheat and a speed of 12 knots an hour.

Every man who intends to sport something new on Thanksgiving will consult his interest by coming in today or tomorrow, for we shall be closed all day on Thursday, Thanksgiving.

At $6.50 @ $10

We Show 18,000 Suits and Overcoats

Which could not be duplicated elsewhere for less than $10.00 and $15.00 respectively.

The Suits Come in Worsteds, heavy Serges, Mixed Vicunas, Black Thibets, Brown and Grey Mixtures, Oxford Woolens, Scotch Cheviots, etc., made in swell Military styles or regulation Sacks, and sewed and finished with that care and excellence usually bestowed on finest clothes only.

The Overcoats Come in soft Vicunas, Black and Blue Kerseys, heavy 30-oz. Cheviots, Meltons, Grey Oxfords and Frieze Oxfords and those fashionable Rough Finished Woolens—while the style embraces about everything in Fashion—short cut, medium length and extra length, with or without silk lining.

From $15 To $30

We Show 16,500 Suits and Overcoats

Which are fully equal to the most expensive custom-made work.

The Suits in this line are made of extra fine imported Woolens, in all the fashionable designs, mixtures and colors, cut in single and double-breasted sacks, cutaways and Prince Albert frocks, and are as perfect in every way as fine clothing can be made.

The Overcoats at the above prices reach the top notch of clothing excellence. You can have the Lord Kitchener, the Fullmore or the Automobile styles, cut extra full length, with straight or crescent pockets, full or half silk lined, or the shorter Chesterfield and English Box styles.

Men's Genuine "Cravenette" Rain Coats, $13.50

This is the first time that such a low price has been quoted for these high-class garments. That is, for the original genuine Cravenette Coat, made by Priestly & Co., England. $20 is the price all over the world. They come in nobby Oxford and green materials, with silk top and sleeve lining—each coat bearing the "Cravenette" label and trade-marks, none genuine without it.
